American Intervention at Trau Prevented Bloodshed and Possibly War

ADMIRAL KNAPP MAKES REPORT

Says Americans Landed Near Fiume at Request of Italian Admiral

War Between Italy and Jugoslavia Near When Americans Acted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Intervention by the American naval forces at Trau, Dalmatia, prevented bloodshed "which would perhaps have resulted in a state of actual war between Italy and Jugoslavia," according to a report from Admiral Knapp, commanding American naval forces in European waters, transmitted to the senate today by Secretary Daniels.

American sailors were not landed, Admiral Knapp said, until American and Italian officers who had been sent to Trau had induced the Italian sailors to withdraw after they had surprised and captured the small Serbian gunboat. One Italian officer and three men were left behind and the American bluejackets were sent ashore to protect them and police the town until Serbian troops could arrive.

The Americans acted, Admiral Knapp continued, at the request of the Italian admiral in command on the Dalmatian coast and the force was withdrawn immediately after the Serbians arrived and took charge. Meaning the commander of the Italian sailors was ordered to trial by court martial by the Italian admiral.

The Italian admiral thanked the American commander for sending forces to Trau, Admiral Knapp said.

Discipline Is Low
Fiume, Tuesday, Sept. 30.—Discipline among Italian regular soldiers is low along the armistice line and their officers have little control over them in enforcing the discipline of Fiume. As a result of Annunzio's army is being constantly reinforced by deserters, whole companies and battalions marching into Fiume.

Carabinieri still maintain some discipline, but they are virtually the only force upon which the government can depend. Out of this force, however, 100 deserters have gone over to the d'Annunzio ranks.

CONSULTATION ON PRES. WILSON'S CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Despite a fairly good night's rest, President Wilson was not so well this morning and Rear Admiral Grayson has called in consultation Dr. F. X. Dercum, a neurologist of Philadelphia.

Dr. Dercum was expected at the White House today.

Admiral Grayson issued the following bulletin at 11 a. m.:

"The president had a fairly good night, but his condition is not at all good this morning."

"The president's condition is not considered alarming. It was explained at the White House and the decision to call in Dr. Dercum was made as a precautionary measure and to relieve the pressure on Dr. Grayson, who has been with the president almost continuously since he was taken ill a week ago while on a speaking tour."

Italian Warship With U. S. Officers Aboard Shot At

ROME, Oct. 2.—The Italian steamer Epiro with 200 Italian troops and some American officers on board, bound for Cattaro, is declared in a despatch from Bari to the Tempo to have been shot at by Jugo-Slav regular troops in the channel between Rondoni island and the Arsa promontory. One Italian was wounded. The Epiro, the despatch adds, made off at full speed and escaped further attack.

NO DUNGEON FOR DUNN CHARGE AN UNUSUAL ONE

Nonchalantly opening the door of his cell in the police station, where he had been supposedly locked in by Keeper Barry yesterday afternoon following his arraignment in police court charged with stealing a Rooke register from a street car in Billerica, John A. Dunn, 19, of So. Boston, walked, still nonchalantly, through the deserted guard room and out of the building—then he disappeared. The police are still searching for him. Dunn and Martin McCourtney, another So. Boston youth, pleaded guilty before Judge Knight yesterday to stealing a Rooke register from a Boston bound street car in Billerica, Sept. 25, and were each held in $300 for disposition next Wednesday.

Following the trial both youths were taken down stairs and locked in cells preparatory to removing them to the Lowell jail, both boys having been unable to secure the necessary bail.

McCourtney, who refused in court to tell the names of his parents, was afterwards taken from his cell for further cross-examination, and after being returned to the keeper, Dunn was taken out and questioned. He was returned to Keeper Barry after the examination, and Barry took the youth back to the cell, turning the lock, which for some unknown reason failed to catch.

When Keeper Barry made his rounds through the cells shortly afterwards he found McCourtney safely inside, but Dunn was missing. The only explanation he could offer was that the lock must have failed to catch and that Dunn had waited for an opportunity to escape when he was in another part of the station.

The police of all surrounding towns have been notified of Dunn's escape, and it is the belief of the local police that he will soon be apprehended.

GREAT WELCOME FOR KING ALBERT

Belgian Royal Party Accorded Noisy Greeting at New York

Here to Thank America for Aid Extended Their Tired Country

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium landed in Hoboken at seven minutes after 12 today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Albert, king of the Belgians, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold, who come to America to personally express their gratitude for the aid extended by a generous nation to their war-torn country, received a noisy welcome to New York, when aroused at dawn by the firing of salutes as the transport George Washington steamed past the outer harbor fortifications. It was a truly American welcome, such as has greeted returning heroes from France since the the defendants will receive the maximum penalty of $50.

He also warned the girl that her conduct in allowing the youths to persuade her to accompany them had not been above approach, and ordered her to go home and be a better girl in future.

The law which the defendants were found guilty of violating, and which was enacted by the Massachusetts legislature in 1915, reads as follows:

"Whoever induces or attempts to induce a child to absent himself unlawfully from school, or employs or harbors a child while school is in session, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars."

Loy's Bail Reduced

Charged with assault with intent to murder upon Goon Juen, the waiter at the Canton restaurant who was stabbed during an altercation in the restaurant kitchen on the evening of Sept. 17, Wong Loy was called on continuance before Judge Knight and his bail, which had been set previously at $25,000, reduced to $10,000. Juen is still on the dangerous list at St. John's hospital but it is now thought he may recover. Trial was set for Oct. 11.

"Come Easy, Go Easy"

"We just went through it, that's all," was the explanation given by John Reardon of Brighton and William Carl of Haverhill, N. S., when they were called on drunkenness charges and asked what had become of the $165 which they had in their possession when released by the probation officer yesterday morning, after being brought in on drunkenness charges. "I see, it was this way, Judge," explained John, who appeared the more voluble of the two. "I had $100 and Bill there had $65, that we had saved after working in the woods all summer. We met some friends and—well, we just went through it, that's all."

John and William declared that they could find ways and means to get back to "the woods" if given a chance, and with this understanding a suspended sentence to the house of correction was imposed and the pair adjured to lose no time in getting started.

Based on File

The cases of William McGlinchey and Thomas P. Brennan, who were present on charges of assault and battery and threatening in connection with a recent fracas in a Gorman store, were placed on file after civil satisfaction had been made. John Jr. and Francis Roane, twin brothers, were the complainants.

Reds and Sox Clash in Second Game of World Series at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Fair weather was again forecast today for the World Series.

Statements from Manager Moran, of the Reds, and Manager Gleason, of the White Sox indicated that the winning of the first game had made the home team more confident, while it had the effect of making the losers even more determined to regain the ground lost. Accordingly, Gleason said that he would pitch Claude Williams, his star left hander. Moran announced that "Slim" Sallee would be on the mound.

The winning of yesterday's game had one noticeable effect on the Cincinnati fans. The railroad offices were crowded all of last night by local baseball enthusiasts eager to get accommodations to Chicago to witness the games to be played there Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Betting Shifts to Even Money

That yesterday's game upset predictions was indicated by the fluctuation of the betting odds, even money, on the Reds finding few takers and here and there odds being demanded by those who still believe the Sox will ultimately prove the victor.

The White Sox players promised Manager Gleason faithfully that they would see that the tables were turned at today's game. There is no gainsaying the fact that the Reds outplayed the visitors in every department of the game yesterday, but those who have watched Comiskey's aggregation in their peasant fight maintained that the team would show their true form now.

To Break Pinpoint Records

The series is expected to break all records relative to the amount of money taken in at the gates. The first day's receipts were more than $21,000 in excess of the high record of the first day's receipts when the Philadelphia Athletics played at New York in 1911. At that time $77,359 was taken in at the gate, while yesterday $93,175 was the gross returns and this did not include the war tax.

Wait 11 Hours For Tickets

Every available seat and every available space was sold yesterday. A crowd of equal proportions was expected today.

The usual midnight attendance at the bleacher gate, prepared to wait 11 hours in order to get the best seats that the bleachers and pavilion afforded, was in evidence again. Toward morning the crowd became even larger than that of yesterday.

The local forecaster's prediction for today was cloudy and warm.

Clarence Rowland is convinced that Gleason will come back and beat the Reds before the series ends.

Newspapermen will leave for Chicago tonight on a special train at 11:30 p. m., accommodations having been made for 400 writers.

Cincinnati Fans Celebrate

Cincinnati fans celebrated the first victory of the Reds in a riotous manner. Impromptu parades were staged in downtown streets and hotel lobbies. A little German band furnished the music for one parade, while Scotch bagpipers headed another procession. The celebrations continued until long after midnight.

Fred Mitchell said he never saw another pitcher a better game of ball.

Eddie Cicotte today expressed confidence in his ability to come back. He declared that he was completely unhurt when he hit Rath, the first man

Cicotte's Aim

"It is hard to explain," he said, "but I was in no condition to pitch the game that I had expected. I felt perfectly confident before the game started and appeared to have everything when I was warming up, but when I hit Rath, it seemed to have a strange effect on me. I felt so badly about it that I trotted with him along the first base line to see if the ball had hurt him. When he assured me that he was all right, I went back to the pitching mound but I did not seem to be right."

Supporters of the Sox believe that Gleason will send Cicotte in to oppose the Reds Friday or Saturday.

J. Collins III

Collins, White Sox right fielder, may be out of the game during the remainder of the series. He became ill after the game yesterday and doctors today reported he was suffering from an attack of grippe. Larry Kopf, Cincinnati shortstop, also reported ill after yesterday's game, but was on deck for today's game, evidently in first class shape.

The Probable Lineup

Cincinnati
Liebold, rf 2b, Rath

U. S. MAY HALT AIDING ALLIES

Threat of Withdrawal of Financial or Other Assistance to Allies

Strong Pressure to End Disputes and Uphold Supreme Council's Decisions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Plans are being considered, it became known here today, to apply strong American pressure to bring about termination of the dispute over the Adriatic question as well as in other cases where trouble has arisen jeopardizing the authority of the supreme council and threatening to set at naught its decisions founded upon powers conferred by the armistice and the peace treaty.

Unless the Adriatic question is settled satisfactorily within a few days and unless the council's decisions are carried out, the American government may consider the advisability of withdrawing for the present at least any further financial or other material assistance to the other powers.

To allow Italy's claim to Fiume solely on the basis of its forcible occupation in the opinion of members of the supreme council in Paris, would involve recognition by the entente of Rumania's claims in Hungary, Greece's claim to large portions of Turkey and even possibly Germany's claim to rich portions of western Russia. It is felt that admission by the council of the right of any nation to seize territory regardless of pledges to refrain from aggression, would be regarded as tantamount to an abandonment of the basic principles upon which the peace conference was assembled and as threatening a permanent peace.

Recent advances from Europe are regarded as indicating that some of the entente governments themselves or their representatives have not fully sustained the council in decisions in which they participated.

Charge of Employing Foreigners to Prevent Unionizing Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Charged of union labor leaders that the United States Steel corporation employed many foreigners in order to prevent the unionizing of its men were denied today by Robert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation's board, when he resumed his testimony before the senate committee investigating the steel strike.

"Was the question of employing foreigners who possibly had feelings against this country decided by the board?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"No," said the witness. "The question was never raised."

"But you think foreigners are responsible largely for precipitating this strike?"

"Yes, but if we had known there was a substantial number of the kind of foreigners who are resorting to violence and who I believe are under the leadership of outsiders, we wouldn't have employed them."

"If you have no unionism," Senator Kenyon asked, "who is going to speak for the men? How can individuals without unions present their views?"

Judge Gary replied that, as has been frequently done, individuals or committees of workmen could present grievances to foremen, superintendents, managers or even higher officials.

LIFT-BAN ON TOURISTS VISITING EUROPE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The ban on tourists visiting Europe—with the exception of the British Isles—which has been in force since 1916, was officially removed yesterday by the United States, and now the only thing needed to view the battlefields of France is the price.

As a result of the lifting of the ban, passport clerks in the office of Clerk Allen of the federal district court put in a busy day filling out the applications of prospective voyagers. No one on pleasure bent can yet visit Great Britain. The reason for this is not known here, but it is believed that the present labor troubles there have a good deal to do with the attitude of British officials.

According to instructions received from Secretary of State Lansing, tourists' applications for passports may be accepted from those wishing to go to France, Belgium, Italy, Portugal and parts of Africa. The present unsettled conditions in the Balkans prevents tourists from going there, and they are also unable to go to Switzerland. It is assumed here that the food question is the determining factor in keeping travelers from the present out of the mountain republic.

Secretary Lansing warns tourists to be sure and secure from steamship companies before leaving the United States assurances that they will be able to obtain accommodations for the homeward journey and prevent the possibility of becoming stranded in Europe later. It is understood that large parties in charge of tourist agencies are planning to sail on sight-seeing tours with a few weeks.

SENATE STRIKE INVESTIGATORS

METROPOLITAN EXPRESS TRAIN IN WRECK

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The Metropolitan Express on the Pennsylvania railroad, which left Chicago yesterday morning for New York, was partially wrecked 19 miles west of Philadelphia today.

A west-bound freight train was re-railled on a sharp curve and the wreckage of 20 cars piled high. In less than two minutes the express crashed into it. It was falling and there was a fog. The engineer saw the wreck too late. After applying the brakes, he and his fireman jumped. Both were hurt.

WANT A FAIRER HALF HOLIDAY

Today, Thursday, is the half-holiday for clerks and it is rainy. Most Thursdays are. Although the clerks' association has not come around to consider the question in open meeting, nevertheless there is considerable grumbling and it is understood that a plan is on foot whereby the half-holiday will be changed to fall on some other afternoon which stands more in favor with the gods of the elements.

There have been exceptions to the mundane continuance of clouds and rain, but such days are a rarity and while they are remembered vividly on this account, nevertheless are somewhat forgotten when the clerks contemplate on the dreary stretch of floods.

Store proprietors complain, too, for they say that the spirits of the clerks are at such a low ebb during Thursday forenoons when the sky is overcast and rain drops fall, that they do not maintain that sprightly appearance so much to be desired by the younger set.

The tough luck, a real flinx, black and persistent, and the clerks are about ready to rise up in righteous wrath and throw him off the trail by changing the day. That ought to fool him.

PANAMA TOLLS ARE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Increase of approximately 15 per cent in revenues collected from the Panama canal is provided in a bill, changing the system of measurement of vessels passing through the canal, which was passed yesterday by the house and sent to the senate.

Opposition to the measure came largely from the Pacific coast members, who complained that changes on deck cargoes, resulting from the change of measurement rules, would work hardship on west coast shippers, particularly lumber interests.

The bill, which was passed by a vote of 261 to 14, directs that the Panama canal rules of measurement, based on actual earning capacity of a vessel, will govern the levy of tolls instead of net tonnage. Existing toll rates are unchanged by the bill, but the canal measurement rules will increase the basis on which these charges are computed.

Similar legislation has been before congress the last four years without enactment, although recommended for passage by both senate and house committees.

WILL HOLD PUBLIC HEARING

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has received notification from Andrew A. Highlands, secretary of the public service commission, that the commission will hold a public hearing Monday, Oct. 6, at 10:30 a. m. at room 166, state house, Boston, on proposed changes of the United States railroad administration in the passenger fare rates in Boston and cities and towns beyond Boston.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lamson street, a contented family of three children and the mother live, daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. F. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggist, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I am a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this looking after my house and the care of my three children were me out.

I guess my nerves got out of kilter first. I worried a lot, and seemed to get tired easy. I lost my appetite. I was overtaken with dizzy spells, my eyes got blurred, and I soon found I had to stay home from work. I didn't do any housework, but the rest didn't do any good.

I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before your Dr. True's Elixir was brought into me by a neighbor.

After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I am working every day now getting stronger and picking up my appetite. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

Two children sometimes eat things, which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and find no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest

N. Y. SHIPYARD WORKERS ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Many of the shipyard workers who went on strike yesterday remained away from the yards today although the strike order was rescinded to await the outcome of a conference in Washington of officers of the shipping board and the heads of the international unions involved. The chief demands of the unions are for a 44-hour week and increased wages.

The situation along the waterfront was more serious, several thousand longshoremen, principally in Brooklyn, going on strike, although their demands for higher wages were being heard by the national adjustment commission.

The latest recruits to be forwarded are Charles O'Donnell of 112 South Highland street, who was accepted this morning for one year's overseas service in the infantry and Patrick J. Doyle of 350 Tappan street who was signed up for three years' service with the field artillery. Both are world war veterans, O'Donnell having served with Co. EATON JURY DISAGREES

NASHUA, Oct. 2.—The jury in the Perry A. Eaton will contest after being out 17 hours, was discharged in superior court yesterday afternoon, being unable to agree. It is stated on the main point it was 7 to 5 in favor of the will. The suit was brought by Mr. Eaton's only son, Perry A. Eaton, Jr., and had been on trial since Wednesday. By the terms of the will $35,000 of the estate of $95,000 was bequeathed to his housekeeper.

It is likely, by the statements of counsel, that the case will be retried at another term.

cessation of hostilities, and not even deference to royalty was observed to still silence or whistling.

The George Washington, formerly the North German Lloyd liner of that name, arrived off the Fire Island Lightship at 5 o'clock yesterday. She anchored at sunset three miles east of the Ambrose channel Lightship. A flotilla of 12 destroyers under command of Rear Admiral Horace Plunkett escorted the George Washington up the Narrows and up the bay to Army pier No. 3 at Hoboken. Several other municipal boats and yachts proceeded to quarantine to greet the vessel, but did not form part of the official fleet.

As the ship came up the harbor, salutes of 21 guns were fired from Castle Williams, on Governor's Island, and from the coastal fortifications. In response, the George Washington broke out at her masthead the flag of the Belgian royal family and the national banner. American warships responded by dipping their colors.

King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold will be guests of the state department and the city. Cardinal O'Connell will act as host to the church prime, who will reach here Saturday morning.

It is expected that the king's party will arrive at 7:30 a. m. on Sunday and that they will remain 12 hours. Mayor Peters, as official host, and Mrs. Peters, Governor and Mrs. Coolidge, Larz Anderson, formerly minister to Belgium, and Mrs. Anderson; Redington Fiske, the Belgian consul, and Mrs. Fiske will greet them at the railroad terminal.

The guests will be escorted from the station to their hotel by a troop of cavalry and a motorcycle corps. The latter body will remain in attendance throughout the day.

After the cathedral mass at 9:30, the Belgian rulers will meet selected representatives of the state and city, the army and navy and other organizations at lunch.

Later they will receive members of the Belgian relief committee. A brief visit will be made to Harvard college, where they will be welcomed by President A. Lawrence Lowell and other members of the faculty. Later they will take tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. At 7:30 p. m. they will return to their special train and leave for Buffalo.

King's Message to Americans

King Albert today issued the following message to the American people:

"At the moment of setting foot on American soil the king of the Belgians desires to express to the people of the United States the great pleasure with which the queen and himself are coming to its shores at the invitation of President Wilson. The king brings to this nation of friends the testimony of the powerful aid, moral and material, which America gave them in the course of the war. The name of the commission for the relief of Belgium will live eternally in the memory of the Belgians. The king rejoices at the prospect of visiting the cities whose hearts fought with the cities of Belgium and whose continual sacrifices knew no measure. He happily will be able to meet the eminent citizens who, animated by the highest thoughts, placed themselves at the head of organizations for relieving the sufferings of the war. The American people, their splendid army and their courageous navy, powerfully served a great ideal."

With the welcoming party at the pier were Secretary Lansing, Secretary Baker, General March and Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state. The royal visitors will be "incognito" during the first 24 hours of their stay here. Seclusion will be maintained at the Waldorf-Astoria, where they are assigned to the suite on the third floor that was reserved for General Pershing while he was the guest of the city.

Official Greeting Tomorrow
The official greeting of the city will take place tomorrow morning when the royal party will be taken in automobiles to one of the North river piers whence they will proceed by boat to the Battery. Later there will be exercises at city hall.

Tomorrow afternoon the royal party will see 50,000 school children in Central park and in the evening they will attend a performance at the Hippodrome.

Saturday's program includes visits to the Woolworth building, the stock exchange and the produce exchange by the king, and luncheon at the Bank.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL MEETING

One of the biggest events of the year in commercial circles in this state and, for that matter, in the calendar of the local board of trade, is the annual meeting of the Massachusetts chamber of commerce, the parent organization of the various commercial bodies of the commonwealth. This year the annual meeting will be held at the Hotel Vendome, Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street, on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Ten accredited delegates from the Lowell board of trade as well as a number of other members will attend the meeting. An excellent program has been arranged for the session which will last all day and the address of welcome will be delivered by His Excellency, Governor Calvin Coolidge.

The Lowell delegates will be John M. O'Donoghue, president, and John J. O'Rourke, secretary of the local board. Harvey B. Greene, George M. Harrigan, James C. Reilly, Robert F. Madden, Arthur T. Safford, Alonzo G. Walsh, Jesse H. Shepard and Henry A. Smith.

The session will open at 10:45 a. m. with a meeting of the board of directors and at 12:30 a reception and luncheon will be held. The business session proper will open at 1:30 and the speakers will include Governor Coolidge, John J. Martin, president of the Exchange Trust Co. of Boston, Leslie R. Smith, master of the state grange of Massachusetts, and R. Sanford Riley, president of the Worcester chamber of commerce.

SHOT FIRED AND EGGS THROWN

Lights Put Out and Shower of Eggs Hurlled at Those on Stage

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 2.—Whether an official investigation would be made of a demonstration here last night during which eggs were thrown at United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, when he attempted to deliver an address in opposition to the peace treaty and the League of Nations, was the subject of considerable discussion today.

Although several officials declared that an investigation should be made and those guilty of participation punished, they pointed out that as the egg throwing took place after the light wires had been cut and the building was in darkness, it would be virtually impossible to identify the persons who took part.

Senator Reed left Ardmore late last night for the west without commenting on the demonstration.

The demonstration followed a mass meeting Tuesday at which resolutions were adopted censuring the senator for his opposition to the League of Nations covenants and urging that he cancel his speaking engagements.

Mayer Freeman was in the midst of an explanation that he was introducing the speaker because he was mayor of the city and not because he supported the views of those opposed to the league covenant, when the lights went out and valleys of eggs hurtled through the air toward the stage.

When the lights were restored it was found that virtually none of those on the stage, including the senator, the mayor and members of the reception committee had escaped the effects of the eggs.

Later officials attempted to continue the program, but the crowd refused to listen. Efforts by Senator Reed to deliver his address were met by jeers, hisses, catcalls, and cheers for President Wilson.

Finally the meeting was abandoned and Senator Reed was driven to his hotel.

One shot was fired in the course of the trouble.

As many as 40,000,000 germs have been found in one cubic centimeter (about .06 of a cubic inch) of milk.

TWO JAILED IN MURDER CASE

N.E.A. Special to The Sun.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 2.—Psychic sleuthing has placed a man and a woman behind the bars, charged with murder.

Robin J. Cooper, wealthy clubman and politician, was found slain on the outskirts of this city last June. His body was pierced by a bullet.

After local detectives had about given up their search for clues and the Cooper slaying was being regarded as a crime problem never to be solved, Gabriel Hansen, psychic student of crime, came to this city and declared that he knew all the particulars of Cooper's fate.

He obtained a hearing from the police after he had confronted them with tangible evidence to support his spiritualistic visions.

Dennis E. Metcalf, gardener, and Nora Lee Jones, a colored cook, employed in the Cooper home, are under arrest on evidence brought forward by Hansen.

Metcalf is charged with the actual killing and the negroess is held as an accessory before the fact.

Hansen, whose home is in Memphis, came to Nashville hearing letters of recommendation from high officials who related some of his feats in psychic crime-solving. He announced that he was determined to bring Cooper's slayer to justice and that he knew all about the crime.

home he gave a minute description of the premises, including the garage in which he says the crime was committed.

"Cooper was seated in his automobile when he was killed," says Hansen. "The person who killed him sat in the tonneau, and dragged the body back, then drove away, with the dead man huddled on the floor of the car."

"The body was laid on the river bank and was carried away by a freshet the next day."

Mrs. Anna W. Littleton, a spiritualist, upholds Hansen. She was informed in a vision, she asserts that Hansen could solve the mystery of Cooper's death.

To support Hansen's theory, the following evidence will be presented to the grand jury:

Shortly after the crime, Metcalf rented a room. In this room has been found a pair of overalls marked by blood stains, also a pillow slip marked with the letter "C," a pistol and letters from Metcalf's wife in Chicago warning him to "be careful—our letters are being opened."

Said he Couldn't Drive

Metcalf, when first questioned, said that he could not drive an automobile. It has since been learned that he attended a school for chauffeurs.

Both Metcalf and the colored cook stoutly protested their innocence.

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute Relief From All Pain and Suffering. Has Never Failed. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy. The discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally, passes unharmed through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where, by its soothing, healing, antiseptic action it not allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments. Really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says: "I gladly recommend Miro Remedy for Piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 18 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored for years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, in receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50, War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c, War Tax 2c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elvira, Ohio.

GIRLS BUYING POISON

Women Killing Themselves Rather Than Fall Into Hands of Bolsheviks

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1. (By the Associated Press.)—Chemist shops at Archangel, are openly selling poison to many young women who are buying it with the expressed intention of killing themselves rather than fall into the hands of the Bolsheviks, according to an American officer who has just arrived from northern Russia.

While several shipments of Bolsheviks have been deported from Archangel by entente powers the majority of the anti-Bolshevik population refuse to leave, saying it is impossible to go penniless into a strange country. These people must take their chances in Archangel under Bolshevik domination, which appears inevitable as soon as British forces leave.

BOLSHEVIKI DOCTRINES ROUNDLY DENOUNCED

Declaring that even as oil and water, Bolshevism and Americanism cannot mix, for the one lives only through the destruction of the other, Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, punched holes in every heard of soviet doctrine while speaking at the First Baptist church last evening. Members of the Round Table and of the Baraca class heard his virile address.

He compared the platform of the Bolsheviks with the declaration of rights of the state of Massachusetts and found the former wanting in every respect. He spoke primarily with the object of offering some means of solving the problem of unrest which is evident throughout the country today in the relations of capital and labor.

He said that it is his belief the most important thing in the fight against disorder is the attitude of the people. He branded as fallacious the idea that labor disturbances are necessary and said that most of the problems now vexing communities might be solved if thinking groups and organizations of men correct their wrong views. He declared that many more good men and women—good Americans

DEMobilization of WELFARE ORGANIZATIONS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2.—The national demobilization of the several civilian organizations that were engaged in welfare work with the army during the war, is announced in a letter from Secretary of War Baker to Col. Harry Cutler of this city, national chairman of the Jewish welfare board. Recently at a conference with Secretary Baker, Col. Cutler suggested the demobilization of these organizations and the taking over of the work by the regular army at as early a date as possible, and the announcement is now made that this is to be done at once.

In his communication Secretary Baker says: "In order that the example set by the various civilian agencies are becoming imbued with the teachings of Bolshevism than most persons realize and he favored the deportation of foreigners who foment trouble.

Touching on the present attitude of labor and the sweep of strikes which has engulfed the country, Mr. Mulready cited the attitude of an employer he talked with. This man advocated standing his workers up before a firing squad. The speaker then pointed out that such a course would kill the laborers, but an idea has never yet been shot dead.

CONG. TINKHAM ASKS SUGAR PROBE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—The house yesterday passed a resolution introduced by Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Boston directing the federal trade commission to make an investigation of sugar supplies and prices.

A similar measure introduced by Senator New of Indiana has been adopted by the senate. The Tinkham resolution directs the trade commission to investigate both wholesale and retail prices and pass upon the reasonableness of said prices.

It further asks for a report on the quantities of sugar, both raw and refined, held by dealers in this country and to the island possessions of the United States and the causes of the present sugar shortage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

B. F. KETH'S THEATRE

Comedy that convulses is the leader at the B. F. Keth's theatre, this week, and James C. Morion, with three sprightly members of his family furnish a goodly side of it. Morion is forward a travesty, one of the kind that holds everything. Audiences shriek with delight at the funny things Morion does. Pietro, the king of piano accordionists, is another member of the hill who gathers much applause and Sully & Houghton have a decidedly pretty act. Other turns are: MacMillan & Shaw in a comedy, Willie Stamm, physical culturist; Boothby & Everdeen in a travesty and Roy & Arthur in a juggling oddity.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Marguerite Fields, the leading woman of the Lowell Players, struts about the stage in her bare feet this week in the farce comedy, "Fair and Warner." And besides John Meahan, the leading man, appears in his Alice blue pajamas and Victory hat robe. Despite their unusual stage attire, both are immensely entertaining, and treat the characters assigned to them in wonderfully good style. You'll like them and the rest of the cast. Capacity audiences at all performances thus far. Order your tickets well in advance.

Next week, America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be given. This play will offer John Meahan his biggest dramatic part to date. On Monday the management will make it "South End Day" and 50 per cent of the day's receipts are to be turned over to the South End fund. Messrs. Buckley and Schaefer want to help the celebration and this is their method. It's a corker, too, for the purpose of realizing a good amount is most encouraging. Special features in addition to the play itself, will be given on this day.

THE STRAND

One of the notable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy," Albert Capellani's musical comedy, starting June Caprice and Delightful Kate, which is to be shown for the first time locally at The Strand today, will be the appearance of a bevy of beauties recruited by Mr. Capellani from the various Broadway cabarets and musical comedy shows. The aggregation of girls represents four different well-known cabarets and the current Broadway musical comedy hits, including "Tumble In," "Good Morning Judge" and "Listen, Lester" and consists of 16 hand-picked beauties selected with discrimination that would do credit to Florenz Ziegfeld. The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture and although a lot of their voices, they display themselves in lively fashion and make good use of their training in the gentle art of jazz dancing. It looks as if our local patrons are to be vastly entertained during the three-days' run.

The story of "Broken Commandments," the new William Fox picture that is to be shown today, tomorrow and Saturday, presents the novel idea of a man throwing dice three times for the possession of a girl and finally throwing the loaded dice in order to lose, because he realizes this will be for her good. It is said to be a tremendously forceful story of three human hearts—a love and hate, the old triangle—that love and hate, and are soothed at last by the consecration of self-sacrifice. In the hands of Gladys Brookwell and a cast of good cast, including William Scott and Thomas Santachi, this play promises to be one of the strongest that has come to The Strand in many weeks. A new comedy and latest Weekly together with new song hits will also help make the program one of exceptional merit. See it.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" AT MERRILL-MACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tomorrow and Saturday will mark the end of the run of George Loane Tucker's superb photoplay "The Miracle Man," which has caused more sincere praise among the lovers of worth-while photoplays than any picture which has been shown in Lowell for many months. Business at the Merrimack Square has been phenomenal during the entire week, and "The Miracle Man" here has repeated its wonderful success in New York, Boston, Chicago and other cities.

For those who continually raise the cry that motion pictures are mediocre and untrue, to the all that can be said to "see The Miracle Man." It's wonderful human appeal is irresistible. Virginia Tracy, noted critic of the New York Tribune said: "At The Miracle Man the whole house sighed with us in satisfaction, deeply, almost pathetically content in having taken its money's worth through its heart. It is the only answer to those doleful souls who are forever asking for a 'really better picture'."

W. A. Johnson in the Motion Picture News said: "The unbeliever I refer to was swept off his feet by 'The Miracle Man' but the significant thing he kept repeating was this: 'Yes, it is an art.'"

All Alaskan cities have their own schools, and in addition there are 88 schools for natives, under the jurisdiction of the bureau of education of the interior department.

ALBANIAN DELEGATES ARE DISCOURAGED

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press).—Albanian delegates profess to be greatly discouraged since receiving information that President Wilson has agreed in principle to the proposition of giving Italy a mandate over their country, in connection with the settlement of the entire Dalmatian-Adriatic problem.

The delegates say that Italian control might "easily" lead to another Balkan war at any time, and constant friction would be inevitable. Red Cross officers who have just arrived in Paris from Albania, say natives of that country, are sniping at Italians and showing resentment at Italian control.

LADY BEATTY
WIFE OF VICE ADMIRAL SIR DAVID BEATTY PLAYS AND FOR ENGLISH WOMEN

LONDON, October.—Lady Beatty, wife of Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet of Great Britain, has just begun a campaign to raise a fund of $4,700,000 for the building of a maternity home for the wives of British sailors.

Lady Beatty is an American girl. Before her marriage to the admiral in 1901 she was Ethel Field, only daughter of America's merchant prince, Marshall Field, Sr., of Chicago.

Sir David and Lady Beatty have two sons and maintain a house at London and a country place at Brooksby Hall, Leicester.

During the war Lady Beatty interested herself in the welfare of the families of the men in the British fleet, an interest which has culminated in her campaign for the huge fund for a maternity home.

ENDORSE DOUBLE PLATOON

The double platoon system for the local fire department was endorsed last evening by the Beavers', Stationary Engineers' and Carpenters' unions at their regular meetings. It is understood that the project, which has been endorsed by the Trades & Labor council, will be brought to the attention of all local unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

For The Hair—

CREOLIN-PEARSON DISINFECTANT

In mild solution, gives a soft lustre and silkiness; also protection from scalp troubles and accidental infection. Combs and brushes should be regularly washed in such a solution. The slight odor disappears quickly.

For children's hair there is no better defense from vermin and scalp diseases, so easily contracted at school.

Ensure hair health with CREOLIN-PEARSON.

CREOLIN-PEARSON has a wide range of usefulness in your home, on the farm, in the stable and factory. It is both antiseptic and disinfectant. CREOLIN-PEARSON is much more powerful than carbolic acid, having a coefficient of 9 to 10, which is clearly marked on the label for your protection. CREOLIN-PEARSON is safe to handle as directed; it is neither caustic nor corrosive. CREOLIN-PEARSON always makes a milky solution with water. This and its slight odor are characteristic.

LOWELL TELEPHONE GIRLS HONORED

Five Lowell girls, three of them former operators and two still in the employ of the Telephone company, were among the 75 operators of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. who yesterday were officially honored by their company in Boston. The local young women were Miss Nellie Snow, who was one of four to receive a citation from General Pershing for gallant service rendered in France; Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Eugenie Racicot, both of whom were with the A.E.F. with Miss Snow, and Miss Olive Oatman and Miss Glingras, who trained for army service but lost the opportunity to go across when the armistice came.

In appreciation of their patriotic services, both abroad and at home, the company yesterday, after weeks of preparation, provided an all-day celebration for the girls. In the morning, they were received at the company's headquarters and in the afternoon were tendered a theatre party and a banquet at the Copley Plaza at night.

GRAND CARNIVAL PLANS COMPLETE

As the crowning feature of the week of publicly being conducted by the Community Service Club for girls, the plans are complete for the rollicking carnival of mirth to be held in the club rooms in the Runnels building tomorrow evening.

Everything is free. All girls over 17 years of age are cordially invited to attend. A happy smile is the admission pass. The main assembly hall will be transformed into a fantastic avenue of concessions and features. In addition to the booths in which one may run the gamut of things unnatural and unseen, special numbers, such as the Lowell Follies, the Prancing Pygmies and a penny arcade will have prominent positions on the program.

The week of publicity during the first four days has been productive of many new members and a splendid revival of interest. The fall and winter programs of activities have appealed to a great many girls and the special classes are nearly filled. In fact the demand for registration in millinery and dressmaking classes has been so great that two full classes in each already have been formed. The original plans called for one class in each branch of handiwork.

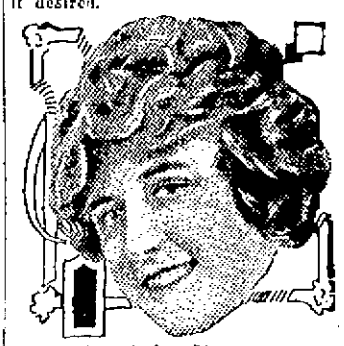

C. Y. M. L. CONCERT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Members of the C.Y.M.L. have practically completed their plans for the concert which they will present at the Lowell Opera House next Sunday evening at 8.15. Miss Lily Meagher, the soprano soloist, will give a program combining operatic and sacred selections with popular Irish folk songs that have been made so popular in the revival of Irish music in the last few years. Mr. Winston Wilkinson, violinist, will entertain with several selections, and Mr. Edwin Schneider will accompany at the piano. Mr. Schneider and Mr. Wilkinson are the accompanists of Mr. John McCormack this season.

The members of the club at a meeting this week reported a large advance sale of tickets, and indications point to one of the largest attendances that a concert ever drew in this city. The popularity of this organization has been attested by the spirit in which the people have responded to help them in this, their first entertainment since their war activities ceased. Tickets are now on sale at the Lowell Opera house, and the management reports that but a few reserved seats remain unclaimed.

FIND BODIES OF ARMY MEN BURIED ON BEACH

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 2.—The bodies of two men dressed in army uniforms and with insignia of the aviation corps in their pockets, found buried on the beach of the Bay of Los Angeles, Lower California, about 300 miles south of San Diego, are believed to be those of Louis Frederick B. Waterhouse and Cecil H. Connelly, according to a report made to military authorities today by Joe Allen Richards of Chicago, on his arrival from Guatemala, Mex.

Louis Waterhouse and Connelly disappeared six weeks ago while on border patrol duty between Yuma, Ariz., and San Diego. According to Richards, the bodies were found by himself and William Rose, Sept. 28.

In the pockets were insignia of the aviation corps and jewelry which Richards and Rose took as a means of identification. Richards said the Mexican authorities at Santa Rosalia took the jewelry from them.

SEND ULTIMATUM TO LAWRENCE MILL MEN

LAWRENCE, Oct. 2.—The disposition of a railroad track which runs along the south bank of the North canal here and over which freight is carried for some of the big mill corporations has been a question which has worried more than one city government during the past half a dozen years.

After expending a couple of million dollars in building the new "central bridge" over the Merrimack river and a bridge approach to it over each of the Essex company's two canals, one at the north and one at the south end, the city is faced with the proposition that unless this track is disposed of in some way freight cars will be continually shifting between the North canal approach and the entrance to the bridge proper.

A hearing was held in connection with the problem by the city government yesterday which resulted in that body's sending, by unanimous vote, an ultimatum to the corporations that unless they submit by next Wednesday a definite plan for the solving of the problem which will not mean the expenditure of any money by the city a deed end to their track will be established at the west side of the bridge, and they will be allowed to light it out in the courts.

The new bridge has not yet been opened to the public, although its construction was started six years ago, and during the intervening period it has been a bone of contention in many different phases. Construction work on the entire structure from Canal to Merrimack street is about completed, but there still must be settled the vexing problem of this particular track.

200 NAVAL STAFF OFFICERS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Resignations of nearly 200 naval staff officers will be accepted, Secretary Daniels announced today as soon as the bureau to which they are attached notify him the officers' services can be spared. The acceptances will apply only to those staff officers who are not graduates of the naval academy. No action will be taken for the present on the resignation of 33 line officers now on file.

Many of the resignations are due to a belief of the officers that their navy pay is insufficient to support their families properly.

The man on the running board of President Wilson's machine is "Joe" Murphy, known to his secret service associates as "the most responsible man in America." Behind the machine are Miles McCabill and Walter Ferguson, of the president's guard who seem to have sensed danger on their left flank. A false move in the crowd will bring seven of these "eagles" swooping into action, lest harm befall the chief executive of the nation.

ARGUS-EYED SLEUTHS PROTECT PRESIDENT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondence.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—"The most responsible man in America."

Joseph E. Murphy, a smallish, argus-eyed American of Irish parentage, holds the title. Together with six carefully-chosen associates, all members of the United States secret service, it is his business to guard the president from bodily harm, at the expense of his own life, and those of his companions, if that should be necessary.

Do you wonder that he is called "the most responsible man in America?"

Possibly you have an idea that the protection of the president from vicious or irresponsible persons is a sinecure? If so, stop to consider that three of our chief executives have been assassinated; that attempts have been made on the lives of at least two others (Johnson and Roosevelt); and that the plans of countless "cranks" and malcontents, aimed at the lives of our presidents, have been thwarted by members of the secret service.

A secret service man, to qualify for the job of helping to guard the president, must prove to the satisfaction of his superiors that he has thoroughly developed that unerring "sixth sense" by which it is possible to "feel" danger before it's evident to the eye or ear.

He must be able to think at lightning speed and act in the twinkling of an eye. He must be possessed of unquestioned courage and resourcefulness.

"Joe" Murphy's eyes, as well as those of his six assistants, scan the face, figure, costume and—chief of all—the general attitude of every person who gets play in the president. No one, be he governor of a state, mayor of a city, or ordinary citizen, escapes that searching scrutiny.

Many an innocent citizen, reaching for a handkerchief to wipe, has been borne to earth by these uncompromising "eagles of the secret service." Nor can they even stop to make apologies. Their business is to guard the chief executive of the nation.

Murphy and Miles McCabill are the deans of the president's guards, having watched successively over the persons of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. The others—"Ed" Starling, "Billie" Landvolght, "Jack" Fitzgerald, W. A. Ferguson and J. G. Slye—have seen less service with the presidents but are none the less dependable.

"It's a fascinating life," said one of them, during the recent Wilson visit to San Francisco,—"and we sure get hold of some queer cases—but the job is nerve-racking, especially in times of great political excitement, or a bitter campaign. We never know when some wild-eyed crook or darn fool is going to try something!"

And with these steel-spring chaps it's an everlasting disgrace to let a man even attempt to harm the president. Although the police of Buffalo, for instance, pre-empted the duty of guarding President McKinley the day he was shot, the secret service man who was nearest the martyred chief executive was never entirely forgiven by the service.

Take it altogether, it's not much fun being one of "the most responsible men in America."

It was Thomas Jefferson's wish that he be remembered as the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the statue of Virginia for religious freedom and as the father of the University of Virginia.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS

We have received the following expression of gratitude from the Lowell teachers' organization:

Editor Sun—

Dear Sir—
The president of the Teachers' Organization has requested us to tender you the sincere gratitude and appreciation of every Lowell teacher for your timely and valuable assistance through the splendid editorial published in The Sun of Saturday, September 20. It certainly was a magnificent editorial and made plain the position of the teachers of Lowell in reference to their claim for an increase of salary. Again with appreciation, I remain,
Gratefully yours,
KATHERINE KILLICK, Sec'y.

The Sun is glad to espouse and support the just claims of the teachers of Lowell to increased compensation. What we said in the editorial referred in Miss Kelley's communication was aimed chiefly at helping the teachers to secure the increase of salary demanded, as a matter of simple justice. But much more might have been said in reference to the detrimental effect upon our school system of a mean or miserly policy under which the rate of compensation is held below what is fair, below what is actually necessary to meet the high cost of living and below what is paid for like service in other cities even less important than Lowell.

Already about half a dozen of our best teachers have found positions elsewhere and have left the city, while others are understood to be considering offers at salaries much higher than are paid for like service in Lowell.

We have already named several cities of our class that are paying higher salaries to their teachers than are now in force in Lowell. Holyoke is not nearly as large a city as Lowell, yet she pays her teachers much better than does Lowell.

Perhaps some would like to see the figures. Here they are for elementary teachers:

Lowell Holyoke
Kindergarten Principals:
Minimum (not given)	$1150
Maximum	$1400
Kindergarten Assistants, 4th year:
Minimum	600
Maximum	750
Elementary, Grades 1-6:
Minimum	600
Maximum	1080
Elementary, Grades 7, 8, 9:
Minimum	600
Maximum	1080

In September, 1918, all teachers receiving $1000 and less in Holyoke were given an increase of $200; all from $1000 to $2000, an increase of $150; over $2000, an increase of $100. In September, 1919, the past month, all teachers received a flat increase of $300.

It may be stated that the maximum amounts mentioned in the Lowell list are reached only after seven years of service and that many teachers are struggling along after years of service but not yet in sight of the maximum.

The men teachers in the high school, with the exception of the superintendent, have to climb the seven-year stair in order to secure $1870 per annum, and there they must stop.

Is it any wonder that young men who spend money and valuable time in securing a college education, are unwilling to settle down at any such salary as this?

The special teachers, however, are even worse. Usually specialists are highly paid, but in the public schools of Lowell the special teacher of drawing receives from $1080 to $1150; of music, from $1150 to $1610; sewing, from $840 to $1140.

Enough has been said to explain why many of our best teachers are leaving Lowell with obvious injury to the schools.

Judging from the wide difference between the minimum and maximum salaries paid to Lowell teachers, the school board appreciates the value of experience; but, if so, it should not allow some of our most experienced teachers to go to other cities, merely because their services are not more highly rewarded. A reasonable increase would hold them. But apparently the school board does not intend to do anything, leaving "poor the back" to the principal council and the teachers their share.

The question arises as to how long this particular state of affairs is to continue. Is it to be checked now or to go on until another batch of our best teachers goes out to help fill the 35,000 vacancies reported at the opening of the schools a few weeks ago?

The city of Everett has just voted to give each of its teachers a bonus of $50 and to increase their salaries 25 per cent by January 1 of next year.

Would that be too much for the city of Lowell to do? The teachers do not ask quite so much; but their moderate demand should be granted without further delay in the interest of the schools, the progress of education and the benefit of the entire community.

Save the schools by paying the teachers as they deserve.

The action of the school board in refusing to grant the request of the teachers for another hearing is in line with the policy adopted by Police Commissioner Curtis of Boston when the police of that city sought an increase of pay and some changes in working conditions.

The Lowell teachers are not strikers; but if the school board persists in ignoring their appeal, they will be justified in resorting to more emphatic measures to compel the municipal authorities to give them the same consideration as has been freely accorded to the employees of other city departments.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

With the cost of labor and material so extremely high, the opening of the tuberculosis hospital will involve considerable expense. The building itself cost the city perhaps four times the amount originally intended, and although it is now ready for occupancy the surrounding grounds require to be laid out with due regard for the possibilities of beautification.

If the city had the funds with which to meet the expense, it might employ a landscape gardener to apply his art in framing a design which, if developed during the next few years, would eventually surround the buildings with attractive shade trees and beautiful lawns. Under present conditions, we presume that this is out of the question. The grounds will be graded roughly and the possibilities of development will be left to future contingencies.

The maintenance of this hospital will be rather expensive as provision must be made for the superintendent and his family, together with a corps of nurses all in the administration building. The salaries of course will reach a considerable amount. In addition the cost of maintaining any considerable number of patients will probably be so great as to astonish some people. At the present time the city pays about $11,000 yearly for patients who have a settlement here, and are treated in institutions in other parts of the state.

It is not likely that any large number of tuberculosis patients will be admitted to this hospital for the next year or two. The board of health must stand ready to use a part of the building for isolation purposes in case of another visitation of influenza. That, it appears, will be the most practicable method of meeting the legal requirement, that every city must have an isolation hospital. It is a mistake to suppose that the new hospital will be open for the general treatment of contagious diseases. That is not its purpose.

The men who prevented the purchase of the Pillsbury site forced the city to accept an alternative that has proved to be a white elephant in point of expense and that may be so also in point of utility.

It will be comforting news when the announcement comes that sugar is in sufficient quantities for all will be available this fall and come winter, as was promised Boston housewives by sugar refiners yesterday. There is one bit of advice offered by refiners and dealers whatever be the situation: Women must not buy more than they need or go from store to store purchasing as much as they can. Consideration of the needs of others must be general in the event of any commodity becoming scarce.

President Wilson put the question of deciding on war time production up to congress and congress, because their services are not more highly rewarded, passed it back to the president, who now passes it over to Secretary Baker. The country is in a fix. The president will not touch the liquor business, as the majority ones may have an opportunity to enjoy "a wee dram or two" before the doors are closed.

Some clerical gentlemen in Lowell have expressed the desire to be the boxing exhibitions which have been taking place in that city.

It is not understood that they charge either the managers or the pugilists with not being on the level, although hundreds of the men who paid their money to see the last fight are inclined to question the honesty of the main bout. Boxing, properly conducted, is a good sport, but when used to fleece the public, it should be stopped.

Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce is authority for the statement that organized labor is losing public confidence because of radical leadership. Even the best friends of labor would regret to see the radicals get a controlling influence over the unions. The result would inevitably be what Secretary Redfield states and there is no telling how far it might throw back the necessary work and success of the unions affected.

In the lynching at Montgomery, Ala., on Sept. 28, one of the two victims shot to death was a returned soldier who had rendered valiant service to his country. Unfortunately not even heroic service to his country will save a negro from the fury of a southern mob, once the charge is made that he assaulted a white woman, whether that charge be true or false. It is a very serious state of affairs and a burning disgrace to the entire nation.

Unless one's belongings can be packed into several suit cases and lugged away on foot, there is a flagrant fallacy in the old saying, "It is cheaper to move than to pay rent." Under present conditions it costs a family very nearly a month's rent to move to a new abode. New York moving vans rent for $10 an hour during daylight hours, but the cost jumps to $20 when business is particularly brisk.

Apparently, the more trouble arises in the Balkans or elsewhere to disturb the arrangements to be administered by the League of Nations, the better some of the senators at Washington like it. Anything which interferes with the territorial adjustments made by the peace congress pleases the senators who are lambasting the league and its authors, more particularly, President Wilson.

Just to be fashionable, we imagine, word is sent out from the neighboring city of Lawrence that 14 school children are out on strike as a protest against a school committee order which changed them from one building to another. Blame not the children but the parents.

What is the American delegation in Paris doing these days? Strange that we hear nothing from them either through the press or otherwise. They do not seem to get into the limelight as was the custom in the early stages of the conference.

These are the times that try men's souls.

June hasn't a corner on the rare day market. September butted in a few times and October may follow suit.

Production in the United States and England tied up on account of strikes and Germany working overtime. Isn't this food for thought?

Going home the other evening we came across a smallish lad struggling with a big box that he was taking home for firewood via the up-ending route. We offered to assist him and he smilingly refused. We said the box seemed very large and heavy and we asked him why he refused assistance. Sitting on the box with his little, thin legs crossed he looked squarely at us, and the twinkle in his big brown eyes was good to see. "Don't want any help," he said, "because I don't want to get home too soon." We evidently looked our curiosity and he seemed to enjoy it. "You see," he continued, "there's work to do at home that I don't like and if my brother gets home from work before I get home with the box he'll do it." Can you beat it?

Not in the Wholesale Trade.

Anxious Mother—Yes, Mr. Richfield, the fact is that I have three daughters whom I want to see settled in life. Is this friend of yours a marrying man?

Mr. Richfield—Not to any great extent. I'm afraid he wouldn't care about taking more than one of them—fairy stories.

The doctors were holding a consultation beside the bed of a soldier who was to have an operation.

"I believe," said one of the surgeons softly, "that we should wait and let him get a little stronger before cutting into him."

Before the other surgeon could reply the patient, who had overheard, turned to the nurse with a grin and remarked: "What do they take me for—a clown?"—Ontario Post.

Speaking of booze: A few years ago, when Colorado was as wet as the great Sahara is not, the city editor of a Denver daily was having no inconsiderable trouble in getting out a newspaper the day following each pay night.

GLAD TO GIVE HER TESTIMONIAL

MRS. OVIDE AUGER

I am most happy to be given the chance of testifying in favor of RED PILLS for pale and weak women, for they were of such help to me during the severe illness I have gone through, and which was all brought on through a chill. I was confined to my bed for three months, suffering from hemorrhages which naturally weakened me considerably. I was brought to the hospital, for my case appeared hopeless. I had often heard of RED PILLS, had read of them and of the numerous cures effected by their use, and so decided to give them a trial. I took them regularly and fifteen boxes were all that were needed to bring me back to health: The different symptoms which had alarmed me so much during my illness gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. Now I am feeling fine in every way, and able to attend to all my household duties, besides bringing up a numerous family.

MRS. OVIDE AUGER, 24 Miller's Lane, Woonsocket, R.I.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

My money now is Mex. Stage-money! Money made to vex. You wouldn't think, to look at it, it was so close to counterfeit, but when I try to cash it, it's Mex! Mex! Mex!

For now your dollar's taken in by any profiteer. At about the same percentage as the punch they put in beer! Its value's hardly visible, unless you put on specs. And so it's wise to realize your money's only Mex!

Mex! Mex! Your money's only Mex. Stage-money! Money made to vex. Although it's made to look the same, A dollar's nothing but a name, And when you try To cash it, it's Mex! Mex! Mex! —Edmund Vance Cooke.

WHY ABOUT TOWN

The old-time peppery interest in the World Series didn't make itself evident on the first day of the series this year from all indications available in and around Merrimack square. Nor was there as much advance discussion about the series as in previous years. One of the big factors which is thought to have contributed to this more or less comatose attitude on the part of the fans here in Lowell is the staging of the series out west, rather than nearer home. A Lowell fan can hardly be expected to have the same interest in Chicago or Cincinnati that he would in the Braves or Red Sox. The old telephones weren't kept on the jump yesterday as they have been during previous World Series games and at no time did the crowd in Merrimack square threaten to block traffic. But interest may revive up as the series progresses. Yesterday's game was a little too one-sided to produce any great excitement at this distance from the scene of action.

I have heard good and bad news relative to that little girl, who attends the New Moody street school in Pawtucketville, and who during the past year has been vaccinated no less than three times. Yes, I have heard that the vaccine this time is becoming effective and that before long the little tot will be wearing a scar on her left arm, a sure sign that she has complied with the regulations of the board of health and the school department. Our little friend, when vaccinated for the third time feared she would have to go to the doctor's another time and have her little arm scratched once more, but not so, for although she was believed to be immune, the last vaccine worked like magic and now there is a "terrible" pain in her arm, while this is being followed by frequent headaches. "I would rather go to the doctor's twice a week than stand this horrible pain," she said, "for it was great sport for me to be vaccinated. Every time I went to the doctor's office my father treated me with a banana split. I think I must go again to have the doctor give me something for the pain and pa will come, too."

SUPPLIES FOR LOWELL STATE GUARD MEN

Lowell's relief organizations have not become complacent since the signing of the armistice and the advance of local members of the state guard has found the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus and Y.M.C.A. at their old stand, doling out supplies and comforts for the men doing guard duty in the Hub.

The Red Cross has forwarded towels, soap, handkerchiefs and gloves for the three Lowell companies and one Western company which comes under the jurisdiction of the North Middlesex county chapter. First Sgt. W. N. Goodell of Co. G has been appointed buyer for the Red Cross.

The Knights of Columbus have made arrangements to send 50 cots to Boston and the Y.M.C.A. had forwarded a like number. Heretofore the men have had to sleep on straw or other makeshift contrivances.

CONCERT AND LECTURE

Lowell Moose Hear Eloquent Speakers Discuss Progress of Their Organization

A most enjoyable complimentary concert and lecture was held by Lowell lodge, 615, Loyal Order of Moose, at the Colonial theatre on Middlesex street last evening, and a large and enthusiastic audience heard various speakers discuss the progress of their organization, including Hon. Frank J. Monahan, supreme councilman of the Order of Moose at San Francisco, Cal.; Hon. Charles A. A. McGee of California, past supreme dictator; James J. Davis, director general of the order; Dictator David A. Hartnett of the Lowell organization, and Brother Jas. F. Miskella of the local lodge, who acted as chairman of the evening's program. The musical program consisted of selections given by various local entertainers, and proved most acceptable.

Dictator David A. Hartnett made the opening address of welcome to the members and sketched briefly the activities of the local lodge. Brother Miskella was the next speaker, and made a brief address on the topic, "Fraternity."

The principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Frank J. Monahan, was then introduced and devoted considerable of his address to a description of the Mooseheart Institution in Illinois. Homes have been erected for aged and widowed members and their children, he said, vocational schools established, and at the present time fully 700 children are cared for there. He also complimented the members on the businesslike appearance of the city and urged them to continue their efficient work in making the local lodge one to feel proud of.

Following the speechmaking several local entertainers offered musical selections, including William Mahoney, Frank P. McCarroll, Daniel F. McCaffery and Com. James E. Donnelly. The O'Reilly Jazz band also went over the top with some pleasing numbers.

The following committee was in charge of the arrangements for the evening: Dictator David A. Hartnett, Vice Dictator Ernest F. Parsons, Prelate Charles McQuarrie, Treasurer John M. Hagan, Secretary Thomas M. Keegan, Junior Past Dictator Edward Goodson, Trustees John B. Curtin, Charles W. Richard and P. R. Monahan, Sergeant-at-Arms Charles Mc-

BIG DEMAND FOR GOVERNMENT FOOD

In just half of the allotted time the 300,000 pounds of government canned foodstuffs, comprising the third carload to come to Lowell, were gobbled up by local householders last evening. The sale was held at the Red Cross rooms in Market street and was advertised from 5 to 5 o'clock, but so heavy was the demand at the outset that everything practically was sold out at 7 o'clock. Approximately 450 individual sales cleaned out the lot.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was on hand when the sale began and remained on the job for an hour or more. For the Red Cross, Miss Julia A. Fevey, Mrs. George H. Leakey and M. R. Scott were in charge and they supervised a splendid system of quick sales. The prevailing prices were moderate and somewhat cheaper than in other cities. Tomatoes were 10 cents a can, corn and stringless beans, the same and small sized cans of corned beef, 30 cents.

Long before the hour of 5 a large crowd had gathered outside the Red Cross headquarters and the initial rush was a bit disconcerting, but was soon regulated by the saleswomen. All sorts of vehicles and containers were used to cart away the stuff bought, but nobody seemed to care as long as they were able to get a few cans of their favorite brand.

SALE OF RED CROSS STAMPS

When the United States asked the young men of the country to rally to the national standards during the war, the draft was found to be one of the best medical detectives that could be imagined. Through it the standard of health among the young men of the country was quickly and surely ascertained.

Altogether, out of the nearly 3,000,000 men who were picked by the draft, 65,000 were found to be tuberculous. These men, enough to make up more than two divisions of soldiers, had to be rejected. They were unfit to take up arms for their country and, in fact, were a danger to their comrades.

Tuberculosis is one of the gravest problems America has to solve today. Its death toll is enormous. Its sick toll is even greater. Every year at least 150,000 die of tuberculosis in the United States. For every death there are eight open tuberculosis cases reported. That means over 1,200,000 persons have the disease.

Tuberculosis can be prevented and it can be cured. That is the burden of the great educational campaign now being waged by the National Tuberculosis Association and the 1000 state and local organizations affiliated with it. The rapid growth of tuberculosis in the country, especially with the reaction from the war at hand, means that more extensive educational work is required. It must be forthcoming and such a campaign has been planned.

To obtain funds to teach everyone that tuberculosis can be prevented more than $2,000,000 Red Cross seals are to be sold just before Christmas.

SERVED CLAM SUPPER

A regular meeting of the members of Centralville lodge, 215, L.O.O.F., was held last evening, the meeting being in the form of a "business" affair. The initiatory degree was conferred on one candidate and plans for degree work for the coming season were discussed. At the close of the business session a steamed clam supper was served and interesting remarks were made by District Deputy Grand Master George W. Hall of Lawrence, former Deputy William H. Robinson, Past Grand Hellett and Falcke of Lawrence and Mayor Thompson of this city.

MAY RAISE PRICE OF MILK HERE

Rumor has it that the price of milk in this city will soon be increased from 16 to 16½ cents a quart in order to conform with the Boston prices. The Boston dealers have announced a raise of a half cent a quart in the price of milk beginning yesterday and, inasmuch as the local producers last month decided to keep up with the Hub prices, it is believed that the consumers will soon be asked to pay 16½ cents a quart instead of 16 cents, the prevailing price. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the New England Producers' association, but no definite action was taken at that time.

In Africa the Mad women make beer of millet-seed and it is served free of charge in one particular hut.

PROTEST COMFORT STATION LOCATION

Residents of Summer street protested to the park commission against the proposed location of a comfort station on the Summer street side of the South common at the regular meeting of the commission held last evening at city hall. The protest was heeded and an effort will be made to place the station near the Thorndike street side of the common. The only other business taken up was a report from the superintendent showing where this year's appropriation for trees has been or is to be spent and the granting of a number of petitions for the trimming or removal of trees.

Dodge a cold

Some folks are fortunate enough always to breathe pure air, and never get run down by overwork or exposure. Even these lucky people do not always escape the contagious colds which prevail at certain seasons to such an extent as to be almost epidemic. It is wise to be prepared for troubles of this nature in our climate, and the one all-important thing is to have at hand a safe, efficient and reliable remedy to ward off the trouble and danger of such an attack. For sixty years "L. F." Atwood's Medicine has been a household standby for emergencies of this kind. It starts up the liver and bowels, prevents congestion, and restores the functions to their normal condition. If you have never used it, get a 50 cent bottle from your dealer, or write for a free sample to the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

THREE-HEAT RECORD FOR DIRECT C. BURNETT

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2.—A pacing race in which the three-heat record for the season was established was the feature of the program at the trotting track here today. Direct C. Burnett, the leading pacifier money winner of the season, defeated the field in the $2000 Cumberland event for 200 yards in the first two heats, but lost the final to an outsider. All three heats were faster than 2:02. Aside from this bit of fireworks the racing was tame.

A world's record was equalled before the start of the regular program when Peter Manning was given a record of 2:06½, tying the world's mark for three-year-old trotting geldings, made here last season by Easton.

Direct C. Burnett was a $200 to $25 choice over the field for the pacing stake. In the first heat Frank Dewey was sent off on a look and Hal Mahone was the contender against Murphy's mount, forcing him to win in 2:01½, a new record for the big gelding. Dewey took up the task in the second, but Burnett beat him rather handsomely in the same time. In the third heat Hal Mahone came on again and in a sensational finish managed to nose out Murphy's mount in 2:01½, a new record for the western gelding.

LEONARD FLATTENS CHARLIE METRIE

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 2.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, scored a virtual knockout over Charlie Metrie of Milwaukee in the seventh round of what was scheduled to be a 15-round fight last night. Newspapermen gave every round to Leonard. In the seventh, his opponent took a count of nine and a moment later was slumped again. The referee had counted two when the officials stopped the bout.

THE CALL-EM

Ruthless Mr. Rueher, rejected and scorned by big league magnates who would not even bother with him at the wolver price, shunted back and forth in the minors and at last finding his proper station under the magic wand of Moran, today rules Cincinnati like an overlord. The 30-year-old kid by a wonderful exhibition of patience and stick-to-itiveness has found his starchy way to the highest pinnacle of fame. Leading National league pitcher, he was Moran's maiden choice; picked in preference to the older Salter, he was weighed in the balance of world series scales and found to contain full measure of ability, confidence and heart.

He's a Hard Man to Dope
As Bill remarked, bright and early this morning, Mr. Psychology played a great game at Italian field yesterday. He sure did. The Reds had momentum and went into the series under a full house of steam. They are a new team and the enthusiasm and joy of playing has not been painted out by the dross of commercialism. Moran had his gang running on high all year, with "today's game" as the goal and no worries for the future. Cal Cincinnati a freak team if you will, compare them to the measure of 1911 and then give them their due.

The Old Alibi
Poor Eddie Cicotte. With bent head he left the field in the face of a full house and did not even get a pitch. The question was asked: "Who's this Wilkinson?" Although included in the list of White Sox eligibles, he was practically unknown. Nobody believed Cicotte would dare send in Keer or Williams, but the bets were evenly divided that Eddie's relief would be either Lowdermilk, James or Faber.

Re Among Those Present
Although the crowd was rather slim in Merrimack square yesterday at the start of the game it grew as the battle continued and before the end numbered several hundred. Saturday afternoon's crowd ought to pack the streets and sidewalks. The Sun magazine man hopes to see many of his friends in the gang that he must give them the well known greeting: "That includes you, Joseph C."

That Athletic Field
What happened that, or rather, those petitions for a new athletic field in Lakeview avenue? Have they been laid over until the next general court? It's too late now to have the field ready for football even if a start was made today, but time speedeth and the 1920 baseball season will swing around before we realize it. Let's not allow it to mark time with the new high school.

JAMES RUSSELL IN REMINISCENT MOOD
According to our old friend Jim Russell, Cal Taylor, purported to be a surviving member of the old Cincinnati Red Stockings, is being fêted and dined and honored in Cincinnati with out good reason. "There are only two real survivors of that old machine," says Jim, "George Wright of Boston, who played shortstop, and Cal Meyer of Los Angeles, catcher and outfielder. Taylor traveled about with the team as a scorer, but was not a player and, therefore, should not be given the same honors as are being rightfully bestowed on the other two."

Jim was in a reminiscent mood this morning, after reading of the deeds of the old Red Stockings were a great bunch of ball players," he mused, "and do you know that they played through the whole season of 1872 and until June of 1870 without losing a single game? Yes, sir; those were halcyon days in Cincinnati just as these are."

so. He asserts further that unless the activity of the Cossack chiefs is controlled he will recommend that America refuse to render further assistance to Russia. He says he will retain the arms until advised as to what action take.

In replying the Omsk government says that in its view, the subject constitutes a diplomatic and not a military problem, which should be approached through recognized diplomatic channels, and that the government, therefore, awaits a communication from the state department at Washington. It says that "not wishing to formulate any recriminations, it will not enter into an argument which might impair the lively sympathy which it believes should be awakened in America for the cause of Admiral Kolchak."

In respect to the holding up of the shipment of rifles, astonishment is expressed by the government that local troubles in the far east, which the government regards as an international problem, and not a purely Russian one, should impel General Graves to take steps which might jeopardize a more far-reaching and more vital undertaking, namely, the suppression of Bolshevism at the critical moment when Siberian troops are conducting a successful offensive.

It is pointed out that General Graves' course is "peculiarly astonishing in view of the fact that the rifles were bought and paid for by the Russian government."

TROOPS CALLED TO QUELL RIOT

Trouble Started When Shots Were Fired at Officers on Trail of Bootlegger

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 2.—With 500 federal troops due to arrive today from Camp Pike, and several hundred deputy sheriffs and civilians, all heavily armed, moving about the affected area, officials here believed that the situation arising from yesterday's race riot at Elaine, where nine persons were killed, would be brought under control today.

After an all-day fight yesterday in the streets of Elaine between white posse men and organized negroes, armed with rifles, the casualties were two white men and seven negroes killed and a large number of whites and blacks wounded, some seriously.

Fighting ceased only with the coming of darkness and negroes were reported banded in the main brackes awaiting daylight to renew hostilities.

Governor Brough, who is accompanying the troops, was expected to call conferences of representative whites and negroes during the day, in an effort to bring an end to the trouble.

Officers Fired Upon

The trouble started with an attack Tuesday evening upon W. A. Adkins, a special railroad officer, Charles Pratt, a deputy sheriff and a negro trusty, who had gone by automobile to Elaine to arrest a bootlegger. The officers stopped near Elaine to repair a tire and were fired upon by unknown persons. Adkins fell dead and Deputy Pratt was wounded. The negro escaped and called the sheriff's office here by telephone. A posse was immediately sent to Elaine.

A large number of negroes were taken prisoners by the posse and most of them brought here. One white man also was captured. He has been identified as U. S. Bratton, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark. According to the authorities a quantity of questionable literature was found in his possession. He has been charged with murder in connection with the killing of Adkins.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 2.—One negro suspect was under arrest today in connection with the attack on Mrs. H. G. Wisener, a white woman yesterday afternoon. Military authorities who have been in control of the city since last Sunday's rioting, refused to tell where the negro was confined or the extent of the evidence against him.

The attack, one of a series of 35 similar crimes since June 1, occurred within a few blocks of army headquarters, where a machine gun is mounted.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I tried it and it did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. B. Carpenter, 125 F. Marcellus avenue, Manhattan, N. Y., I will send you a booklet and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

News of the crime was withheld from the afternoon papers at the request of Major General Leonard Wood, who is actively in command of the situation. The number of troops in the black belt was doubled after the attack and 600 soldiers were on duty in that section today.

LONG BEGINS TOUR OF STATE; G. O. P. ACTIVE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—With Governor Coolidge republican candidate for re-nomination sick in bed and Richard H. Long of Framingham, democratic candidate for nomination as governor, rushing from one city, town and hamlet of western Massachusetts to another, the campaign for election of governor of Massachusetts has gotten under way and appearances indicate that there will be no let-up until election day, November 4.

Mr. Long has lost no time and, beginning yesterday morning at Westfield, he continued a whirlwind tour of speeches through more than 20 cities and towns winding up late last night at Pittsfield. He will begin once more at Hinsdale this morning, with Springfield as his objective tonight, and on Friday will start at Ludlow, leaving off at Oxford in the afternoon so as to return to Boston to attend the "night before" of the democrats at the Quincy House and prepare for the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday afternoon.

Both Parties Girding Loins

At the republican convention to be held in Tremont Temple Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock Congressman Allen T. Treadway will preside. Speaker Warner of the house of representatives will be chairman of the resolutions committee. There will be speeches by the governor, if he has sufficiently recovered from his illness, the lieutenant-governor, Senator Lodge, members of the state ticket, and others. The resolutions committee will hold hearings today and Friday at 2.30 o'clock, with a view to securing the opinion of republicans as to the party's platform. These will be held in Room 325, 15 Tremont street.

The democratic candidates will hold their "Night Before" at the Quincy House Friday night. There will be no banquet or set speeches, the occasion being a sort of "get together." The democratic state committee will also meet at the Quincy House Friday evening. The committee on resolutions will meet in the same hotel at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to prepare the party's platform, which expected to include, among other planks, one providing for the "freedom of Ireland."

At the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday at 1 o'clock John F. McGrath of Worcester will preside. A platform will be presented and debated, and other business transacted. It is expected that Richard H. Long of Framingham, candidate for governor; Colonel John F. J. Herbert of Worcester, candidate for lieutenant-governor; and other members of the state ticket, also United States Senator David I. Walsh, and others, will speak. Invitations to speak have been tendered Foss, Monahan and Delrick, the defeated candidates for nomination for governor.

Long Attacks Coolidge

"Governor Coolidge has shown himself to be the weakest, most hapless and incompetent governor that our state has ever had," was the estimate of the present chief executive of the commonwealth of Massachusetts as expressed by Richard H. Long of Framingham, democratic candidate for governor, in speeches at Pittsfield and North Adams last night.

NESIB ABDALLAH SENT TO STATE PRISON

At the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday, Justice O'Connell on the bench, Nesib Abdallah, who was arrested in this city for breaking and entering a house in the daytime with attempt to commit larceny, was sentenced to not less than two and one-half years and not more than three and one-half years to the state prison. The prisoner will also finish one and one-half years from which he was paroled on a former sentence.

Abdallah's record, according to the bureau of state prisons, is as follows: July 17, 1901, burglary, three and a half years state prison, in Connecticut; Sept. 21, 1904, larceny from building, four to five years, Massachusetts state prison; Nov. 25, 1908, violation of Lord's day, fined $5; April 2, 1910, being present at a game, fined $2; Nov. 21, 1911, larceny from the person, fined $25; April 21, 1915, indicted in Essex superior court on eight counts for breaking and entering in the daytime and two counts for larceny, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state prison for from four to five years. These breaks were made from January, 1915, to April, and were in North Andover, Lawrence and Lynn, in which he was arrested as he attempted to draw a gun on an officer.

The installation of the newly elected officers took place this afternoon and considerable business concerning the order was transacted. An invitation was received to attend lodge meetings in Lawrence this evening and at the close of the business session this afternoon the delegates visited in a body the plant of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co., in Western avenue. This evening the delegates will be entertained at a theatre party at the B. F. Keith theatre.

The most important item of business of yesterday's session was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

the total, who are actually engaged in promoting the strike.

Chairman Kenyon read principles of the war labor board promulgated during the war, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining to employees and asked if Judge Gary intended that.

"If you mean what the labor unions call collective bargaining, no," Judge Gary responded. "If you mean organization of plant committees to present grievances, yes."

"I'd like to know what the difference is between you and the labor unions," said Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico.

"Unions are endeavoring to compel employers to contract with them," Judge Gary answered, "and when that is done, non-union men cannot be employed."

Questioned by Senator Walsh

"What good is it for men to belong to unions," said Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, "if when they join you refuse to discuss anything with their representatives?"

"Is it right," Judge Gary countered, "for 10 per cent of men who may belong to unions to dictate conditions for the other 90 per cent?"

"But your position is the same," Senator Walsh continued, "even if 90 per cent of the men were organized, you would not confer with their representatives."

"I haven't said so," Judge Gary responded. "That question has not come up."

"Let's settle this point right here," Senator Walsh broke in. "Will you confer with any representative of organized labor today, to help settle this strike?"

Refuses to Meet Union Heads

"I will not," Judge Gary returned.

"If you were convinced that 50 per cent of your men were organized and represented, would you confer with them?" asked Senator Walsh.

"No," said Mr. Gary. "I'm sorry if I differ with you, or with others."

"I'm sorry for hundreds of thousands of suffering families," Senator Walsh retorted.

Mr. Gary protested that his position had not been fairly explained and added, with careful choice of words: "We put ourselves squarely upon the issue that this is a question of the open or closed shop. Now, as to what will bring about the closed shop, we must decide from time to time, depending upon the facts presented."

"At the present time the union leaders have brought about this strike which is no more nor less than an attempt of a minority to secure control of the interests of the large majority including not only the employers, but the employees."

"That's what you say; they say they represent a majority," Senator Walsh interrupted. "Is there any reason why we should not leave that to arbitration?"

Refuses to Answer "Yes" or "No"

Judge Gary protested that he had not been allowed to complete his statement, but Senator Walsh broke in: "I want to know, yes or no, whether you will see any representatives of organized labor. Please answer that yes or no."

"With all due respect," said Judge Gary, with flushed face, "I cannot answer yes or no."

"If the minority could succeed in securing control," continued the witness, "that would bring about the closed shop. Therefore, at this particular time, the circumstances are different."

DANCE TONIGHT AT ASSOCIATE HALL

At a meeting of the women of the South End district in St. Peter's school hall last night, further plans for the welcome home celebration were discussed, particularly in connection with the dance to be given tonight in Associate hall. This is one of the first dances of the fall season and should attract a capacity crowd. Miner-Doyle's and Markham's orchestras will clash (not discordantly) in a battle of music and the dance tunes will be irresistible.

Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon presided over last night's meeting. Manager Schaeke of the Lowell Opera House spoke in relation to South End day to be observed at the theatre next Monday, when half of the receipts of the matinee and evening performances will be donated to the general fund for the celebration. Tickets are going fast for this date. Commissioner Jan. E. Donnelly also spoke to the women. Miss Mollie Roane, treasurer of the women's auxiliary, gave the final report of the tag day, which showed that a net sum of $651 was realized.

than ever existed before in this country. I doubt if you realize the danger of the minority securing control."

"I appreciate that," Senator Walsh rejoined, "but I also appreciate the danger of employers refusing to see their workmen."

Only Refused to Meet Outsiders

"I haven't," Judge Gary protested vigorously. "I have refused only to meet outsiders who are trying to organize the steel industry."

"If the union leaders should disclaim any intention to establish what you call the closed shop, would you discuss the situation with them now?" asked Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico.

"If they should make such a disclaimer, in good faith even it would not satisfy me," Judge Gary said.

"Because I know that leaders who promised that would be shortly displaced, and their positions taken over by men who would continue progress toward the closed shop. I can't discuss the situation from the viewpoint which members of this committee take. I can't talk about arbitration or compromise at this time."

Public Viciously Interested

"Representatives of labor have said the open shop is not an issue here," Senator Jones said. "The public is vitally interested. If your policy is to refuse to accept any compromise, we might as well quit now."

Asked for his views regarding possible legislation on the general question of corporation control, the witness suggested a federal commission to charter and regulate corporations with the commission's action subject to final review by the federal courts.

"Therefore, I think, concentrated capital should be under control and supervision against wrong."

Control Capital and Labor
"I think at the same time that capital is subjected to supervision and control that concentrated labor also should be subjected to control of the government and of the law."

Mr. Gary, waving his hand at Mr. Gompers and other labor leaders, said he had no personal opposition to them and would meet them in next week's labor conference.

Senator Walsh asked if Mr. Gary would agree that capital and labor both had made mistakes, and when Mr. Gary answered affirmatively, Senator Walsh asked: "Then isn't that a reason for arbitration?"

"That depends on the circumstances," Mr. Gary replied, amid laughter of the audience.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of husband and father, John H. Smith, who died Oct. 2, 1918.

Dear father, thou hast left us. And your loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God who has bereft us. He can all our sorrows heal. Yet again we hope to meet thee. When the day of life is fled. And in heaven with joy to greet thee. Where no farewell tear is shed.

MRS. JOHN H. SMITH and Children.

Senator Walsh asked if Mr. Gary would agree that capital and labor both had made mistakes, and when Mr. Gary answered affirmatively, Senator Walsh asked: "Then isn't that a reason for arbitration?"

"That depends on the circumstances," Mr. Gary replied, amid laughter of the audience.

Offers Health Hint to Women Needing a Tonic

Connecticut Resident Hopes Others Will Profit by Her Experience With This Remedy

"If a word of advice from me will help other women who suffer as I did, I certainly want to give it," says Miss Elizabeth A. Carr, who lives at No. 164 Broadbridge avenue, Stratford, Conn. "I had long been in a badly run-down condition and suffered almost constantly from indigestion. My food soured causing acute distress and gas spells. I was tired and lacked ambition and my blood was so thin that I couldn't get warm."

"One day I read a woman's statement of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for her and her symptoms were so much like mine that I decided to try the remedy. There was such a marked improvement in my condition after I had tried the first box that I continued the treatment. My strength soon returned and in a short time I was able to eat without fear of distress. I can do my work now and no longer tire easily. My blood is enriched and I don't have chilly sensations more."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an excellent tonic and I can strongly recommend them.

A useful booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order them direct by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50.—Adv.

ADMIRAL KNAPP MAKES REPORT

War Between Italy and Jugoslavia Near When Americans Acted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Intervention by the American naval forces at Trau, Dalmatia, prevented bloodshed "which would perhaps have resulted in a state of actual war between Italy and Jugoslavia," according to a report from Admiral Knapp, commanding American naval forces in European waters, transmitted to the senate today by Secretary Daniels.

American sailors were not landed. Admiral Knapp said, until American and Italian officers who had been sent to Trau had induced the Italian sailors to withdraw after they had surprised and captured the small Serbian garrison. One Italian officer and three men were left behind and the American bluejackets were sent ashore to protect them and police the town until Serbian troops could arrive.

The Americans acted, Admiral Knapp continued, at the request of the Italian admiral in command on the Dalmatian coast and the force was withdrawn immediately after the Serbians arrived and took charge. Meantime the commander of the Italian sailors was ordered to trial by court martial by the Italian admiral.

The Italian admiral thanked the American commander for sending forces to Trau, Admiral Knapp said.

Discipline Is Low
Fiume, Tuesday, Sept. 30.—Discipline among Italian regular soldiers is low along the Adriatic line and their officers have little control over them in enforcing the blockade of Fiume. As a result d'Annunzio's army is being constantly reinforced by deserters, whole companies and battalions marching into Fiume.

Carabinieri still maintain some discipline, but they are virtually the only force upon which the government can depend. Out of this force, however, 300 deserters have gone over to the d'Annunzio ranks.

Italian Warship With U. S. Officers Aboard Shot At

ROME, Oct. 2.—The Italian steamer Epiro with 200 Italian troops and some American officers on board, bound for Cattaro, is declared in a despatch from Bari to the Tempo to have been shot at by Jugo-Slav regular troops in the channel between Roudoni island and the Arsa promontory. One Italian was wounded. The Epiro, the despatch adds, made off at full speed and escaped further attack.

U. S. MAY HALT AIDING ALLIES

Threat of Withdrawal of Financial or Other Assistance to Allies

Strong Pressure to End Disputes and Uphold Supreme Council's Decisions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Plans are being considered, it became known here today, to apply strong American pressure to bring about termination of the dispute over the Adriatic question as well as in other cases where trouble has arisen jeopardizing the authority of the supreme council and threatening to set at naught its decisions founded upon powers conferred by the armistice and the peace treaty.

Unless the Adriatic question is settled satisfactorily within a few days and unless the council's decisions are carried out, the American government may consider the advisability of withdrawing for the present at least any further financial or other material assistance to the other powers.

To allow Italy's claim to Fiume solely on the basis of its forcible occupation by d'Annunzio's irregular troops in the opinion of members of the supreme council in Paris, would involve recognition by the entente of Rumania's claims in Hungary, Greece's claim to large portions of Turkey and even possibly Germany's claim to rich portions of western Russia. It is felt that admission by the council of the right of any nation to seize territory regardless of pledges to refrain from aggression, would be regarded as tantamount to an abandonment of the basic principles upon which the peace conference was assembled and as threatening a permanent peace.

Recent advices from Europe are regarded as indicating that some of the entente governments themselves or their representatives have not fully sustained the council in decisions in which they participated.

CHAIRMAN GARY WILL NOT YIELD

Reiterates Before Senate Committee His Refusal to Meet Union Heads

Charge of Employing Foreigners to Prevent Unionizing Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Charges of union labor leaders that the United States Steel corporation employed many foreigners in order to prevent the unionizing of its men were denied today by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation's board, when he resumed his testimony before the senate committee investigating the steel strike.

"Was the question of employing foreigners who possibly had feelings against this country decided by the board?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"No," said the witness. "The question was never raised."

"But you think foreigners are responsible largely for precipitating this strike?"

"Yes, but if we had known there was a substantial number of the kind of foreigners who are resorting to violence and who I believe are under the leadership of outsiders, we wouldn't have employed them."

Judge Gary replied that, as has been frequently done, individuals or committees of workmen could present grievances to foremen, superintendents, managers or even higher officials.

GREAT WELCOME FOR KING ALBERT

Belgian Royal Party Accorded Noisy Greeting at New York

Here to Thank America for Aid Extended Their Martyred Country

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium landed in Hoboken at seven minutes after 12 today.

The Belgian national anthem, played by a military band, greeted the royal party as it descended the gangplank at Hoboken. The king, followed by the queen, Prince Leopold and the king's staff, halted and stood at attention until the piece was concluded. Then Vice President Marshall stepped forward and officially welcomed the king and queen to the United States, greeting the monarch as the "ruler of the bravest nation in the world."

"No man was ever more welcome here," he said.

The king delivered his response in a low voice, speaking so quietly that his words could scarcely be heard 10 feet away. Then the government's committee of welcome was presented to him, after which he stepped to one side to chat with the vice president.

Inquiries for President

The first thing the king asked Mr. Marshall was concerning the health of President Wilson.

The king wore his uniform of a general in the Belgian artillery. Prince Leopold was also in uniform.

Responding to the welcome extended to him by Vice President Marshall, the king expressed great regret at the state of President Wilson's health and sincerely hoped for his complete recovery, adding that the president was very precious. The king and queen regarded the trip as a distinct step in their lives, he said, and were happy to make this journey to express their gratitude and the gratitude of the Belgian people to the people of the United States. They hoped to get many valuable ideas and learn many lessons from the great people of the United States, he declared.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Albert, king of the Belgians, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold, who came to America to personally express their gratitude for the aid extended by a generous nation to their martyred country, received a noisy welcome to New York, when aroused at dawn by the firing of salutes as the transport George Washington steamed past the outer harbor fortifications. It was a truly American welcome, such as has greeted returning heroes from France since the

Young Men Fined in Police Court for Keeping Girls Away From School

Accused of unlawfully inducing two young girls to absent themselves from school—the first case of its kind to be tried in Lowell police court—two young local men, Antonio Larese and Michael Moran, were found guilty by Judge Bright in police court today and fined $20 each.

Both girls, who are 13 years old, are pupils at the Green school on Merrimack street, but only one was present to testify at this morning's session. She said that she and her chum were on their way to school on the afternoon of September 23, when they met the two young men.

The youths invited them to "come to the movies," but they refused. The defendants insisted that they should accompany them, she said, and they finally agreed to do so.

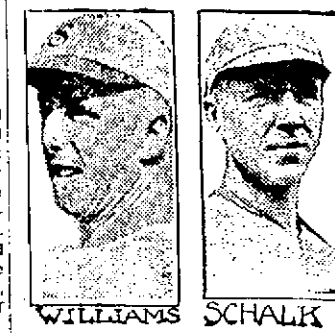

So all four went to the movies and were found there later in the day by Patrolman Hamilton and Miss Eliza.

Reds and Sox Clash in Second Game of the World Series Sallee vs. Williams

SOX'S BATTERY

REDLAND FIELD, CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The weather for today's world series game was as perfect as that of yesterday. The sun was out, while the thermometer registered 80 degrees at noon.

Statements from Manager Moran, of the Reds, and Manager Gleason of the White Sox indicated that the winning of the first game had made the home team more confident, while it had the effect of making the losers even more determined to regain the ground lost.

Accordingly, Gleason said that he would pitch Claude Williams, his star left hander. Moran announced that "Sim" Sallee would be on the mound.

The winning of yesterday's game had one noticeable effect on the Cincinnati fans. The railroad officers were crowded all of last night by local baseball enthusiasts eager to get accommodations to Chicago to witness the games to be played there Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Helping Shifts to Even Money

That yesterday's game upset predictions was indicated by the fluctuation of the betting odds, even money on the Reds finding few takers and here and there odds being demanded by those who still believe the Sox will ultimately prove the victor.

The White Sox players promised Manager Gleason faithfully that they would see that the tables were turned at today's game. There is no denying the fact that the Reds outplayed the visitors in every department of the game yesterday, but those who have watched Comiskey's aggregation in their pennant fight maintained that the team would show their true form now.

To Break Financial Records

The series is expected to break all records relative to the amount of money taken in at the gates. The first day's receipts were more than $21,000 in excess of the high record of the first day's receipts when the Philadelphia Athletics played at New York in 1911. At that time $17,350 was taken in at the gate, while yesterday $28,000 was taken.

OMSK, Tuesday, Sept. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Major General William S. Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, in retaliation for scurrilous articles published in a Vladivostok newspaper and hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east, has held up shipment of 14,000 rifles which recently arrived at Vladivostok from America consigned to the All-Russian government at Omsk.

Giving notice of his action by telegraph through Major Slaughter, his representative here, General Graves declared he will personally cause the arrest of the offending editor and the suppression of the newspaper—the Golos Rodni—unless the Omsk government does

Every available seat and every available space was sold yesterday. A crowd of equal proportions was expected today.

The usual midnight attendance at the bleacher gate, prepared to wait 11 hours in order to get the best seats that the bleachers and pavilion afforded, was in evidence again. Toward morning the crowd became even larger than that of yesterday.

The local forecaster's prediction for today was cloudy and warm.

Clarence Rowland is convinced that Cicotte will come back and beat the Reds before the series ends.

Newspapermen will leave for Chicago tonight on a special train at 11:30 p. m., accommodations having been made for 400 writers.

Cincinnati fans celebrated the first victory of the Reds in a riotous manner. Impromptu parades were staged in downtown streets and hotel lobbies.

A little German band furnished the music for one parade, while Scotch bagpipers headed another procession. The celebrations continued until long after midnight.

Fred Mitchell said he never saw Ruetter pitch a better game of ball.

Eddie Cicotte today expressed confidence in his ability to come back. He declared that he was completely unnerfed when he hit Rath, the first man up in the game yesterday and lost all control of the ball in the fourth inning.

Cicotte's Alibi

"It is hard to explain," he said, "but I was in no condition to pitch the game that I had expected. I felt perfectly confident before the game started and appeared to have everything when I was warming up, but when I hit Rath, it seemed to have a strange effect on me. I felt so badly about it that I trotted with him along the first base line to see if the ball had hurt him. When he assured me that he was all right, I went back to the pitching mound but I did not seem to be

LIFT-BAN ON TOURISTS VISITING EUROPE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The ban on tourists visiting Europe—with the exception of the British Isles—which has been in force since 1916, was officially removed yesterday by the United States, and now the only thing needed to view the battlefields of France is the price.

As a result of the lifting of the bars, passport clerks in the office of Clerk Allen of the federal district court put in a busy day filling out the applications of prospective voyagers. No one on pleasure bent can yet visit Great Britain. The reason for this is not known here, but it is believed that the present labor troubles there have a good deal to do with the attitude of British officials.

According to instructions received from Secretary of State Lansing, tourists' applications for passports may be accepted from those wishing to go to France, Belgium, Italy, Portugal and parts of Africa. The present unsettled conditions in the Balkans prevents tourists from going there, and they are also unable to go to Switzerland. It is assumed here that the food question is the determining factor in keeping travelers for the present out of the mountain republic.

Secretary Lansing warns tourists to be sure and secure from steamship companies before leaving the United States assurances that they will be able to obtain accommodations for the homeward journey and prevent the possibility of becoming stranded in Europe later. It is understood that large parties in charge of tourist agencies are planning to sail on sight-seeing tours with a few weeks.

SENATE STRIKE INVESTIGATORS
WASHINGTON—This is the senate labor committee which is investigating the steel strike. It has heard the story of John Fitzpatrick, leader of the striking steel workers, and this week it is to hear the employers' side from E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation.

COST OF PRIMARIES

The state primaries held Sept. 21 cost the city of Lowell $1820 for election officers in addition to the various other expenses that were produced at that time, according to this week's city payroll draft. The total payroll amounts to $22,050.56.

METROPOLITAN EXPRESS TRAIN IN WRECK

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The Metropolitan Express on the Pennsylvania railroad, which left Chicago yesterday morning for New York, was partially wrecked 19 miles west of Philadelphia today.

A west-bound freight train was rear-ended on a sharp curve and the wreckage of 20 cars piled high. In less than two minutes the express crashed into it. Rain was falling and there was a fog. The engine man saw the wreck too late. After applying the brakes, he and his fireman jumped. Both were hurt.

WANT A FAIRER

HALF HOLIDAY

Today, Thursday, is the half-holiday for clerks and it is rainy. Most Thursdays are. Although the clerks' association has not come around to consider the question in open meeting, nevertheless there is considerable grumbling and it is understood that a plan is on foot whereby the half-holiday will be changed to fall on some other afternoon which stands more in favor with the gods of the elements.

There have been exceptions to this mundane continuance of clouds and rain, but such days are a rarity and while they are remembered vividly on this account, nevertheless are somewhat forgotten when the clerks contemplate on the dreary stretch of roads.

Store proprietors complain, too, for they say that the spirits of the clerks are at such a low ebb during Thursday forenoons when the sky is overcast and rain drops fall, that they do not maintain that sprightly appearance so much to be desired by the younger set.

"It's tough luck, a real flinx, black and persistent, and the clerks are about ready to rise up in righteous wrath and throw him off the trail by changing the day. That ought to fool him."

PANAMA TOLLS

ARE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Increase of approximately 15 per cent in revenues collected from the Panama canal is provided in a bill, changing the system of measurement of vessels passing through the canal, which was passed yesterday by the house and sent to the senate.

Opposition to the measure came largely from the Pacific coast members, who complained that changes on deck cargoes, resulting from the change of measurement rules, would work hardship on west coast shippers, particularly lumber interests.

The bill, which was passed by a vote of 261 to 14, directs that the Panama canal rules of measurement, based on actual earning capacity of a vessel, will govern the levy of tolls instead of net tonnage. Existing toll rates are unchanged by the bill, but the canal measurement rules will increase the basis on which these charges are computed.

Similar legislation has been before congress the last four years without enactment, although recommended for passage by both senate and house committees.

WILL HOLD PUBLIC HEARING

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has received notification from Andrew A. Highlands, secretary of the public service commission, that the commission will hold a public hearing Monday, Oct. 6, at 10.30 a. m. at room 165, state house, Boston, on proposed changes of the United States railroad administration in the passenger fare rates in Boston and cities and towns beyond Boston.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN GRATEFUL

In East Boston, Mass., at 23 Lamson street, a contented family of three children and the mother live, daily thanking in silence the kind neighbor who helped them when they were sick. Mrs. Nellie Woodford is the mother and she writes the following letter to Dr. J. P. True & Co.: "Having heard about your medicine from my neighbors and druggist, I wondered if your Dr. True's Elixir wasn't what I needed. I am a hard-working woman, working six hours every day for the Penn Realty Trust Company in Boston. In doing this work I use a lot of strength. Besides this looking after my house and the care of my three children were me out."

I guess my nerves got out of kilter first. I worried a lot, and seemed to get tired easy. I lost my appetite. I was overtaken with dizzy spells, my eyes got blurred, and I soon found I had to stay home from work. I didn't do any housework, but the rest didn't do any good.

I always had one special doctor for myself and the children, but he was out of town when I was sick. I took medicine from the druggist which my friends brought in, but nothing did any good. My bowels were out of order. My breath bad, and I was shaky all over. Worst of all the terrible headaches came. It seemed I had suffered years before you Dr. True's Elixir was brought into me by a neighbor.

After a short time I began to cheer up and be myself again. My bowels were soon in order and I noticed that the dizzy spells had left me. I think your Elixir wonderful. I am working every day now getting stronger and picking up my appetite. I feel full of gratitude toward Dr. True's Elixir.

Two children sometimes eat things, which don't agree with them, when I am not around to see, and then cramps and constipation follow. I just get out my bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and take no trouble in getting them to take some. It is easy to take. Their bowels are soon all right. It may interest

N. Y. SHIPYARD WORKERS ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Many of the shipyard workers who went on strike yesterday remained away from the yards today although the strike order was rescinded to await the outcome of a conference in Washington of officers of the shipping board and the heads of the international unions involved. The chief demands of the unions are for a 44-hour week and increased wages.

The situation along the waterfront was more serious, several thousand longshoremen, principally in Brooklyn, going on strike, although their demands for higher wages were being heard by the national adjustment commission.

WORLD WAR CREATES LOVE FOR ARMY

That the world war imbued Lowell men with fighting spirit and the love of the army is evidenced by the records of the local army recruiting station. No less than 150 men have been signed up since April 10 of this year when the station at 117 Merrimack street was reopened for enlistments. During the month of September 25 recruits were signed up.

The latest recruits to be forwarded are Charles O'Donnell of 112 South Highland street, who was accepted this morning for one year's overseas service in the infantry and Patrick J. Doyle of 350 Tappan street who was signed up for three years' service with the field artillery. Both are world war veterans, O'Donnell having served with Co. F of the 22d Infantry and Doyle with Battery E of the 22d Field Artillery.

EATON JURY DISAGREES

NASHUA, Oct. 2.—The jury in the Perry A. Eaton will contest after being out 17 hours, was discharged in superior court yesterday afternoon, being unable to agree. It is stated on the main point it was 7 to 5 in favor of the will. The suit was brought by Mr. Eaton's only son, Perry A. Eaton, Jr., and had been on trial since Wednesday. By the terms of the will $25,000 of the estate of $95,000 was bequeathed to his housekeeper.

It is likely, by the statements of counsel, that the case will be retried at another term.

cessation of hostilities, and not even deference to royalty was observed to still elude or whittle.

The George Washington, formerly the North German Lloyd liner of that name, arrived off the Fire Island lightship at 5 o'clock yesterday. She anchored at sunset three miles east of the Ambrose channel lightship. A flotilla of 12 destroyers under command of Rear Admiral Horace Plunkett escorted the George Washington up the Narrows and up the bay to Army pier No. 3 at Hoboken. Several other municipal boats and yachts proceeded to quarantine to greet the vessel, but did not form part of the official fleet.

As the ship came up the harbor, salutes of 21 guns were fired from Castle Williams, on Governor's Island, and from the coastal fortifications. In response, the George Washington broke out at her masthead the flag of the Belgian royal family and the national banner. American warships responded by dipping their colors.

Suffered Three Years Before Finding "Fruit-a-lives"

CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON, MASS.

"For three years, I was troubled with Constipation, accompanied by Dizziness and Violent Headaches. I took medicines and laxatives, but without permanent relief.

Last October, I heard of "Fruit-a-lives" or Fruit Liver Tablets. I used one box and the results were so pronounced that I bought two dozen boxes.

I continued using "Fruit-a-lives" until the twenty four boxes were finished, when my physical condition was perfect". JAS. J. ROYALL.

King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold will be guests of the state department and the city. Cardinal O'Donnell will act as host to the church prime, who will reach here Saturday morning.

It is expected that the king's party will arrive at 7.30 a. m. on Sunday and that they will remain 12 hours. Mayor Peters, as official host, and Mrs. Peters, Governor and Mrs. Coolidge, Larz Anderson, formerly minister to Belgium, and Mrs. Anderson; Reddington Fiske, the Belgian consul, and Mrs. Fiske will greet them at the railroad terminal.

The guests will be escorted from the station to their hotel by a troop of cavalry and a motorcycle corps. The latter body will remain in attendance throughout the day.

After the cathedral mass at 9.30, the Belgian rulers will meet selected representatives of the state and city, the army and navy and other organizations at lunch.

Later they will receive members of the Belgian relief committee.

A brief visit will be made to Harvard college, where they will be welcomed by President A. Lawrence Lowell and other members of the faculty. Later they will take tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. At 7.30 p. m. they will return to their special train and leave for Buffalo.

King's Message to Americans

King Albert today issued the following message to the American people:

"At the moment of setting foot on American soil the king of the Belgians desires to express to the people of the United States the great pleasure with which the queen and himself are coming to its shores at the invitation of President Wilson. The king brings to this nation of friends the testimony of the powerful aid, moral and material, which America gave them in the course of the war. The name of the commission for the relief of Belgium will live eternally in the memory of the Belgians. The king rejoices at the prospect of visiting the cities whose hearts fought with the cities of Belgium and whose continual sacrifices knew no measure. He happily will be able to meet the eminent citizens who, animated by the highest thoughts, placed themselves at the head of organizations for relieving the sufferings of the war. The American people, their splendid army and their courageous navy, powerfully served a great ideal."

With the welcoming party at the pier were Secretary Lansing, Secretary Baker, General March and Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary of state.

The royal visitors will be "incognito" during the first 24 hours of their stay here. Seclusion will be maintained at the Waldorf-Astoria, where they are assigned to the suite on the third floor that was reserved for General Pershing while he was the guest of the city.

Official Greeting Tomorrow

The official greeting of the city will take place tomorrow morning when the royal party will be taken in automobiles to one of the North river piers whence they will proceed by boat to the Battery. Later there will be exercises at city hall.

Tomorrow afternoon the royal party will see 50,000 school children in Central park and in the evening they will attend a performance at the Hippodrome.

Saturday's program includes visits to the Woolworth building, the stock exchange and the produce exchange by the king, and luncheon at the Bank.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL MEETING

One of the biggest events of the year in commercial circles in this state and, for that matter, in the calendar of the local board of trade, is the annual meeting of the Massachusetts chamber of commerce, the parent organization of the various commercial bodies of the commonwealth. This year the annual meeting will be held at the Hotel Vendome, Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street, on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Ten accredited delegates from the Lowell board of trade as well as a number of other members will attend the meeting. An excellent program has been arranged for the session which will last all day and the address of welcome will be delivered by His Excellency, Governor Calvin Coolidge. The Lowell delegates will be John M. O'Donoghue, president, and John J. O'Rourke, secretary of the local board, Harvey B. Greene, George M. Harrigan, James C. Kelly, Robert F. Madden, Arthur T. Safford, Alonzo G. Walsh, Jesse H. Shepard and Henry A. Smith.

The session will open at 10.45 a. m. with a meeting of the board of directors and at 12.30 a reception and luncheon will be held. The business session proper will open at 1.30 and the speakers will include Governor Coolidge, John J. Martin, president of the Exchange Trust Co. of Boston, Leslie R. Smith, master of the state grange of Massachusetts, and R. Sanford Riley, president of the Worcester chamber of commerce.

SHOT FIRED AND EGGS THROWN

Lights Put Out and Shower of Eggs Hurlled at Those on Stage

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 2.—Whether an official investigation would be made of a demonstration here last night during which eggs were thrown at United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, when he attempted to deliver an address in opposition to the peace treaty and the League of Nations, was the subject of considerable discussion today.

Although several officials declared that an investigation should be made and these guilty of participation punished, they pointed out that as the egg throwing took place after the light wires had been cut and the building was in darkness, it would be virtually impossible to identify the persons who took part.

Senator Reed left Ardmore late last night for the west without commenting on the demonstration.

The demonstration followed a mass meeting Tuesday at which resolutions were adopted censuring the senator for his opposition to the League of Nations covenants and urging that he cancel his speaking engagements.

Mayor Freeman was in the midst of an explanation that he was introducing the speaker because he was mayor of the city and not because he supported the views of those opposed to the League covenant, when the lights went out and volleys of eggs hurlled through the air toward the stage.

When the lights were restored it was found that virtually none of those on the stage, including the senator, the mayor and members of the reception committee had escaped the effects of the eggs.

Later officials attempted to continue the program, but the crowd refused to listen. Efforts by Senator Reed to deliver his address were met by jeers, hisses, catcalls and cheers for President Wilson.

Finally the meeting was abandoned and Senator Reed was driven to his hotel.

One shot was fired in the course of the trouble.

TWO JAILED IN MURDER CASE

N.E.A. Special to The Sun. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. — Psychic sleuthing has placed a man and a woman behind the bars, charged with murder.

Robin J. Cooper, wealthy clubman and politician, was found slain on the outskirts of this city last June. His body was pierced by a bullet.

After local detectives had about given up their search for clues and the Cooper slaying was being regarded as a crime problem never to be solved, Gabriel Hansen, psychic student of crime, came to this city and declared that he knew all the particulars of Cooper's fate.

He obtained a hearing from the police after he had confronted them with tangible evidence to support his spiritualistic visions.

Dennis E. Metcalf, gardener, and Nora Lee Jones, a colored cook, employed in the Cooper home, are under arrest on evidence brought forward by Hansen.

Metcalf is charged with the actual killing and the negroess is held as an accessory before the fact.

Hansen, whose home is in Memphis, came to Nashville bearing letters of recommendation from high officials who related some of his feats in psychic crime-solving. He announced that he was determined to bring Cooper's slayer to justice and that he knew all about the crime.

home he gave a minute description of the premises, including the garage in which he says the crime was committed.

"Cooper was seated in his automobile when he was killed," says Hansen. "The person who killed him sat in the tonneau, and dragged the body back, then drove away, with the dead man huddled on the floor of the car."

"The body was laid on the river bank and was carried away by a freshet the next day."

Mrs. Anna W. Littleton, a spiritualist, upholds Hansen. She was informed in a vision, she asserts, that Hansen could solve the mystery of Cooper's death.

To support Hansen's theory, the following evidence will be presented to the grand jury:

Shortly after the crime, Metcalf rented a room. In this room has been found a pair of overalls marked by blood stains, also a pillow slip marked with the letter "C," a pistol and letters from Metcalf's wife in Chicago warning him to "be careful"—our letters are being opened."

Said he Couldn't Drive

Metcalf, when first questioned, said that he could not drive an automobile. It has since been learned that he attended a school for chauffeurs.

Both Metcalf and the colored cook stoutly protested their innocence.

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Given Absolute Relief From All Pains and Suffering. It Never Fails. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy. The discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where, by its soothing, healing, antiseptic action, it first allays, and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments. Really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says: "I gladly recommend Miro Remedy for Piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 15 years and tried everything that was recommended. I suffered for years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it."

If your pharmacist dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

If you are unable to supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, in receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.00. War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c. War Tax 2c extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elyria, Ohio. —Adv.

GIRLS BUYING POISON

Women Killing Themselves Rather Than Fall Into Hands of Bolsheviks

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1. (By the Associated Press).—Chemist shops at Archangel, are openly selling poison to many young women who are buying it with the expressed intention of killing themselves rather than fall into the hands of the Bolsheviks, according to an American officer who has just arrived from northern Russia.

While several shiploads of Bolsheviks have been deported from Archangel by entente powers the majority of the anti-Bolshevik population refuse to leave, saying it is impossible to go penniless into a strange country. These people must take their chances in Archangel under Bolshevik domination, which appears inevitable as soon as British forces leave.

BOLSHEVIKI DOCTRINES ROUNDLY DENOUNCED

Declaring that even as oil and water, Bolshevism and Americanism cannot mix, for the one lives only through the destruction of the other, Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, punched holes in every heard of soviet doctrine while speaking at the First Baptist church last evening. Members of the Round Table and of the Baraca class heard his virile address.

He compared the platform of the Bolsheviks with the declaration of rights of the state of Massachusetts and found the former wanting in every respect. He spoke primarily with the object of offering some means of solving the problem of unrest which is evident throughout the country today in the relations of capital and labor.

DEMOBILIZATION OF WELFARE ORGANIZATIONS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2.—The final demobilization of the several civilian organizations that were engaged in welfare work with the army during the war, is announced in a letter from Secretary of War Baker to Col. Harry Cutler of this city, national chairman of the Jewish welfare board. Recently at a conference with Secretary Baker, Col. Cutler suggested the demobilization of these organizations and the taking over of the work by the regular army at as early a date as possible, and the announcement is now made that this is to be done at once.

In his communication Secretary Baker says: "In order that the example set by the various civilian agencies —are becoming imbued with the teachings of Bolshevism than most persons realize and he favored the deportation of foreigners who foment trouble.

Touching on the present attitude of labor and the sweep of strikes which has engulfed the country, Mr. Mulready cited the attitude of an employer he talked with. This man advocated standing his workers up before a firing squad. The speaker then pointed out that such a course would kill the laborers, but an idea has never yet been shot dead.

CONG. TINKHAM ASKS SUGAR PROBE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—The house yesterday passed a resolution introduced by Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Boston directing the federal trade commission to make an investigation of sugar supplies and prices.

A similar measure introduced by Senator New of Indiana has been adopted by the senate. The Tinkham resolution directs the trade commission to investigate both wholesale and retail prices and pass upon the reasonableness of said prices.

It further asks for a report on the quantities of sugar, both raw and refined, held by dealers in this country and in the island possessions of the United States and the causes of the present sugar shortage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

B. M. KUTNER'S THEATRE

Comedy that convulses is the leader at the B. M. Kutner's theatre, this week, and James C. Morton, with a force of sprightly members of his family furnish a goodly slice of it. Morton puts forward a tasty, one of the kind that holds everything. Audiences shrink with delight at the funny things Morton does. Pietro, the king of piano accordions, is another member of the bill who gathers much applause, and Sully & Houghton have a decidedly pretty act. Other turns are: Mac-Millan & Snow in a comedy; Orville Stamm, physical culturist; Boothby & Everdeen in a travesty and Roy & Arthur in a juggling oddity.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Marguerite Fields, the leading woman of the Lowell Players, struts about the stage in her baro feet this week in the farce comedy, "Fair and Warmer." And besides John Stecher, the leading man, appears in his Alice blue pajamas and Victory bath robe. Despite their unusual stage attire, both are immensely entertaining, and treat the characters assigned to them in wonderfully good style. You'll like them and the rest of the cast. Capacity audiences at all performances this far. Order your tickets well in advance.

Next week, America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be given. This play will offer John Stecher his biggest dramatic role to date. On Monday the management will make it "South End Day" and 50 per cent. of the day's receipts are to be turned over to the South End Church. Messrs. Buckley and Schucke want to help the celebration and this is their method. It's a corker, too, for the possibility of realizing a good amount is most encouraging. Special features in addition to the play itself, will be given on this day.

THE STRAND

One of the notable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy!" Albert Capellan's "Musical comedy," co-starring June Caprice and Crighton Hale, which is to be shown for the first time locally at The Strand today, will be the appearance of a boy of beauties recruited by Mr. Capellan from the various Broadway cabarets and musical comedy shows. The aggregation of girls represents four different well-known cabarets and five current Broadway musical comedy hits, including "Fanny," "Good Morning Judge" and "Listen Lester" and consists of 12 hand-picked beauties, selected with discrimination, that would do credit to Florenz Ziegfeld. The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture and although bereft of their voices, they dispose themselves in lively fashion and make good use of their training in the gentle art of "jazz" dancing. It looks as if our local patrons are to be vastly entertained during the three-day run.

The story of "Broken Commandments," the new William Fox picture that is to be shown today, tomorrow and Saturday, presents the novel idea of a man throwing dice three times for the possession of a girl—and finally throwing the loaded dice in order to lose, because he realizes this will be for her good. It is said to be a tremendously forceful story of three human hearts—a new phase of the old triangle—that love and greed are soothed at last by the consecrating of self-sacrifice. In the hands of Gladys Brockwell and an unusually good cast, including William Seaward Thomas, Sauter, this play promises to be one of the strongest that has come to The Strand in many months. A new comedy and latest weekly together with new songs that will help make the program one of exceptional merit. See it.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" AT MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tomorrow and Saturday will mark the end of the run of George Loane Tucker's superb photodrama, "The Miracle Man," which has caused more sincere praise among the lovers of worth-while photoplays than any picture which has been shown in Lowell for many months. Business at the Merrimack Square has been phenomenal during the entire week, and "The Miracle Man" here has repeated its wonderful success in New York, Boston, Chicago and other cities.

For those who confidently raise the cry that motion pictures are mediocre and untrue to life, all that can be said to "see 'The Miracle Man.'" Its wonderful human appeal is irresistible. Virginia Tracy, noted critic of the New York Tribune said: "At 'The Miracle Man' the whole house sighed with us in satisfaction. deeply. Almost pathetically content in having taken its money's worth through its heart. It is the solid answer to those doleful souls who cry forever, asking for a 'really better picture.'" W. A. Johnson in the Motion Picture News, said: "The unbeliever I refer to was swept off his feet by 'The Miracle Man' but the significant thing he kept repeating was this: 'Yes, it is an art.'"

All Alaskan cities have their own schools, and in addition there are 68 schools for natives, under the jurisdiction of the bureau of education of the interior department.

ALBANIAN DELEGATES ARE DISCOURAGED

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Albanian delegates profess to be greatly discouraged since receiving information that President Wilson has agreed in principle to the proposition of giving Italy a mandate over their country in connection with the settlement of the entire Dalmatian-Adriatic problem.

The delegates say that Italian control might "easily lead to another Balkan war at any time" and constant friction would be inevitable. Red Cross officers who have just arrived in Paris from Albania, say natives of that country, are sniping at Italians and showing resentment at Italian control.

LADY BEATTY
WIFE OF VICE ADMIRAL SIR DAVID BEATTY PLANS AID FOR ENGLISH WOMEN

LONDON, October.—Lady Beatty, wife of Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet of Great Britain, has just begun a campaign to raise a fund of $1,700,000 for the building of a maternity home for the wives of British sailors.

Lady Beatty is an American girl. Before her marriage to the admiral in 1901 she was Ethel Field, only daughter of America's merchant prince, Marshall Field, Sr., of Chicago.

Sir David and Lady Beatty have two sons and maintain a house at London and a country place at Brooksbury Hall, Leicester.

During the war Lady Beatty interested herself in the welfare of the families of the men in the British fleet, an interest which has culminated in her campaign for the huge fund for a maternity home.

ENDORSE DOUBLE PLATOON

LOWELL TELEPHONE GIRLS HONORED

Five Lowell girls, three of them former operators and two still in the employ of the Telephone company, were among the 75 operators of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., who yesterday were officially honored by their company in Boston. The local young women were Miss Nellie Snow who was one of four to receive a citation from General Pershing for gallant service rendered in France; Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Eugenie Radicot, both of whom were with the A.E.F. with Miss Snow, and Miss Olive Oatman and Miss Gingham, who trained for army service but lost the opportunity to go across when the armistice came.

In appreciation of their patriotic services, both abroad and at home, the company yesterday, after weeks of preparation, provided an all-day celebration for the girls. In the morning they were received at the company's headquarters and in the afternoon were tendered a theatre party and a banquet at the Copley Plaza at night.

GRAND CARNIVAL PLANS COMPLETE

As the crowning feature of the week of publicity being conducted by the Community Service Club for girls, the plans are complete for the rollicking carnival of mirth to be held in the club rooms in the tunnels building tomorrow evening.

Everything is free. All girls over 17 years of age are cordially invited to attend. A happy smile is the admission pass. The main assembly hall will be transformed into a fantastic avenue of concessions and features. In addition to the booths in which one may run the gamut of things unnatural and unseen, special numbers, such as the Lowell Pollies, the Prancing Pygmies and a penny arcade will have prominent positions on the program.

The week of publicity during the first four days has been productive of many new members and a splendid revival of interest. The fall and winter programs of activities have appealed to a great many girls and the special classes are nearly filled. In fact the demand for registration in millinery and dressmaking classes has been so great that two full classes in each already have been formed. The original plans called for one class in each branch of handwork.

C. Y. M. L. CONCERT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Members of the C.Y.M.L. have practically completed their plans for the concert which they will present at the Lowell Opera House next Sunday evening at 8.15. Miss Lily Meagher, the soprano soloist, will give a program combining operatic and sacred selections with popular Irish folk songs that have been made so popular in the revival of Irish music in the last few years. Mr. Winston Wilkinson, violinist, will entertain with several selections, and Mr. Edwin Schneider will accompany at the piano. Mr. Schneider and Mr. Wilkinson are the accompanists of Mr. John McCormack this season.

The members of the club at a meeting this week reported a large advance sale of tickets, and indications point to one of the largest attendances that a concert ever drew in this city. The popularity of this organization has been attested by the spirit in which the people have responded to help them in their first entertainment since their war activities ceased. Tickets are now on sale at the Lowell Opera house, and the management reports that but a few reserved seats remain unclaimed.

FIND BODIES OF ARMY MEN BURIED ON BEACH

NOGALES, ARIZ., Oct. 2.—The bodies of two men dressed in army uniforms and with insignia of the aviation corps in their pockets, found buried on the beach of the Bay of Los Angeles, Lower California, about 200 miles south of San Diego, are believed to be those of Lieutenants Frederick B. Waterhouse and Cecil H. Connelly, according to a report made to military authorities today by Joe Allen Richards of Chicago, on his arrival from Guadalupe, Mex. Lieutenants Waterhouse and Connelly disappeared six weeks ago while on border patrol duty between Yuma, Ariz., and San Diego. According to Richards, the bodies were found by him and William Rose, Sept. 23.

In the pockets were insignia of the aviation corps and jewelry which Richards and Rose took as a means of identification. Richards said the Mexican authorities at Santa Rosalia took the jewelry from them.

SEND ULTIMATUM TO LAWRENCE MILL MEN

LAWRENCE, Oct. 2.—The disposition of a railroad track which runs along the south bank of the North canal here and over which freight is carried for some of the big mill corporations has been a question which has worried more than one city government during the past half a dozen years.

After spending a couple of million dollars in building the new "central bridge" over the Merrimack river and a bridge approach to it over each of the Essex company's two canals, one at the north and one at the south end, the city is faced with the proposition that unless this track is disposed of in some way freight cars will be continually shifting between the North canal approach and the entrance to the bridge proper.

A hearing was held in connection with the problem by the city government yesterday which resulted in that body's sending by unanimous vote, an ultimatum to the corporations that unless they submit by next Wednesday a definite plan for the solving of the problem which will not mean the expenditure of any money by the city a dead end to their track will be established at the west side of the bridge, and they will be allowed to fight it out in the courts.

The new bridge has not yet been opened to the public, although its construction was started six years ago, and during the intervening period it has been a bone of contention in many different phases. Construction work on the entire structure from Canal to Merrimack street is about completed, but there still must be settled the vexing problem of this particular track.

The first riddle ever recorded was propounded by Samson in the Book of Judges, 14th chapter, 14th verse.

200 NAVAL STAFF OFFICERS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Resignations of nearly 200 naval staff officers will be accepted, Secretary Daniels announced today as soon as the bureaus to which they are attached notify him the officers' services can be spared. The acceptances will apply only to those staff officers who are not graduates of the naval academy. No action will be taken for the present on the resignation of 89 line officers now on file.

Many of the resignations are due to a belief of the officers that their navy pay is insufficient to support their families properly.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

The man on the running board of President Wilson's machine is "Joe" Murphy, known to his secret service associates as "the most responsible man in America!" Behind the machine are Miles McCahill and Walter Ferguson, of the president's guard who seem to have sensed danger on their left flank. A false move in the crowd will bring seven of these "eagles" swooping into action, lest harm befall the chief executive of the nation.

ARGUS-EYED SLEUTHS PROTECT PRESIDENT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondence.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—"The most responsible man in America!"

Joseph E. Murphy, a smallish, argus-eyed American of Irish parentage, holds the title. Together with six carefully-chosen associates, all members of the United States secret service, it is his business to guard the president from bodily harm, at the expense of his own life, and those of his companions, if that should be necessary.

Do you wonder that he is called "the most responsible man in America?"

Possibly you have an idea that the protection of the president from vicious or irresponsible persons is a sinecure? If so, stop to consider that three of our chief executives have been assassinated; that attempts have been made on the lives of at least two others (Johnson and Roosevelt) and that the plans of countless "cranks" and malcontents, aimed at the lives of our presidents, have been thwarted by members of the secret service.

A secret service man, to qualify for the job of helping to guard the president, must prove to the satisfaction of his superiors that he has thoroughly developed that uncanny "sixth sense" by which it is possible to "feel" danger before it's evident to the eye or ear.

He must be able to think at lightning speed and act in the twinkling of an eye. He must be possessed of unquestioned courage and resourcefulness.

"Joe" Murphy's eyes, as well as those of his six assistants, scan the face, figure, costume and—chief of all—the general attitude of every person who gets close to the president. No one, be he governor of a state, mayor of a city, or ordinary citizen, escapes that searching scrutiny.

Many an innocent citizen, reaching for a handkerchief to wave, has been borne to earth by these uncompromising "eagles of the secret service." Nor can they even stop to make apologies. Their business is to guard the chief executive of the nation.

Murphy and Miles McCahill are the deans of the president's guards, having watched successfully over the persons of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. The others—"Ed" Starling, "Billie" Landvolght, "Jack" Fitzgerald, W. A. Ferguson and J. G. Slye—have seen less service with the presidents but are none the less dependable.

"It's a fascinating life," said one of them, during the recent Wilson visit to San Francisco, "and we sure get hold of some queer cases—but the job is nerve-racking, especially in times of great political excitement, or a bitter campaign. We never know when some wild-eyed crook or darn fool is going to try something!"

And with these steel-spring chaps it's an everlasting disgrace to let a man even attempt to harm the president. Although the police of Buffalo, for instance, pre-empted the duty of guarding President McKinley the day he was shot, the secret service man who was nearest the martyred chief executive was never entirely forgiven by the service.

Take it altogether, it's not much fun being one of "the most responsible men in America!"

It was Thomas Jefferson's wish that he be remembered as the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the statute of Virginia for religious freedom and as the father of the University of Virginia.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS

We have received the following expression of gratitude from the Lowell teachers' organization:

Editor Sun:

Dear Sir:

The president of the Teachers' Organization has requested me to tender you the sincere gratitude and appreciation of every Lowell teacher for your timely and valuable assistance through the splendid editorial published in the Sun of Saturday, September 20. It certainly was a magnificent editorial and made plain the position of the teachers of Lowell in reference to their claim for an increase of salary. Again with appreciation, I remain

Gratefully yours,

KATHURINE KELLEY, Sec'y.

The Sun is glad to espouse and support the just claims of the teachers of Lowell to increased compensation. What we said in the editorial referred in Miss Kelley's communication was aimed chiefly at helping the teachers to secure the increase of salary demanded, as a matter of simple justice. But much more might have been said in reference to the detrimental effect upon our school system of a mean or niggardly policy under which the rate of compensation is held below what is fair, below what is actually necessary to meet the high cost of living and below what is paid for like service in other cities even less important than Lowell.

Already about half a dozen of our best teachers have found positions elsewhere and have left the city, while others are understood to be considering offers at salaries much higher than are paid for like service in Lowell.

We have already named several cities of our class that are paying higher salaries to their teachers than are now in force in Lowell. Holyoke is not nearly as large a city as Lowell, yet she pays her teachers much better than does Lowell.

Perhaps some would like to see the figures. Here they are for elementary teachers:

Lowell Holyoke

Kindergarten Principals:

Minimum (not given) $1150

Maximum $1400 1250

Kindergarten Assistants, 4th year:

Minimum 600 950

Maximum 750 1150

Elementary, Grades 1-6:

Minimum 000 1050

Maximum 1080 1350

Elementary, Grades 7, 8, 9:

Minimum 600 1150

Maximum 1080 1450

In September, 1918, all teachers receiving $1000 and less in Holyoke were given an increase of $200; all from $1000 to $2000, an increase of $150; over $2000, an increase of $100. In September, 1919, the past month, all teachers received a flat increase of $300.

It may be stated that the maximum amounts mentioned in the Lowell list, are reached only after seven years of service and that many teachers are struggling along after years of service but not yet in sight of the maximum.

The men teachers in the high school, with the exception of the gymnasium, have to climb the seven-year stair in order to secure $1870 per annum, and there they must stop.

Is it any wonder that young men who spend money and valuable time in securing a college education, are unwilling to settle down at any such salary as this?

The special teachers, however, fare even worse. Usually specialists are highly paid, but in the public schools of Lowell, the special teacher of drawing receives from $1080 to $1150; of music, from $1150 to $1610; sewing, from $840 to $1140. Enough has been said to explain why many of our best teachers are leaving Lowell with obvious injury to the schools.

Judging from the wide difference between the minimum and maximum salaries paid to Lowell teachers, the school board appreciates the value of experience; but, if so, it should allow some of our most experienced teachers to go to other cities, where their services are not more liberally rewarded. A reasonable increase would hold them. But apparently the school board does not intend to do anything having "passed the buck" to the municipal council and the teachers themselves.

The question arises as to how long this precarious policy is to continue. Is it to be elected now or to go on until another batch of our best teachers goes out to help fill the 32,000 vacancies reported at the opening of the schools a few weeks ago?

The city of Everett has just voted to give each of its teachers a bonus of $50 and to increase their salaries 25 per cent by January 1 of next year.

Would that be too much for the city of Lowell to do? The teachers do not ask quite so much; but their moderate demand should be granted without further delay in the interest of the schools, the progress of education and the benefit of the entire community.

Save the schools by paying the teachers as they deserve.

The action of the school board in refusing to grant the request of the teachers for another hearing is in line with the policy adopted by Police Commissioner Curtis of Boston when the police of that city sought an increase of pay and some changes in working conditions.

The Lowell teachers are not strikers; but if the school board persists in ignoring their appeal, they will be justified in resorting to more emphatic measures to compel the municipal authorities to give them the same consideration as has been freely accorded to the employees of other city departments.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

With the cost of labor and material so extremely high, the opening of the tuberculosis hospital will involve considerable expense. The building itself cost the city perhaps four times the amount originally intended, and although it is now ready for occupancy, the surrounding grounds require to be laid out with due regard for the possibilities of beautification.

If the city had the funds with which to meet the expense, it might employ a landscape gardener to apply his art in framing a design which, if developed during the next few years, would eventually surround the buildings with attractive shade trees and beautiful lawns. Under present conditions, we presume that this is out of the question. The grounds will be graded roughly and the possibilities of development will be left to future contingencies.

The maintenance of this hospital will be rather expensive as provision must be made for the superintendent and his family, together with a corps of nurses all in the administration building. The salaries of course will reach a considerable amount. In addition the cost of maintaining any considerable number of patients will probably be so great as to astonish some people. At the present time the city pays about $11,000 yearly for patients who have a settlement here, and are treated in institutions in other parts of the state.

It is not likely that any large number of tuberculosis patients will be admitted to this hospital for the next year or two. The board of health must stand ready to use a part of the building for isolation purposes in case of another visitation of influenza. That, it appears, will be the most practicable method of meeting the legal requirement, that every city must have an isolation hospital. It is a mistake to suppose that the new hospital will be open for the general treatment of contagious diseases. That is not its purpose.

The men who prevented the purchase of the Pillsbury site forced the city to accept an alternative that has proved to be a white elephant in point of expense and that may be so also in point of utility.

It will be comforting news when the announcement comes that sugar in sufficient quantities for all will be available this fall and coming winter, as was promised Boston housewives by sugar refiners yesterday. There is one bit of advice offered by refiners and dealers whatever be the situation: Women must not buy more than they need or go from store to store purchasing as much as they can. Consideration of the needs of others must be general in the event of any commodity becoming scarce.

President Wilson put the question of deciding on war the prohibition up to congress and congresses adroitly passed it back to the president, who now passes it over to Secretary Baker. The country is informed definitely that if Secretary Baker declares prohibition has reduced the army to the pre-war basis the president will let it hang on the higher business. But thirty ones may have an opportunity to enjoy "a wee dram or dole" before the doors are closed.

Some clerical gentlemen in Lowell have expressed the desire to make the boxing exhibitions which have been taking place in that city, it is not understood that they charge either the managers or the pugilists with not being on the level, although hundreds of the men who paid their money to see the last fight are inclined to question the honesty of the main bout. Boxing, properly conducted, is a good sport, but when used to fleece the public, it should be stopped.

Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce is authority for the statement that organized labor is losing public confidence because of radical leadership. Even the best friends of labor would regret to see the radicals get a controlling influence over the unions. The result would inevitably be what Secretary Redfield states and there is no telling how far it might throw back the necessary work and success of the unions affected.

In the lynching at Montgomery, Ala., on Sept. 28, one of the two victims shot to death was a returned soldier who had rendered valiant service to his country. Unfortunately not even heroic service to his country will save a negro from the fury of a southern mob, once the charge is made that he assaulted a white woman, whether that charge be true or false. It is a very serious state of affairs and a burning disgrace to the entire nation.

Unless one's belongings can be packed into several suit cases and lugged away on foot, there is a flagrant fallacy in the old saying, "It is cheaper to move than to pay rent." Under present conditions it costs a family very nearly a month's rent to move to a new abode. New York moving vans rent for $10 an hour during dull hours, but the cost jumps to $20 when business is particularly brisk.

Apparently, the more trouble arises in the Balkans or elsewhere to disturb the arrangements to be administered by the League of Nations, the better some of the senators at Washington like it. Anything which interferes with the territorial adjustments made by the peace congress pleases the senators who are lambasting the league and its authors, more particularly, President Wilson.

Just to be fashionable, we imagine, word is sent out from the neighboring city of Lawrence that 14 school children are out on strike as a protest against a school committee order which changed them from one building to another. Blame not the children but the parents.

What is the American delegation in Paris doing these days? Strange that we hear nothing from them either through the press or otherwise. They do not seem to get into the limelight as was the custom in the early stages of the conference.

SEEN AND HEARD

These are the times that try men's souls.

"No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage-ground of truth."

"Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire—conscience."

June hasn't a corner on the rare day market. September butted in a few times and October may follow suit.

Production in the United States and England tied up on account of strikes and Germany working overtime. Isn't this food for thought?

Going home the other evening we came across a smallish lad struggling with a big box that he was taking home for firewood via the up-riding route. We offered to assist him and he smilingly refused. We said the box seemed very large and heavy and we asked him why he refused assistance. Sitting on the box with his little, thin legs crossed he looked squarely at us, and the twinkle in his big brown eyes was good to see. "I don't want any help," he said, "because I don't want to get home too soon." We evidently looked our curiosity and he seemed to enjoy it. "You see," he continued, "there's work to do at home that I don't like and if my brother gets home from work before I get home with the box he'll do it." Can you beat it?

Not in the Wholesale Trade

Anxious Mother—Yes, Mr. Richleigh, the fact is that I have three daughters whom I want to see settled in life. Is this friend of yours a marrying man?

Mr. Richleigh—Not to any great extent. I'm afraid he wouldn't care about taking more than one of them—Fanny Stokes.

Wasn't Old Enough

The doctors were holding a consultation beside the bed of a soldier who was to have an operation.

"I believe," said one of the surgeons softly, "that we should wait and let him get a little stronger before cutting into him."

Before the other surgeon could reply the patient, who had overheard, turned to the nurse with a grin and remarked: "What do they take me for—a cheese?"—Ontario Post.

Alas! for Human Frailty

Speaking of honor: A few years ago, when Colorado was as wet as the great Sahara is not, the city editor of a Denver daily was having no inconsiderable trouble in getting out a newspaper the day following each pay night.

GLAD TO GIVE HER TESTIMONIAL

Finally, in desperation, he issued the following mimeographed letter for distribution to members of the staff:

"Any member of this staff who is found under the influence of liquor, or with any indication of having been drinking during working hours, will be: Fined for the first misdemeanor; suspended for the second; and unconditionally for the third."

These mimeographed letters were placed on the copy boy's desk with instructions to distribute them as soon as the staff appeared for work the next afternoon.

On the following afternoon there was heard a snort from the office of the society editor, and a usually meek little red-haired beauty came dashing out of her room, waving a piece of paper in her hand. "Where's the city editor?" she demanded. "I'll see why I have to be insulted like this."

The assistant city editor tried to calm her. But nothing could do but that she see the city editor himself.

"Well," said the A.C.E., "it can't be done. He was stewed and we had to send him home."

RAIN ABOUT TOWN

The old-time peppery interest in the World Series didn't make itself evident on the first day of the series this year from all indications available in and around Merrimack square. Nor was there as much advance discussion about the series as in previous years.

One of the big factors which is thought to have contributed to this more or less comatose attitude on the part of the fans here in Lowell is the staging of the series out west rather than nearer home. A Lowell fan can hardly be expected to have the same interest in Chicago or Cincinnati that he would in the Braves or Red Sox. The old telephones weren't kept on the jump yesterday as they have been during previous World Series games and at no time did the crowd in Merrimack square threaten to block traffic. But interest may live up as the series progresses. Yesterday's game was a little too one-sided to produce any great excitement at this distance from the scene of action.

I have heard good and bad news relative to that little girl, who attends the New Moody street school in Pawtucketville, and who during the past year has been vaccinated no less than three times. Yes, I have heard that the vaccine this time is becoming effective and that before long the little tot will be wearing a scar on her left arm, a sure sign that she has complied with the regulations of the board of health and the school department. Our little friend, when vaccinated for the third time feared she would have to go to the doctor's another time and have her little arm scratched once more, but not so, for although she was believed to be immune, the last vaccine worked like magic and now there is a "terrible" pain in her arm, while this is being followed by frequent headaches. "I would rather go to the doctor's twice a week than stand this horrible pain," she said, "for it was great sport for me to be vaccinated, every time I went to the doctor's office my father treated me with a banana split. I think I must go again to have the doctor give me something for the pain and pa will come, too."

MRS. OVIDE AUGER

I am most happy to be given the chance of testifying in favor of RED PILLS for pale and weak women, for they were of such help to me during the severe illness I have gone through, and which was all brought on through a chill. I was confined to my bed for three months, suffering from hemorrhages which naturally weakened me considerably. I was brought to the hospital, for my case appeared hopeless. I had often heard of RED PILLS, had read of them and of the numerous cures effected by their use, and so decided to give them a trial. I took them regularly and fifteen boxes were all that were needed to bring me back to health. The different symptoms which had alarmed me so much during my illness gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. Now I am feeling fine in every way, and able to attend to all my household duties, besides bringing up a numerous family.

Lowell's relief organizations have not become somnolent since the signing of the armistice and the advance of local members of the state guard has found the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus and Y.M.C.A. at their old stand, doling out supplies and comforts for the men doing guard duty in the Hub.

CONCERT AND LECTURE

Lowell Moose Hear Eloquent Speakers Discuss Progress of Their Organization

A most enjoyable complimentary concert and lecture was held by Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, at the Colonial theatre on Middlesex street last evening, and a large and enthusiastic audience heard various speakers discuss the progress of their organization, including Hon. Frank J. Monahan, supreme councilman of the Order of Moose at San Francisco, Cal.; Hon. Charles A. A. McGee of California, past supreme dictator; James J. Davis, director general of the order; Dictator David A. Hartnett of the Lowell organization, and Brother Jas. F. Miskella of the local lodge, who acted as chairman of the evening's program. The musical program consisted of selections given by various local entertainers, and proved most acceptable.

Dictator David A. Hartnett made the opening address of welcome to the members and sketched briefly the activities of the local lodge. Brother Miskella was the next speaker, and made a brief address on the topic, "Fraternity."

The principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Frank J. Monahan, was then introduced and devoted considerable of his address to a description of the Mooseheart institution in Illinois. Homes have been erected for aged and widowed members and their children, he said, vocational schools established, and at the present time fully 799 children are cared for there. He also complimented the members on the businesslike appearance of the city and urged them to continue their efficient work in making the local lodge one to feel proud of.

Following the speechmaking several local entertainers offered musical selections, including William Mahoney, Frank P. McCarthy, Daniel F. McCarthy and Com. James E. Donnelly. The O'Reilly Jazz band also went over the top with some pleasing numbers.

BIG DEMAND FOR GOVERNMENT FOOD

In just half of the allotted time the 300,000 pounds of government canned foodstuffs, comprising the third carload to come to Lowell, were gobbled up by local householders last evening. The sale was held at the Red Cross rooms in Market street and was advertised from 5 to 9 o'clock, but so heavy was the demand at the outset that everything practically was sold out at 7 o'clock. Approximately 439 individual sales cleared out the lot.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was on hand when the sale began and remained on the job for an hour or more. For the Red Cross, Miss Julia A. Feve, Mrs. George H. Leahy and M. R. Scott were in charge and they supervised a splendid system of quick sales. The prevailing prices were moderate and somewhat cheaper than in other cities. Tomatoes were 10 cents a can, corn and stringless beans, the same and small sized cans of corn beef, 30 cents.

Long before the hour of 5 a large crowd had gathered outside the Red Cross headquarters and the initial rush was a bit disconcerting, but was soon regulated by the saleswomen. All sorts of vehicles and containers were used to cart away the stuff bought, but nobody seemed to care as long as they were able to get a few cans of their favorite brand.

SALE OF RED CROSS STAMPS

When the United States asked the young men of the country to rally to the national standards during the war, the draft was found to be one of the best medical detectors that could be imagined. Through it the standard of health among the young men of the country was quickly and surely ascertained.

Altogether, out of the nearly 2,000,000 men who were picked by the draft, 600,000 were found to be tuberculous. In these men, enough to make up more than two divisions of soldiers, had to be rejected. They were unfit to take up arms for their country and, in fact, were a danger to their comrades.

Tuberculosis is one of the gravest problems America has to solve today. Its death toll is enormous. Its sick toll is even greater. Every year at least 150,000 die of tuberculosis in the United States. For every death there are eight open tuberculosis cases reported. That means over 1,200,000 persons have the disease.

Tuberculosis can be prevented and it can be cured. That is the burden of the great educational campaign now being waged by the National Tuberculosis association and the 1000 state and local organizations affiliated with it. The rapid growth of tuberculosis in the country, especially with the reaction from the war at hand, means that more extensive educational work is required. It must be forthcoming and such a campaign has been planned.

To obtain funds to teach everyone that tuberculosis can be prevented more than 650,000 Red Cross seals are to be sold just before Christmas.

SERVED CREAM SUPPER

A regular meeting of the members of Centralville lodge, 215, I.O.O.F., was held last evening, the meeting being in the form of a "Get-together" affair. The initiatory degree was conferred on one candidate and plans for degree work for the coming season were discussed. At the close of the business session a steamed clam supper was served and interesting remarks were made by District Deputy Grand Master George W. Hall of Lawrence, former Deputy William H. Robinson, Past Grand Hellett and Faleks of Lawrence and Mayor Thompson of this city.

MAY RAISE PRICE OF MILK HERE

Rumor has it that the price of milk in this city will soon be increased from 16 to 18½ cents a quart in order to conform with the Boston prices. The Boston dealers have announced a raise of a half cent a quart in the price of milk beginning yesterday and, inasmuch as the local producers last month decided to keep up with the Hub prices, it is believed that the consumers will soon be asked to pay 18½ cents a quart instead of 16 cents, the prevailing price. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the New England Producers' association, but no definite action was taken at that time.

PROTEST COMFORT STATION LOCATION

Residents of Summer street protested to the park commission against the proposed location of a comfort station on the Summer street side of the South common at the regular meeting of the commission held last evening at city hall. The protest was heeded and an effort will be made to place the station near the Thorndike street side of the common. The only other business taken up was a report from the superintendent showing where this year's appropriation for trees has been or is to be spent and the granting of a number of petitions for the trimming or removal of trees.

Dodge a cold

Some folks are fortunate enough always to breathe pure air, and never get run down by overwork or exposure. Even these lucky people do not always escape the contagious colds which prevail at certain seasons to such an extent as to be almost epidemic. It is wise to be prepared for troubles of this nature in our climate, and the one all-important thing is to have at hand a safe, efficient and reliable remedy to ward off the trouble and danger of such an attack. For sixty years "L. F." Atwood's Medicine has been a household standby for emergencies of this kind. It starts up the liver and bowels, prevents congestion, and restores the functions to their normal condition. If you have never used it, get a 50 cent bottle from your dealer, or write for a free sample to the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Steels led at the strong opening of today's stock market, gains extending from large fractions to a point, Crude was uncertain, reacting four points under after its slight advance. Tobacco, leather, paper, woolen, sugar and railway shares contributed to the early strength at gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points, but equipment, shipbuilding and rubber issues were irregular. Steels cancelled their gains before the end of the first hour when Crude extended its loss to almost 20 points.

The entire list seemed to be influenced by the erratic course of Crude (Steel) which declined 21 points, soon making up most of its loss, only to fall back again. Reactions elsewhere ranged from one to three points, equipment, motors and oil being most affected. Even tobacco, which was strongest at 1000, was irregular at times. American Woolen and the popular rubber tire shares led the rally of the second hour with Atlantic Coast at gains of 2 to 6 points. Steels shaded again at noon, but equipment strengthened. Call money opened at 6 per cent. During afternoon trading, reactions ran from two to ten points in speculative issues, notably tobacco, which lacked support. Equipment, which easily, steels also making partial recoveries with other standard industrials.

No Dungeon for Dunn

ca, John A. Dunn, 13 of So. Boston, walked, still noncommittal, through the deserted guard room and out of the building—then he disappeared. The police are still searching for him. Dunn and Martin McCourtney, another So. Boston youth, pleaded guilty before Judge Knight yesterday to stealing a lookie register from a Boston bound street car in Billerica, Sept. 29, and were each held in $300 for disposition next Wednesday.

Following the trial both youths were taken down stairs and locked in cells preparatory to removing them to the Lowell jail, both boys having been unable to secure the necessary bail.

Mccourtney, who refused to court to tell the names of his parents, was afterwards taken from his cell for further cross-examination, and after being returned to the keeper, Dunn was taken out and questioned. He was returned to Keeper Barry after the examination, and Barry took the youth back to the cell, turning the lock, which for some unknown reason failed to catch.

When Keeper Barry made his rounds through the cells shortly afterwards he found Mccourtney safely inside, but Dunn was missing. The only explanation he could offer was that the lock must have failed to catch and that Dunn had waited for an opportunity to escape when he was in another part of the station.

The police of all surrounding towns have been notified of Dunn's escape, and it is the belief of the local police that he will soon be apprehended.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Senate today rejected an amendment by Senator Fall to eliminate the United States from membership to determine boundary between Germany and Belgium. The vote, which generally was accepted as a test of the senate's attitude toward more than 30 other committee amendments of similar nature, was 58 to 20.

CONSULTATION ON PRES. WILSON'S CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Despite a fairly good night's rest, President Wilson was not so well this morning and Rear Admiral Grayson has called in consultation Dr. P. X. Dercum, a neurologist of Philadelphia. Dr. Dercum was expected at the White House today.

Admiral Grayson issued the following bulletin at 11 a. m.: "The president had a fairly good night, but his condition is not at all good this morning."

The president's condition is not considered alarming, it was explained at the White House and the decision to call in Dr. Dercum was made as a precautionary measure and to relieve the pressure on Dr. Grayson, who has been with the president almost continuously since he was taken ill a week ago while on a speaking tour. The president was described as extremely restless. Dr. Grayson insists that he remain quiet, and is trying to divert his mind from work and executive matters in which he is desirous of taking a hand. He has been permitted to sign a few bills and attend to some few other routine matters. Dr. Grayson has been in consultation with Rear Admiral J. R. Sitt, head of the naval medical school, and Dr. Dennis of the naval dispensary, but they have not seen the president.

Dr. Grayson expects Dr. George Dr. Schweitzer, an eye specialist of Philadelphia, to visit the president this week.

The president did not take kindly to the idea of calling in a specialist, but finally acquiesced on Dr. Grayson's insistence that he would have to have some assistance.

Noted Specialist PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Dr. F. X. Dercum, who has been summoned to the White House, is regarded as one of the world's foremost specialists on nervous diseases.

He is professor of nervous and mental diseases at Jefferson Medical college and a member of all the leading medical and philosophical societies. He is about 63 years of age.

Ten years ago he was made a member of the Societe de Neurologie of Paris. It is composed of less than 50 of the world's leading specialists in nervous disorders. Only one other American physician was ever taken into this body.

BELIEVE END OF BIG R. R. STRIKE NEAR

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A wave of optimism swept through both official and trade unionist circles today regarding the outcome of the negotiations for an adjustment of the strike, which were resumed this morning.

Premier Lloyd George, at an early hour, discussed the situation with his colleagues, Sir Eric Geddes and Sir Robert Horne, minister of transport and minister of labor, respectively, although he had been at work until the middle of the night.

At the headquarters of the National Union of Railway men, there was extreme activity and the opinion seemed to prevail that the outlook for a settlement was bright.

SECURES DELIVERY OF RIFLES TO RUSSIANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—At the urgent request of the Omsk government, the state department has secured the delivery of the 14,800 rifles held up in Vladivostok by Major General Graves, the American commander, in retaliation for anti-American articles in a Vladivostok newspaper and because of hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east. Diplomatic efforts to persuade the Omsk government to suppress the newspaper or to compel a less hostile attitude toward the United States and the troops under General Graves are being made.

TO STATE PRISON

At the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday, Justice O'Connell on the bench, Nesib Abdallah, who was arrested in this city for breaking and entering a house in the daytime with attempt to commit larceny, was sentenced to not less than two and one-half years and not more than three and one-half years to the state prison. The prisoner will also finish one and one-half years from which he was paroled on a former sentence.

Abdallah's record, according to the bureau of state prisons, is as follows: July 17, 1901, burglary, three and a half years state prison, in Connecticut; Sept. 24, 1901, larceny from building, four to five years, Massachusetts state prison; Nov. 28, 1908, violation of Lord's day, fined $5; April 2, 1910, being present at a game, fined $5; Nov. 24, 1911, larceny from the person, fined $25; April 21, 1915, indicted in Essex superior court on eight counts for breaking and entering in the daytime and two counts for larceny, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state prison for from four to five years. These breaks were made from January, 1915, to April, and were in North Andover, Lawrence and Lynn, in which he was arrested as he attempted to draw a gun on an officer.

SEVEN RESERVATIONS

Proposed by Sen. Smith to Clear up Doubtful or Objectionable Language

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Opposing textual changes necessitating resubmission to Germany, but declaring ratification without reservations to be impossible, Senator Smith, democrat of Georgia, in the senate today proposed seven reservations to the peace treaty, to clear up "doubtful or objectionable language."

While only specifying seven reservations, he said he believed substantial modification should be placed upon the labor provisions, but he withheld suggestions because other senators contemplated proposing a reservation covering that provision.

Senator Smith's first reservation is a substitute for the amendment of Senator Johnson, republican, California, designed to equalize the voting power in both the assembly and supreme council under the League of Nations. The next three are similar to those reported by the senate foreign relations committee affecting the right to withdraw from the league, the Monroe Doctrine, and reserving the right of this country to control its own internal affairs.

The fifth reservation covers Article 10. Senator Smith said the United States could not assume, under Article 10 or any other article, obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country or in case of controversy between other nations to engage in economic boycotts. The reservation further provides that mandates cannot be accepted for this country without the approval of congress.

As new reservations, Senator Smith proposed that the reparations commission could not interfere with commerce between the United States and Germany except with this country's consent and that all persons filling positions created by the treaty must be appointed by the president with the senate's consent. Amendments to the league covenant also would be ratified by the senate.

British Cabinet Ministers Optimistic Over Prospect of Settlement

Leaders of Other Unions Seek to Find Way to Bring Strike to an End

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Cabinet ministers were optimistic today over the prospect of a settlement of the railroad strike, according to the political correspondent of the Daily Mail.

He says they declared the government would not recede from its determination not to resume negotiations unless the men first resumed work, yet J. H. Thomas, leader of the National Union of Railwaymen went to Downing street knowing of this condition. Leaders of the Transport Workers' union and other labor organizations are endeavoring to find a way to bring the railwaymen back and have refrained from any threat to extend the strike as a result of yesterday's conference. This it is said, is due to the fact that leaders of the National Union of Italywomen are trying to obtain from the government an outline relative to subsequent wage negotiations which they can lay before the men as a reason for ordering them back to their jobs.

Confer With Premier
At 12:30 o'clock a labor deputation began a conference with Premier Lloyd George and other of the cabinet ministers. No railroad men were members of the deputation.

Notices were posted at important railroad centers yesterday, according to the Mail stating that wages due strikers for their last week's work would not be paid because the men quit their posts without notice.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Alleviate Completely Rashes All Rheumatic Aches and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Maximized this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless suffering that to be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called wonderful success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dr. Dove has been appointed agent for Lowell in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

MISS ALBERT GETS SILVER TEA SET
About 50 young women and some 25 young men, all friends of Miss Maria Albert, daughter of Undertaker Joseph Albert, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Tremblay in Chelsea last evening and tendered Miss Albert a surprise in the form of the presentation of a handsome silver tea set on the occasion of her coming marriage with Mr. Edward P. Lynch, the well known mail carrier and veteran of the world war. When Miss Corinne Horoux in behalf of those present delivered the presentation address Miss Albert was taken off her feet, so to speak, but soon "came to" and responded in a most pleasing manner.

In the course of the evening a very pleasing musical program was given and a buffet luncheon was served, while games were played. It was stated this morning that the affair was to be exclusively for members of the fair sex, but when the five limousines filled with the young women left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elie Deltile, in Merrimack street early in the evening, there were four other machines filled with bachelors, what followed and of course they were given a cordial reception.

The installation of the newly elected officers took place this afternoon and considerable business concerning the order was transacted. An invitation was received to attend lodge meetings in Lawrence this evening and at the close of the business session this afternoon the delegates visited in a body the plant of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co. in Western avenue. This evening the delegates will be entertained at a theatre party at the D. F. Keith theatre.

The most important item of business of yesterday's session was the election of officers which resulted as follows:

the total, who are actually engaged in promoting the strike.

Chairman Kenyon read principles of the war labor board promulgated during the war, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining to employees and asked if Judge Gary endorsed that.

"If you mean what the labor unions call collective bargaining, no," Judge Gary responded. "If you mean organization of plant committees to present grievances, yes."

"I'd like to know what the difference is between you and the labor unions," said Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"Unions are endeavoring to compel employers to contract with them," Judge Gary answered, "and when that is done, non-union men cannot be employed."

Questioned by Senator Walsh

"What good is it for men to belong to unions," said Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, "if when they join you refuse to discuss anything with their representatives?"

"Is it right," Judge Gary countered, "for 10 per cent of men who may belong to unions to dictate conditions for the other 90 per cent?"

"But your position is the same," Senator Walsh continued, "even if 90 per cent of the men were organized, you would not confer with their representatives."

"I haven't said so," Judge Gary replied. "That question has not come up."

"Let's settle this point right here," Senator Walsh broke in. "Will you confer with any representative of organized labor today, to help settle this strike?"

Refuses to Meet Union Heads

"I will not," Judge Gary returned.

"If you were convinced that 50 per cent of your men were organized and represented, would you confer with them?" asked Senator Walsh.

"No," said Mr. Gary. "I'm sorry if I differ with you, or with others."

"I'm sorry for hundreds of thousands of suffering families," Senator Walsh retorted.

Mr. Gary protested that his position had not been fairly explained and added, with careful choice of words: "We put ourselves squarely upon the issue that this is a question of the open or closed shop. Now as to what will bring about the closed shop, we must decide from time to time, depending upon the facts presented."

"At the present time the union leaders have brought about this strike which is no more nor less than an attempt of a minority to secure control of the interests of the large majority including not only the employers, but the employees."

"That's what you say; they say they represent a majority," Senator Walsh interrupted. "Is there any reason why we should not leave that to arbitration?"

Refuses to Answer "Yes" or "No"

Judge Gary protested that he had not been allowed to complete his statement, but Senator Walsh broke in: "I want to know, yes or no, whether you will see any representatives of organized labor. Please answer that yes or no."

"With all due respect," said Judge Gary, with flushed face, "I cannot answer yes or no."

"If the minority could succeed in securing control," continued the witness, "that would bring about the closed shop. Therefore, at this particular time, the circumstances are different."

DANCE TONIGHT AT ASSOCIATE HALL

At a meeting of the women of the South End district in St. Peter's school hall last night, further plans for the welcome home celebration were discussed, particularly in connection with the dance to be given tonight in Associate hall. This is one of the first dances of the fall season and should attract a capacity crowd. Mier-

Doyle's and Markham's orchestras will clash (not discordantly) in a battle of music and the dance tunes will be irresistible.

Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon presided over last night's meeting. Manager Schenke of the Lowell Opera House spoke in relation to South End day to be observed at the theatre next Monday, when half of the receipts of the matinee and evening performances will be donated to the general fund for the celebration. Tickets are going fast for this date. Commissioner Jas. E. Donnelly also spoke to the women.

Miss Mollie Roane, treasurer of the women's auxiliary, gave the final report of the tag day, which showed that a net sum of $651 was realized.

than ever existed before in this country. I doubt if you realize the danger of the minority securing control."

"I appreciate that," Senator Walsh rejoined, "but I also appreciate the danger of employers refusing to see their workmen."

Only Refused to Meet Outsiders

"I haven't," Judge Gary protested vigorously. "I have refused only to meet outsiders who are trying to organize the steel industry."

"If the union leaders should disclaim any intention to establish what you call the closed shop, would you discuss the situation with them now?" asked Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"If they should make such a disclaimer, in good faith even it would not satisfy me," Judge Gary said.

"because I know that leaders who promised that would be shortly displaced, and their positions taken over by men who would continue progress toward the closed shop. I can't discuss the situation from the viewpoint which members of this committee take. I can't talk about arbitration or compromise at this time."

Public Viciously Interested

"Representatives of labor have said the open shop is not an issue here," Senator Jones said. "The public is vitally interested. If your policy is to refuse to accept any compromise, we might as well quit now."

Asked for his views regarding possible legislation on the general question of corporation control, the witness suggested a federal commission to charter and regulate corporations with the commission's action subject to final review by the federal courts.

"I recognize," he said, "that the power of concentrated capital necessarily involves the power to do more or less harm. I recognize the fact, personally, that concentrated capital has the advantage over the single individual if concentrated capital is in the hands of dishonest or unfair men."

"Therefore, I think, concentrated capital should be under control and supervision against wrong."

Control Capital and Labor

"I think at the same time that capital is subjected to supervision and control that concentrated labor also should be subjected to control of the government and of the law."

Senator Walsh asked if Mr. Gary would agree that capital and labor both had made mistakes, and when Mr. Gary answered affirmatively, Senator Walsh asked: "Then isn't that a reason for arbitration?"

"That depends on the circumstances," Mr. Gary replied, amid laughter of the audience.

American Intervention at Trau Prevented Bloodshed and Possibly War

ADMIRAL KNAPP MAKES REPORT

War Between Italy and Jugoslavia Near When Americans Acted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Intervention by the American naval forces at Trau, Dalmatia, prevented bloodshed which would have resulted in a state of actual war between Italy and Jugoslavia, according to a report from Admiral Knapp, commanding American naval forces in European waters, transmitted to the senate today by Secretary Daniels.

American sailors were not landed, Admiral Knapp said, until American and Italian officers who had been sent to Trau had induced the Italian rulers to withdraw after they had surprised and captured the small Serbian garrison. One Italian officer and three men were left behind and the American bluejackets were sent ashore to protect them and police the town until Serbian troops could arrive.

The Americans acted, Admiral Knapp continued, at the request of the Italian admiral in command on the Dalmatian coast and the force was withdrawn immediately after the Serbians arrived and took charge. Meantime the commander of the Italian cruiser was ordered to trial by court martial by the Italian admiral.

The Italian admiral thanked the American commander for sending forces to Trau, Admiral Knapp said.

Discipline is Law
FIUME, Tuesday, Sept. 30.—Discipline among Italian regular soldiers is low along the armistice line and their officers have little control over them in enforcing the blockade of Fiume. As a result of this, the Italian army is being constantly reinforced by deserters, whole companies and battalions marching into Fiume.

Carabinieri still maintain some discipline, but they are virtually the only force upon which the government can depend. Out of this force, however, 100 deserters have gone over to the d'Annunzio ranks.

Italian Warship With U. S. Officers Aboard Shot At

ROME, Oct. 2.—The Italian steamer Epiro with 200 Italian troops and some American officers on board, bound for Cattaro, is declared in a despatch from Bari to the Tempo to have been shot at by Jugoslav regular troops in the channel between Roudoni island and the Arsa promontory. One Italian was wounded. The Epiro, the despatch adds, made off at full speed and escaped further attack.

U. S. MAY HALT AIDING ALLIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Plans are being considered, it became known here today, to apply strong American pressure over the Adriatic question as well as in other cases where trouble has arisen jeopardizing the authority of the supreme council and threatening to set at naught its decisions founded upon powers conferred by the armistice and the peace treaty.

Unless the Adriatic question is settled satisfactorily within a few days, and unless the council's decisions are carried out, the American government may consider the advisability of withdrawing for the present at least any further financial or other material assistance to the other powers.

To allow Italy's claim to Fiume solely on the basis of its forcible occupation by d'Annunzio's irregular troops in the opinion of members of the supreme council in Paris, would involve recognition by the entente of Rumania's claims in Hungary, Greece's claim to large portions of Turkey and even possibly Germany's claim to rich portions of western Russia. It is felt that admission by the council of the right of any nation to seize territory regardless of pledges to refrain from aggression, would be regarded as tantamount to an abandonment of the basic principles upon which the peace conference was assembled and as threatening a permanent peace.

Recent advices from Europe are regarded as indicating that some of the entente governments themselves or their representatives have not fully sustained the council in decisions in which they participated.

Three Classes of Workers
Judge Gary analyzed steel strikers as belonging to three classes. First, there are the Americans, he said, then a large number of foreign-born workers, and finally a small minority of foreigners not over 15 per cent of the total.

GREAT WELCOME FOR KING ALBERT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium landed in Hoboken at seven minutes after 12 today.

The Belgian national anthem, played by a military band, greeted the royal party as it descended the gangplank at Hoboken. The king, followed by the queen, Prince Leopold and the king's staff, halted and stood at attention until the piece was concluded. Then Vice President Marshall stepped forward and officially welcomed the king and queen to the United States, greeting the monarch as the "ruler of the bravest nation in the world."

"No man was ever more welcome here," he said.

The king delivered his response in a low voice, speaking so quietly that his words could scarcely be heard 10 feet away. Then the government's committee of welcome was presented to him, after which he stepped to one side to chat with the vice president.

Inquiries for President

The first thing the king asked Mr. Marshall was concerning the health of President Wilson.

The king wore his uniform of a general in the Belgian artillery. Prince Leopold was also in uniform.

Responding to the welcome extended to him by Vice President Marshall, the king expressed great regret at the state of President Wilson's health and sincerely hoped for his complete recovery, adding that the president was very precious. The king and queen regarded the trip as a distinct step in their lives, he said, and were happy to make this journey to express their gratitude and the gratitude of the Belgian people to the people of the United States. They hoped to get many valuable ideas and learn many lessons from the great people of the United States, he declared.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Albert, king of the Belgians, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold, who came to America to personally express their gratitude for the aid extended by a generous nation to their martyred country, received a noisy welcome to New York, when aroused at dawn by the firing of salutes as the transport George Washington steamed past the outer harbor fortifications. It was a truly American welcome, such as has greeted returning heroes from France since the

Accused of unlawfully inducing two young girls to absent themselves from school—the first case of its kind to be tried in Lowell police court—two young local men, Antonio Larose and Michael Moran, were found guilty by Judge Baright in police court today and fined $10 each.

Both girls, who are 12 years old, are pupils at the Green school on Merrimack street, but only one was present to testify at this morning's session. She said that she and her chum were on their way to school on the afternoon of September 25, when they met the two young men.

The youths invited them to "come to the movies" but they refused. The defendants insisted that they should accompany them, she said, and they finally agreed to do so.

So all four went to the movies and were found there later in the day by Patrolman Hamilton and Miss Elizabeth.

WOULD CUT OFF AID TO RUSSIA

OMSK, Tuesday, Sept. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Major General William S. Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, in retaliation for scurrilous articles published in a Vladivostok newspaper and hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east, has held up shipment of 11,000 rifles which recently arrived at Vladivostok from America consigned to the All-Russian government at Omsk.

Giving notice of his action by telegraph through Major Slaughter, his representative here, General Graves declared he will personally cause the arrest of the offending editor and the suppression of the newspaper—the Golos Rossi—unless the Omsk government does REDLAND FIELD, CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The weather for today's world series game was as perfect as that of yesterday. The sun was out, while the thermometer registered 80 degrees at noon.

Statements from Manager Moran, of the Reds, and Manager Gleason, of the White Sox, indicated that the winning of the first game had made the home team more confident, while it had the effect of making the losers even more determined to regain the ground lost. Accordingly, Gleason said that he would pitch Claude Williams, his star left hander. Moran announced that "Slim" Haller would be on the mound.

The winning of yesterday's game had one noticeable effect on the Cincinnati fans. The railroad offices were crowded all of last night by local baseball enthusiasts eager to get accommodations to Chicago to witness the games to be played there Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Betting Shifts to Even Money

That yesterday's game upset predictions was indicated by the fluctuation of the betting odds, even money on the Reds finding few takers and here and there odds being demanded by those who still believe the Sox will ultimately prove the victor.

The White Sox players promised Manager Gleason faithfully that they would see that the tables were turned at today's game. "There is no gaining the fact that the Reds outplayed the visitors in every department of the game yesterday, but those who have watched Comiskey's aggregation in their permanent fight maintained that the team would show their true form now."

To Break Financial Records

The series is expected to break all records relative to the amount of money taken in at the gates. The first day's receipts were more than $21,000 in excess of the high record of the first day's receipts when the Philadelphia Athletics played at New York in 1911. At that time $77,350 was taken in at the gate, while yesterday $85,175 was the gross returns and this did not include the war tax.

Wait 14 Hours For Tickets

Every available seat and every available space was sold yesterday. A crowd of equal proportions was expected today.

The usual midnight attendance at the bleacher gate, prepared to wait 14 hours in order to get the best seats that the bleachers and pavilion afforded, was in evidence again. Toward morning the crowd became even larger than that of yesterday.

The local forecaster's prediction for today was cloudy and warm.

Clarence Rowland is convinced that Cicotte will come back and beat the Reds before the series ends.

Newspapermen will leave for Chicago tonight on a special train at 11:20 p. m., accommodations having been made for 400 writers.

Cincinnati fans celebrated the first victory of the Reds in a riotous manner. Impromptu parades were staged in downtown streets and hotel lobbies. A little German band furnished the music for one parade, while Scotch bagpipers headed another procession. The celebrations continued until long after midnight.

Fred Mitchell said he never saw further pitch a better game of ball.

Eddie Cicotte today expressed confidence in his ability to come back. He declared that he was completely unharmed when he hit Rath, the first man up in the game yesterday and lost all control of the ball in the fourth inning.

Cicotte's Aids

"It is hard to explain," he said, "but I was in no condition to pitch the game that I had expected. I felt perfectly confident before the game started and appeared to have everything when I was warming up, but when I hit Rath, it seemed to have a strange effect on me. I felt so badly about it that I trotted with him along the first base line to see if the ball had hurt him. When he assured me that he was all right, I went back to the pitching mound but I did not seem to be 'right'."

Supporters of the Sox believe that Gleason will send Cicotte in to oppose the Reds Friday or Saturday.

First Inning

First half: J. Collins out, Sallee to Daubert. Eddie Collins walked. Weaver line flied to Kopf, who doubled Eddie Collins at first on a throw to Daubert. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second half: Rath was the first Cincinnati batter to face Williams. Rath sent a high fly to short center, Felsch making the catch. Daubert out, Risberg to Gandil. It was a bouncer that Risberg got in front of second. Groh flied to J. Collins. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

First half: Jackson up. Jackson doubled to center, Roush missing the catch by a few inches. Felsch sacrificed, Sallee to Daubert, Jackson going to third. It was a beautiful bunt. Gandil up. Gandil was thrown out. Kopf to Daubert, Jackson holding third. Risberg up. Risberg flied to Neale. No runs, one hit, no errors.

The crowd cheered Sallee for pitching himself out of a hole.

Second half: Williams temporarily lost control and walked Roush. Then came Duncan. Duncan lined to Eddie Collins who doubled Roush at first on his throw to Gandil. Kopf up. Kopf flied to Felsch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning

Schalk line flied to Roush. The latter got it in left center. Williams singled to left. It was a line drive that came to Duncan on the first bounce. J. Collins flied to Duncan. It was a long hit to deep left. Eddie Collins up. Daubert took Collins' bouncer and retired him unassisted. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second half: Neale fanned. Rariden flied to Jackson. It was a high one and Joe was slightly troubled with the sun. Sallee sent a high infield fly to Weaver. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning

First half: Weaver singled to center. Jackson singled to left and by fast fielding, Duncan held Weaver at second. Felsch up. He sacrificed, Sallee to Rath. Weaver on third and Jackson on second. Gandil up. Gandil drove to Daubert, who caught Weaver at the plate on a quick throw to Rariden. Jackson went to third and Gandil to first on the play. Risberg up. Gandil stole second, Rariden making no attempt to catch him. Risberg flied to Daubert. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Second half: Rath walked and the crowd began to cheer. Daubert attempted to sacrifice, but the ball went foul. Daubert sacrificed, Williams to

LIFT BAN ON TOURISTS VISITING EUROPE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The ban on tourists visiting Europe—with the exception of the British Isles—which has been in force since 1916, was officially removed yesterday by the United States, and now the only thing needed to view the battlefields of France is the price.

As a result of the lifting of the bars, passport clerks in the office of Clerk Allen of the federal district court put in a busy day filling out the applications of prospective voyagers. No one on pleasure bent can yet visit Great Britain. The reason for this is not known here, but it is believed that the present labor troubles there have a good deal to do with the attitude of British officials.

According to instructions received from Secretary of State Lansing, tourists' applications for passports may be accepted from those wishing to go to France, Belgium, Italy, Portugal and parts of Africa. The present unsettled conditions in the Balkans prevents tourists from going there, and they are also unable to go to Switzerland. It is assumed here that the food question is the determining factor in keeping travelers for the present out of the mountain republic.

Secretary Lansing warns tourists to be sure and secure from steamship companies before leaving the United States assurances that they will be able to obtain accommodations for the homeward journey and prevent the possibility of becoming stranded in Europe later. It is understood that large parties in charge of tourist agencies are planning to sail on sight-seeing tours with a few weeks.

SHOT FIRED AND EGGS THROWN

Ardmore, Okla., Crowd Refuses to Hear Sen. Reed Attack Treaty and League Lights Put Out and Shower of Eggs Hurlled at Those on Stage

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 2.—Whether an official investigation should be made of a demonstration here last night during which eggs were thrown at United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, when he attempted to deliver an address in opposition to the peace treaty and the League of Nations, was the subject of considerable discussion today. Although several officials declared that an investigation should be made and those guilty of participation punished, they pointed out that as the egg throwing took place after the light wires had been cut and the building was in darkness, it would be virtually impossible to identify the persons who took part. Senator Reed left Ardmore late last night for the west without commenting on the demonstration. The demonstration followed a mass meeting Tuesday at which resolutions were adopted censuring the senator for his opposition to the League of Nations covenants and urging that he cancel his speaking engagements. Mayor Freeman was in the midst of an explanation that he was introducing the speaker because he was mayor of the city and not because he supported the views of those opposed to the league covenant, when the lights went out and volleys of eggs hurtled through the air toward the stage. When the lights were restored it was found that virtually none of those on the stage, including the senator, the mayor and members of the reception committee had escaped the effects of the eggs. Later officials attempted to continue the program, but the crowd refused to listen. Efforts by Senator Reed to deliver his address were met by jeers, hisses, catcalls and cheers for President Wilson. Finally the meeting was abandoned and Senator Reed was driven to his hotel. One shot was fired in the course of the trouble. As many as 40,000,000 germs have been found in one cubic centimeter (about .06 of a cubic inch) of milk.

TWO JAILED IN MURDER CASE

N.E.A. Special to The Sun. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. — Psychic sleuthing has placed a man and a woman behind the bars, charged with murder. Robin J. Cooper, wealthy clubman and politician, was found slain on the outskirts of this city last June. His body was pierced by a bullet. After local detectives had about given up their search for clues and the Cooper slaying was being regarded as a crime problem never to be solved, Gabriel Hansen, psychic student of crime, came to this city and declared that he knew all the particulars of Cooper's fate. He obtained a hearing from the police after he had confronted them with tangible evidence to support his spiritualistic visions. Dennis E. Metcalf, gardener, and Nora Lea Jones, a colored cook, employed in the Cooper home, are under arrest on evidence brought forward by Hansen. Metcalf is charged with the actual killing and the negro is held as an accessory before the fact. Hansen, whose home is in Memphis, came to Nashville bearing letters of recommendation from high officials who related some of his feats in psychic crime-solving. He announced that he was determined to bring Cooper's slayer to justice and that he knew all about the crime. Before he went near the Cooper home he gave a minute description of the premises, including the garage in which he says the crime was committed. "Cooper was seated in his automobile when he was killed," says Hansen. "The person who killed him sat in the tonneau, and dragged the body back, then drove away, with the dead man huddled on the floor of the car. "The body was laid on the river bank and was carried away by a freshet the next day." Mrs. Anna W. Littleton, a spiritualist, upholds Hansen. She was informed by a vision, she asserts, that Hansen could solve the mystery of Cooper's death. To support Hansen's theory, the following evidence will be presented to the grand jury: Shortly after the crime, Metcalf rented a room. In this room has been found a pair of overalls marked by blood stains, also a pillow slip marked with the letter "C," a pistol and letters from Metcalf's wife in Chicago warning him to "be careful—our letters are being opened." Said he Couldn't Drive Metcalf, when first questioned, said that he could not drive an automobile. It has since been learned that he attended a school for chauffeurs. Both Metcalf and the colored cook stoutly protested their innocence.

They have informed detectives that the Cooper home, in the absence of Mrs. Cooper, was the scene of all night revels in which much whiskey was consumed by Robin Cooper's guests. Hansen is slender, of middle height, with piercing gray eyes and heavy eyebrows and mustache. Among the achievements in criminology credited to him is leading the police to the hiding place of a negro who killed Antoinette Rappell, a white girl, in Memphis.

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute Relief From All Pain and Suffering. Hides Never Fails. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case. Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy. The discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where by its soothing, healing, antiseptic action, it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever. It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments. Really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2313 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says: "I gladly recommend Miro Pile Remedy for Piles. There is no rival to it. I suffered for 18 years and tried everything that was recommended. I doctored for years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it." All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever. IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, in receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50. War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c. War Tax 5c. extra. GIRLS BUYING POISON

Women Killing Themselves Rather Than Fall Into Hands of Bolsheviks

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1. (By the Associated Press).—Chemist shops at Archangel, are openly selling poison to many young women who are buying it with the expressed intention of killing themselves rather than fall into the hands of the Bolsheviks, according to an American officer who has just arrived from northern Russia. While several shipments of Bolsheviks have been deported from Archangel by entente powers the majority of the anti-Bolshevik population refuse to leave, saying it is impossible to go penniless into a strange country. These people must take their chances in Archangel under Bolshevik domination, which appears inevitable as soon as British forces leave.

BOLSHEVIKI DOCTRINES ROUNDLY DENOUNCED

Declaring that even as oil and water, Bolshevism and Americanism cannot mix, for the one lives only through the destruction of the other, Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, punched holes in every heard-of Bolshevik doctrine while speaking at the first Baptist church last evening. Members of the Round Table and of the Baraca class heard his virile address. He compared the platform of rights of the state of Massachusetts and of the former wanting in every respect. He spoke primarily with the object of offering some means of solving the problem of unrest which is evident throughout the country today in the relations of capital and labor. He said that it is his belief the most important thing in the fight against disorder is the attitude of the people. He branded as fallacious the idea that labor disturbances are necessary and said that most of the problems now vexing communities might be solved if thinking groups and organizations of men correct their wrong views. He declared that many more good men and women—good Americans

DEMobilization OF WELFARE ORGANIZATIONS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2.—The final demobilization of the several civilian organizations that were engaged in welfare work with the army during the war, is announced in a letter from Secretary of War Baker to Col. Harry Cutler of this city, national chairman of the Jewish welfare board. Recently at a conference with Secretary Baker, Col. Cutler suggested the demobilization of these organizations and the taking over of the work by the regular army at as early a date as possible, and the announcement is now made that this is to be done at once. In his communication Secretary Baker says: "In order that the example set by the various civilian agencies are becoming imbued with the teachings of Bolshevism than most persons realize and he favored the deportation of foreigners who foment trouble. Touching on the present attitude of labor and the sweep of strikes which has engulfed the country, Mr. Mulready cited the attitude of an employer he talked with. This man advocated standing his workers up before a firing squad. The speaker then pointed out that such a course would kill the laborers, but an idea has never yet been shot dead. A conference between Secretary Baker and representatives of the several welfare organizations is scheduled at Washington on Saturday.

CONG. TINKHAM ASKS SUGAR PROBE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—The house yesterday passed a resolution introduced by Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Boston directing the federal trade commission to make an investigation of sugar supplies and prices.

A similar measure introduced by Senator New of Indiana has been adopted by the senate. The Tinkham resolution directs the trade commission to investigate both wholesale and retail prices and pass upon the reasonableness of said prices.

It further asks for a report on the quantities of sugar, both raw and refined, held by dealers in this country and in the island possessions of the United States and the causes of the present sugar shortage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

H. P. KETTER'S THEATRE

Comedy that convulses is the leader at the H. P. Ketter's theatre, this week, and James C. Morton, with three sprightly members of his family, furnish a goodly slice of it. Morton puts forward a travesty, one of the kind that holds everything. Audiences struck with delight at the funny things Morton does. Pietro, the king of piano accordionists, is another member of the bill who gathers much applause and Nelly & Houghton have a needed-by-the-theatre. Other turns: Miss Millan & Snow in a comedy; Orville Starns, physical culturist; Boothby & Everdeen in a travesty and Roy & Arthur in a juggling oddity.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Marguerite Fields, the leading woman of the Lowell Playhouse, struts about the stage in her bare feet this week in the farce comedy, "Fair and Warmer." And besides John McLean, the leading man, appears in his Alice blue pajamas and Victory bath robe. Despite their unassuming attire, both are immensely entertaining, and treat the characters assigned to them in wonderfully good style. You'll like them and the rest of the cast. Carefully auditions at all performances thus far. Order your tickets well in advance.

Next week, America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be given. This play will offer John McLean his biggest dramatic part to date. On Monday the management will make it "South End Day" and 50 per cent. of the day's receipts are to be turned over to the South End fund. Messrs. Buckley and Seabake want to help the celebration and this is their method. It's a corker, a good amount is most encouraging. Special features in addition to the play itself, will be given on this day.

THE STRAND

One of the notable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy!" Albert Capellani's "Amusical" comedy, featuring June Carver and Creighton starring June Carver and Creighton, which is to be shown for the first time locally at The Strand today, will be the appearance of a boy, of beautiful physique, who will be the center of the various Broadway cabarets and musical comedy shows. The aggregation of girls represents four different well-known cabarets and the current Broadway musical comedy hits, including "Tuneful In," "Good Morning Judge" and "Listen Lester" and consists of 16 hand-picked beauties selected with discrimination. They would do credit to Florenz Ziegfeld. The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture and although heretofore they were they report themselves in lively fashion and make good use of their training in the gentle art of "jazz" dancing. It looks as if our local peep shows are to be very much entertained during the three-days' run.

The story of "Broken Commandments" the new William Fox picture, is to be shown today, tomorrow and Saturday, presents the novel idea of a man throwing dice three times for the possession of a girl—and finally throwing the loaded dice in order to lose, because he realizes this will be for her good. It is said to be a tremendously forceful story of three human hearts—a new phase of old triangle—love and hate, and are soothed at last by the consecrating oil of self-sacrifice. In the hands of Gladys Brockwell and an unusually good cast, including William Scott and Thomas Santschi, this play promises to be one of the strongest that has come to The Strand in many months.

A new comedy weekly together with new song hits will also help make the program one of exceptional merit. See it.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" AT MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"Tomorrow and Saturday will mark the end of the run of George Leane Tucker's superb photoplay, "The Miracle Man," which has caused more sincere praise among the lovers of worth-while photoplays than any picture which has been shown in Lowell for many months. Business at the Merrimack Square has been phenomenal during the entire week, and "The Miracle Man" here has recaptured its wonderful success in New York, Boston, Chicago and other climaxes raise the cry that motion pictures are mediocre and untrue to life, all that can be said to "see The Miracle Man." Its wonderful human appeal is irresistible.

Virginia Tracy, noted critic of the New York Tribune said: "At 'The Miracle Man' the whole house raved with us in satisfaction, deeply and most pathetically content in having taken its money's worth through its heart. It is the solid answer to those people who say that the picture is a 'really better picture'."

W. A. Johnson in the Motion Picture News said: "The unbeliever I refer to was swept off his feet by 'The Miracle Man' but the significant thing he kept repeating was this: 'Yes, it is an art.'"

All Alaskan cities have their own schools, and in addition there are 65 schools for natives, under the jurisdiction of the bureau of education of the interior department.

ALBANIAN DELEGATES ARE DISCOURAGED

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Albanian delegates profess to be greatly discouraged since receiving information that President Wilson has agreed in principle to the proposition of giving Italy a mandate over their country, in connection with the settlement of the entire Dalmatian-Adriatic problem.

The delegates say that Italian control might easily lead to another Balkan war at any time, and constant friction would be inevitable. Red Cross officers who have just arrived in Paris from Albania, say natives of that country are sniping at Italians and showing resentment at Italian control.

LADY BEATTY
WIFE OF VICE ADMIRAL SIR DAVID BEATTY PLANS AID FOR ENGLISH WOMEN

LONDON, October.—Lady Beatty, wife of Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the Grand Fleet of Great Britain, has just begun a campaign to raise a fund of $1,700,000 for the building of a maternity home for the wives of British sailors.

Lady Beatty is an American girl. Before her marriage to the admiral in 1901 she was Ethel Field, only daughter of America's merchant prince, Marshall Field, Sr., of Chicago.

Sir David and Lady Beatty have two sons and a daughter at home in London and a country place at Brooksbury Hall, Leicester.

During the war Lady Beatty interested herself in the welfare of the families of the men in the British fleet, an interest which has culminated in her campaign for the huge fund for a maternity home.

ENDORSE DOUBLE PLATOON
The double platoon system for the local fire department was endorsed last evening by the Beavers, Stationary Engineers and Carpenters' unions at their regular meetings. It is understood that the project, which has been endorsed by the Trades and Labor council, will be brought to the attention of all local unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

LOWELL TELEPHONE GIRLS HONORED

Five Lowell girls, three of them former operators and two still in the employ of the Telephone company, were among the 15 operators of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. who yesterday were officially honored by their company in Boston. The local young women were Miss Nellie Snow who was one of four to receive a citation from General Pershing for gallant service rendered in France; Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Eugenie Ruellet, both of whom were with the A.E.F. with Miss Snow, and Miss Olive Oatman and Miss Gingsas, who trained for army service but lost the opportunity to go across when the armistice came.

In appreciation of their patriotic services, both abroad and at home, the company yesterday, after weeks of preparation, provided an all-day celebration for the girls. In the morning they were received at the company's headquarters and in the afternoon were tendered a theatre party and a banquet at the Copley Plaza at night.

GRAND CARNIVAL PLANS COMPLETE

As the crowning feature of the week of publicity being conducted by the Community Service Club for girls, the plans are complete for the rollicking carnival of mirth to be held in the club rooms in the Rutens building tomorrow evening.

Everything is free. All girls over 17 years of age are cordially invited to attend. A happy smile is the admission pass. The main assembly hall will be transformed into a fantastic avenue of concessions and features. In addition to the booths in which one may run the gamut of things unusual and unseen, special numbers, such as the Lowell Folies, the Prancing Pygmies and a penny arcade will have prominent positions on the program.

The week of publicity during the first four days has been productive of many new members and a splendid revival of interest. The fall and winter programs of activities have appealed to a great many girls and the special classes are nearly filled. In fact the demand for registration in millinery and dressmaking classes has been so great that two full classes in each already have been formed. The original plans called for one class in each branch of handwork.

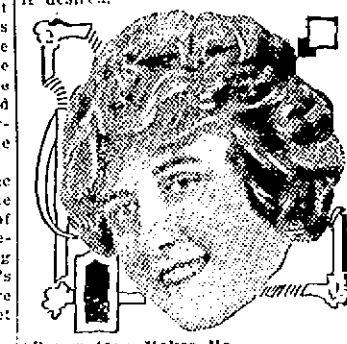

C. Y. M. L. CONCERT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Members of the C.Y.M.L. have practically completed their plans for the concert which they will present at the Lowell Opera House next Sunday evening at 8.15. Miss Lily Meagher, the soprano soloist, will give a program combining operatic and sacred selections with popular Irish folk songs that have been made so popular in the last few years. Mr. Winston Wilkinson, violinist, will entertain with several selections, and Mr. Edwin Schneider will accompany at the piano. Mr. Schneider and Mr. Wilkinson are the accompanists of Mr. John McCormack this season.

The members of the club at a meeting this week reported a large advance sale of tickets, and indications point to one of the largest attendances that a concert ever drew in this city. The popularity of this organization has been attested by the spirit in which the people have responded to help them in their first entertainment since their war activities ceased. Tickets are now on sale at the Lowell Opera house, and the management reports that but a few reserved seats remain unclaimed.

Federal Officers Make Haul in Cellars

ENGLISHTOWN, N. J., Oct. 2.—Two moonshine stills concealed in the cellars of farmhouses six miles from the center of this town were raided by federal agents today. Three persons were arrested charged with the illegal manufacture of whiskey. Two stills, 15 barrels of mash and a large quantity of sugar and other materials were seized.

FIND BODIES OF ARMY MEN BURIED ON BEACH

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 2.—The bodies of two men dressed in army uniforms and with insignia of the aviation corps in their pockets, found buried on the beach of the Bay of Los Angeles, Lower California, about 300 miles south of San Diego, are believed to be those of Lieut. Frederick B. Waterhouse and Cecil H. Connolly, according to a report made to military authorities today by Joe Allen Richards of Chicago, on his arrival from Guatmas, Mex.

Lieut. Waterhouse and Connolly disappeared six weeks ago while on border patrol duty between Yuma, Ariz., and San Diego. According to Richards, the bodies were found by himself and William Rose, Sept. 23. In the pockets were insignia of the aviation corps and jewelry which Richards and Rose took as a means of identification. Richards said the Mexican authorities at Santa Rosalia took the jewelry from them.

SEND ULTIMATUM TO LAWRENCE MILL MEN

LAWRENCE, Oct. 2.—The disposition of a railroad track which runs along the south bank of the North canal here and over which freight is carried for some of the big mill corporations has been a question which has worried more than one city government during the past half a dozen years.

After spending a couple of dozen dollars in building the new "central bridge" over the Merrimack river and a bridge approach to it over each of the Essex company's two canals, one at the north and one at the south end, the city is faced with the proposition that unless this track is disposed of in some way freight cars will be continually shifting between the North canal approach and the entrance to the bridge proper.

A hearing was held in connection with the problem by the city government yesterday which resulted in that body's sending, by unanimous vote, an ultimatum to the corporations that unless they submit by next Wednesday a definite plan for the solving of the problem which will not mean the expenditure of any money by the city a deal end to their track will be established at the west side of the bridge, and they will be allowed to fight it out in the courts.

The first riddle ever recorded was propounded by Samson in the Book of Judges, 14th chapter, 14th verse.

200 NAVAL STAFF OFFICERS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Resignations of nearly 200 naval staff officers will be accepted, Secretary Daniels announced today as soon as the bureau to which they are attached notify him the officers' services can be spared.

The acceptances will apply only to those staff officers who are not graduates of the naval academy. No action will be taken for the present on the resignation of 89 line officers now on file.

Many of the resignations are due to a belief of the officers that their navy pay is insufficient to support their families properly.

The man on the running board of President Wilson's machine is "Joe" Murphy, known to his secret service associates as "the most responsible man in America." Behind the machine are Miles McCahill and Walter Ferguson, of the president's guard who seem to have sensed danger on their left flank. A false move in the crowd will bring seven of these "eagles" swooping into action, lest harm befall the chief executive of the nation.

ARGUS-EYED SLEUTHS PROTECT PRESIDENT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The most responsible man in America?

Joseph E. Murphy, a smallish, argus-eyed American of Irish parentage, holds the title. Together with six carefully-chosen associates, all members of the United States secret service, it is his business to guard the president from bodily harm, at the expense of his own life, and those of his companions, if that should be necessary.

Do you wonder that he is called "the most responsible man in America?"

Possibly you have an idea that the protection of the president from vicious or irresponsible persons is a sinecure? If so, stop to consider that three of our chief executives have been assassinated; that attempts have been made on the lives of at least two others (Johnson and Roosevelt); and that the plans of countless "cranks" and malcontents, aimed at the lives of our presidents, have been thwarted by members of the secret service.

A secret service map, to qualify for the job of helping to guard the president, must prove to the satisfaction of his superiors that he has thoroughly developed that uncanny "sixth sense" by which it is possible to "feel" danger before it's evident to the eye or ear.

He must be able to think at lightning speed and not in the twinkling of an eye. He must be possessed of unquestioned courage and resourcefulness.

"Joe" Murphy's eyes, as well as those of his six assistants, scan the face, figure, costume and—chief of all—the general attitude of every person who gets close to the president. No one, be he governor of a state, mayor of a city, or ordinary citizen, escapes that searching scrutiny.

Many an innocent citizen, reaching for a handkerchief to wave, has been borne to earth by these uncompromising "eagles of the secret service." Nor can they even stop to make apologies. Their business is to guard the chief executive of the nation.

Murphy and Miles McCahill are the deans of the president's guards, having watched successfully over the persons of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. The others—"Ed" Sturtevant, "Billie" Landvoigt, "Jack" Fitzgerald, W. A. Ferguson and J. G. She—have seen less service with the presidents but are none the less dependable.

"It's a fascinating life," said one of them, during the recent Wilson visit to San Francisco—"and we sure get hold of some queer cases—but the job is nerve-racking, especially in times of great political excitement, or a bitter campaign. We never know when some wild-eyed crook or darn fool is going to try something!"

And with these steel-spring chaps it's an everlasting disgrace to let a man even attempt to harm the president. Although the police of Buffalo, for instance, pre-empted the duty of guarding President McKinley the day he was shot, the secret service man who was nearest the martyred chief executive was never entirely forgiven by the service.

Take it altogether, it's not much fun being one of "the most responsible men in America."

It was Thomas Jefferson's wish that he be remembered as the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the statute of Virginia for religious freedom and as the father of the University of Virginia.

CONCERT AND LECTURE

Lowell Moose Hear Eloquent Speakers Discuss Progress of Their Organization

A most enjoyable complimentary concert and lecture was held by Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, at the Colonial theatre on Middlesex street last evening, and a large and enthusiastic audience heard various speakers discuss the progress of their organization, including Hon. Frank J. Monahan, supreme councillor of the Order of Moose at San Francisco, Cal.; Hon. Charles A. A. McGee of California, past supreme dictator; James J. Davis, director general of the order; Dictator David A. Hartnett of the Lowell organization, and Brother Jas. P. Miskella of the local lodge, who acted as chairman of the evening's program. The musical program consisted of selections given by various local entertainers, and proved most acceptable.

Dictator David A. Hartnett made the opening address of welcome to the members and sketched briefly the activities of the local lodge. Brother Miskella was the next speaker, and made a brief address on the topic, "Fraternity."

The principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Frank J. Monahan, was then introduced and devoted considerable of his address to a description of the Mooseheart institution in Illinois. Homes have been erected for aged and widowed members and their children, he said, vocational schools established, and at the present time fully 700 children are cared for there. He also complimented the members on the businesslike appearance of the city and urged them to continue their efficient work in making the local lodge one to feel proud of.

Following the speechmaking several local entertainers offered musical selections, including William Mahoney, Frank P. McCartin, Daniel P. McCaffery and Com. James E. Donnelly. The O'Reilly Jazz band also went over the top with some pleasing numbers.

The following committee was in charge of the arrangements for the evening: Dictator David A. Hartnett, Vice Dictator Ernest P. Parsons, Prelate Charles McQuarrie, Treasurer John M. Hagan, Secretary Thomas M. Keagan, Junior Past Dictator Edward Goodson, Trustees John B. Curtin, Charles W. Richard and P. R. Monahan, Sergeant-at-Arms Charles Mc-

BIG DEMAND FOR GOVERNMENT FOOD

In just half of the allotted time the 200,000 pounds of government canned foodstuffs, comprising the third carload to come to Lowell, were gobbled up by local householders last evening. The sale was held at the Red Cross rooms in Market street and was advertised from 5 to 9 o'clock, but so heavy was the demand at the outset that everything practically was sold out at 7 o'clock. Approximately 450 individual sales cleared out the lot.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was on hand when the sale began and remained on the job for an hour or more. For the Red Cross, Miss Julia A. Pevey, Mrs. George H. Leachy and M. R. Scott were in charge and they supervised a splendid system of quick sales. The prevailing prices were moderate and somewhat cheaper than in other cities. Tomatoes were 10 cents a can, corn and stringless beans, the same and small sized cans of corned beef, 30 cents.

Long before the hour of 5 a large crowd had gathered outside the Red Cross headquarters and the initial rush was a bit disconcerting, but was soon regulated by the saleswomen. All sorts of vehicles and containers were used to cart away the stuff bought, but nobody seemed to care as long as they were able to get a few cans of their favorite brand.

SALE OF RED CROSS STAMPS

When the United States asked, the young men of the country to rally to the national standards during the war, the draft was found to be one of the best medical detectives that could be imagined. Through it the standard of health among the young men of the country was quickly and surely ascertained.

Altogether, out of the nearly 3,000,000 men who were picked by the draft, 69,000 were found to be tuberculous. These men, enough to make up more than two divisions of soldiers, had to be rejected. They were unfit to take up arms for their country and, in fact, were a danger to their comrades.

Tuberculosis is one of the gravest problems America has to solve today. Its death toll is enormous. Its sick toll is even greater. Every year at least 150,000 die of tuberculosis in the United States. For every death there are eight open tuberculosis cases reported. That means over 1,200,000 persons have the disease.

Tuberculosis can be prevented and it can be cured. That is the burden of the great educational campaign now being waged by the National Tuberculosis association and the 1000 state and local organizations affiliated with it. The rapid growth of tuberculosis in the country, especially with the reaction from the war at hand, means that more extensive educational work is required. It must be forthcoming and such a campaign has been planned.

To obtain funds to teach everyone that tuberculosis can be prevented more than $10,000,000 Red Cross seals are to be sold just before Christmas.

SERVED CLAM SUPPER

A regular meeting of the members of Centralville lodge, 215, I.O.O.F., was held last evening, the meeting being in the form of a "get-together" affair. The initiatory degree was conferred on one candidate and plans for degree work for the coming season were discussed. At the close of the business session a steamed clam supper was served and interesting remarks were made by District Deputy Grand Master George W. Hall of Lawrence, former Deputy William H. Robinson, Past Grand Hellett and Falcke of Lawrence and Mayor Thompson of this city.

MAY RAISE PRICE OF MILK HERE

Rumor has it that the price of milk in this city will soon be increased from 15 to 16 1/2 cents a quart in order to conform with the Boston prices. The Boston dealers have announced a raise of a half cent a quart in the price of milk beginning yesterday and, inasmuch as the local producers last month decided to keep up with the hub price, it is believed that the consumers will soon be asked to pay 16 1/2 cents a quart instead of 15 cents, the prevailing price. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the New England Producers' association, but no definite action was taken at that time.

In Africa the Maori women make beer of millet-seed and it is served free of charge in one particular hut.

PROTEST COMFORT STATION LOCATION

Residents of Summer street protested to the park commission against the proposed location of a comfort station on the Summer street side of the South common at the regular meeting of the commission held last evening at city hall. The protest was heeded and an effort will be made to place the station near the Thorndike street side of the common. The only other business taken up was a report from the superintendent showing where this year's appropriation for trees has been or is to be spent and the granting of a number of petitions for the trimming or removal of trees.

Dodge a cold

Some folks are fortunate enough always to breathe pure air, and never get run down by overwork or exposure. Even these lucky people do not always escape the contagious colds which prevail at certain seasons to such an extent as to be almost epidemic. It is wise to be prepared for troubles of this nature in our climate, and the one all-important thing is to have at hand a safe, efficient and reliable remedy to ward off the trouble and danger of such an attack. For sixty years "L. F." Atwood's Medicine has been a household standby for emergencies of this kind. It starts up the liver and bowels, prevents congestion, and restores the functions to their normal condition. If you have never used it, get a 50 cent bottle from your dealer, or write for a free sample to the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

JAMES RUSSELL IN REMINISCENT MOOD

According to our old friend Jack Russell, Oak Taylor, purported to be the last surviving member of the Cincinnati Reds' 1919 "Black Sox" team, is being feted and dined and honored in Cincinnati without good reason. "I don't know of any of the old team," says Jim, "George Wright of Boston who played shortstop, and Cal Hogue of Los Angeles who played pitcher. I traveled about with the team as a scorer, but was not a player or a manager. I don't think I should, therefore, should not be getting right in the middle of this thing right bestowed on the other two."

Jim was in a reminiscent mood a month ago, when he was the guest of Pat Moran's Mad Men in Cincinnati. "The old Red Stockings were a bunch of ball players," says Jim. "I know the boys who played through the whole season of 1953 and 1954. I came in 1957 without losing a single game. Yes, I know those were his days in Cincinnati just as these

so. He asserts further that unless the activity of the Cossack chiefs is controlled he will recommend that America refuse to render further assistance to Russia. He says he will retain the arms until advised as to what action to take.

In replying the Omsk government says that, in its view, the subject constitutes a diplomatic and not a military problem, which should be approached through recognized diplomatic channels, and that the government, therefore, awaits a communication from the state department at Washington. It says that "not wishing to formulate any recriminations, it will not enter into an argument which might impair the lively sympathy which it believes should be awakened

In respect to the holding up of the shipment of rifles, astonishment is expressed by the government that local troubles in the far east, which the government regards as an international problem, and not a purely Russian one, should impel General Graves to take steps which might jeopardize a more far-reaching and more vital undertaking, namely, the suppression of Bolshevism at the critical moment when Siberian troops are conducting a successful offensive.

It is pointed out that General Graves' course is "peculiarly astonishing in view of the fact that the rifles were bought and paid for by the Russian overment."

TROOPS CALLED TO QUELL RIOT

Trouble Started When Shots Were Fired at Officers on Trail of Bootlegger

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 2.—With 500 federal troops due to arrive today from Camp Pike, and several hundred deputy sheriffs and civilians, all heavily armed, moving about the affected area, officials here believed that the situation arising from yesterday's race trouble at Elaine, where nine persons were killed, would be brought under control today.

After an all-day fight yesterday in the streets of Elaine between white posse men and organized negroes, armed with rifles, the casualties were two white men and seven negroes killed and a large number of whites and blacks wounded, some seriously.

Fighting ceased only with the coming of darkness and negroes were reported banded in the cane brakes awaiting daylight to renew hostilities.

Governor Brough, who is accompanying the troops, was expected to call conferences of representative whites and negroes during the day, in an effort to bring an end to the trouble.

Officers Fired Upon

The trouble started with an attack Tuesday evening upon W. A. Adkins, a special railroad officer, Charles Pratt, a deputy sheriff and a negro trustee, who had gone by automobile to Elaine to arrest a bootlegger. The officers stopped near Elaine to repair a tire and were fired upon by unknown persons. Adkins fell dead and Deputy Pratt was wounded. The negro escaped and called the sheriff's office here by telephone. A posse was immediately sent to Elaine.

A large number of negroes were taken prisoners by the posse and most of them brought here. One white man also was captured. He has been identified as U. S. Bratton, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark. According to the authorities a quantity of questionable literature was found in his possession. He has been charged with murder in connection with the killing of Adkins.

TROOPS HOLD NEGRO

Arrested for Attack on White Woman at Omaha—More Soldiers Called

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 2.—One negro suspect was under arrest today in connection with the attack on Mrs. H. G. Wisener, a white woman yesterday afternoon. Military authorities who have been in control of the city since last Sunday's rioting, refused to tell where the negro was confined or the extent of the evidence against him.

The attack, one of a series of 35 similar crimes since June 1, occurred within a few blocks of army headquarters, where a machine gun is mounted.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has not returned. Although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Fulton, carpenter, 1257 Marcellus avenue, Massachussetts, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of a life and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

News of the crime was withheld from the afternoon papers at the request of Major General Leonard Wood, who is actively in command of the situation. The number of troops in the black belt was doubled after the attack and 600 soldiers were on duty in that section today.

The attack on Mrs. Wisener occurred at 3 o'clock at her home on the edge of the black belt. She was cleaning windows when a negro threw a cloth over her face and bound and gagged her. Her two children, aged 12 and 8, gave the alarm and the military forces stationed a cordon of troops around the neighborhood.

Mr. Long has lost no time and, beginning yesterday morning at Westfield, he continued a whirlwind tour of speeches through more than 20 cities and towns winding up late last night at Pittsfield. He will begin once more at Hinsdale this morning, with Springfield as his objective tonight, and on Friday will start at Ludlow, leaving off at Oxford in the afternoon so as to return to Boston to attend the "night before" of the democrats at the Quincy House and prepare for the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday afternoon.

Both parties girding loins

At the republican convention to be held in Tremont Temple Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock Congressman Allen T. Treadway will preside. Speaker Warner of the house of representatives will be chairman of the resolutions committee. There will be speeches by the governor, if he has sufficient recovered from his illness, the lieutenant-governor, Senator Lodge, members of the state ticket, and others. The resolutions committee will hold hearings today and Friday at 2:30 o'clock, with a view to securing the opinion of republicans as to the party's platform. There will be held in Room 225, 18 Tremont street.

The democratic candidates will hold their "Night Before" at the Quincy House Friday night. There will be no banquet or set speeches, the occasion being a sort of "get together."

The democratic state committee will also meet at the Quincy House Friday evening. The committee on resolutions will meet in the same hotel at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to prepare the party's platform, which is expected to include, among other planks, one providing for the "freedom of Ireland."

At the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday at 1 o'clock John F. McGrath of Worcester will preside. A platform will be presented and debated, and other business transacted. It is expected that Richard H. Long of Framingham, candidate for governor; Colonel John F. J. Herbert of Worcester, candidate for lieutenant-governor; and other members of the state ticket, also United States Senator David L. Walsh, and others, will speak. Invitations to speak have been tendered Foss, Monahan and Delrick, the defeated candidates for nomination for governor.

Long Attacks Coolidge

"Governor Coolidge has shown himself to be the weakest, most helpless and incompetent governor that our state has ever had," was the estimate of the present chief executive of the commonwealth of Massachusetts as expressed by Richard H. Long of Framingham, democratic candidate for governor, in speeches at Pittsfield and North Adams last night.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, Head Noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear with the result of permanent deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious in sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Peppermint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and a little crystallized sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises (buzzing, roaring, etc.) should open, bubbling, becoming easy in the ear-tubes as the inflammation is reduced. Paraffin used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of the head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

CHANCES IN OCCUPANCY OF LOCAL STORES

The store occupied by J. A. & P. V. Pilon, jewelers, at 92 Central street, has been leased by Snyder the hat man and the tenants have been notified to vacate for Nov. 1. The leasing of the Pilon store by Snyder is the beginning of the evacuation of the street floor of Wyman's Exchange, which a few years ago was leased to Liggett-Riker James Co., proprietor of a chain of drug stores, but according to information received this morning the latter company may not occupy its new premises for five more years. The leases of the Newark Shoe Co., Snyder, Shanley and Mr. Donaldson, proprietor of the art and camera store, expire this year, but Messrs. Shanley and Donaldson were given another leave for five more years.

Liggett's managed stated today that the drug business will not be moved into the new quarters until the entire lot owned by Nelson's store in Merrimack street is vacated and inasmuch as two of the tenants have leases for five years more the company has renewed its lease in Merrimack street for the same period. It is probable that the stores that will be vacated will be leased on short terms to other business firms.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Steels led at the opening of today's stock market, gains extending from large fractions to a point. Crucible was uncertain, reacting four points. Tobacco, leather, paper, woolen, sugar and railway shares contributed to the early strength at gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points. But equipment, shipbuilding and rubber issues were irregular. Steels cancelled their gains before the end of the first hour when Crucible extended its loss to almost 10 points.

The cattle list seemed to be influenced by the erratic course of Crucible Steel which declined 11 points, soon making up most of its loss, only to fall back again. Reactions elsewhere ranged from one to three points, equipment, motors and oils being most affected. Even tobacco, which was strongest at the opening, gave up its gains. American Woolen and the popular second hour with Atlantic Gulf, Marine common and Texas and Texas at 2 1/2 to 3 points. Steels showed again at noon, but equipment strengthened. Call money opened at 6 per cent, being assumed larger proportions at mid-day, declining to 5 per cent, offered by professional pressure. Reactions ran from two to ten points in speculative issues, notably tobacco, which lacked support. Equipment rallied easily, steels also making partial recoveries with other standard industries.

MANY STEEL STRIKERS TEST VOTE ON TREATY NESIB ABDALLAH SENT TO STATE PRISON

Amendment to Bar U. S. From Boundary Committee Rejected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Senate today rejected an amendment by Senator Fall to eliminate the United States from membership to determine boundary between Germany and Belgium. The vote, which generally was accepted as a test of the senate's attitude toward more than 50 other committee amendments of similar nature, was 55 to 30.

CONSULTATION ON PRES. WILSON'S CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Despite a fairly good night's rest, President Wilson was not so well this morning and Rear Admiral Grayson has called in consultation Dr. F. N. Dercum, a neurologist of Philadelphia.

Dr. Dercum was expected at the White House today.

Admiral Grayson issued the following bulletin at 11 a. m.:

"The president had a fairly good night, but his condition is not at all good this morning."

The president's condition is not considered alarming, it was explained at the White House and the decision to call in Dr. Dercum was made as a precautionary measure and to relieve the pressure on Dr. Grayson, who has been with the president almost continuously since he was taken ill a week ago while on a speaking tour.

The president was described as extremely restless. Dr. Grayson insists that he remain quiet, and is trying to divert his mind from work and executive matters in which he is desirous of taking a hand. He has been permitted to sign a few bills and attend to some few other routine matters.

Dr. Grayson has been in consultation with Rear Admiral E. R. Sitt, head of the naval medical school, and Dr. Dennis of the naval dispensary, but they have not seen the president.

Dr. Grayson expects Dr. George de Schweinitz, an eye specialist of Philadelphia, to visit the president this week.

SEVEN RESERVATIONS Proposed by Sen. Smith to Clear up Doubtful or Objectionable Language

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Opposing textual changes necessitating resubmission to Germany, but declaring ratification without reservations to be impossible, Senator Smith, democrat of Georgia, in the senate today proposed seven reservations to the peace treaty, to clear up "doubtful or objectionable language."

While only specifying seven reservations, he said he believed substantial modification should be placed upon the labor provisions, but he withheld suggestions because other senators contemplated proposing a reservation covering that provision.

Senator Smith's first reservation is a substitute for the amendment of Senator Johnson, republican, California, designed to equalize the voting power in both the assembly and supreme council under the League of Nations. The next three are similar to those reported by the senate foreign relations committee affecting the right to withdraw from the league, the Monroe Doctrine, and reserving the right of this country to control its own internal affairs.

The fifth reservation covers Article 10. Senator Smith said the United States could not assume, under Article 10 or any other article, obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country or in case of controversy between other nations to engage in economic boycotts. The reservation further provides that mandates cannot be accepted for this country without the approval of congress.

As new reservations, Senator Smith proposed that the reparations commission could not interfere with commerce between the United States and Germany except with this country's consent and that all persons filling positions created by the treaty must be appointed by the president with the senate's consent. Amendments to the league covenant also would be ratified by the senate.

The sixth reservation covers Article 10. Senator Smith said the United States could not assume, under Article 10 or any other article, obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country or in case of controversy between other nations to engage in economic boycotts. The reservation further provides that mandates cannot be accepted for this country without the approval of congress.

British Cabinet Ministers Optimistic Over Prospect of Settlement

Leaders of Other Unions Seek to Find Way to Bring Strike to an End

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Cabinet ministers were optimistic today over the prospect of a settlement of the railroad strike, according to the political correspondent of the Daily Mail.

He says they declared the government would not recede from its determination not to resume negotiations unless the men first resumed work, yet J. H. Thomas, leader of the National Union of Railwaymen went to Downing street knowing of this condition. Leaders of the Transport Workers' union and other labor organizations are endeavoring to find a way to bring the railwaymen back and have refrained from any threat to extend the strike as a result of yesterday's conference. This it is said, is due to the fact that leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen are trying to obtain from the government an outline relative to subsequent wage negotiations which they can lay before the men as a reason for ordering them back to their jobs.

Confer With Premier At 12.30 o'clock a labor deputation began a conference with Premier Lloyd George and other of the cabinet ministers. No railroad men were members of the deputation.

Notices were posted at important railroad centers yesterday, according to the Mail stating that wages due strikers for their last week's work, would not be paid because the men quit their posts without notice.

At today's session of the 53d annual convention of the Order of Daughters of St. George, which is being held in Odd Fellows hall, Madison street, the following committees were appointed by the grand president: Annie J. Hollings, Lawrence; Emma Dugdale, Methuen; M. J. Sharples, Methuen, trustees; Fannie Samson, Gloverville, N. Y., grand assistant secretary; Ethel Williams, Philadelphia, obituary committee; Anne Halsey, Lowell; Clara Morham and Lillian Hara, Lowell, by-laws committee; Mary Haywood, Mary McLean and Emma Sander, Philadelphia, appeal and grievance committee.

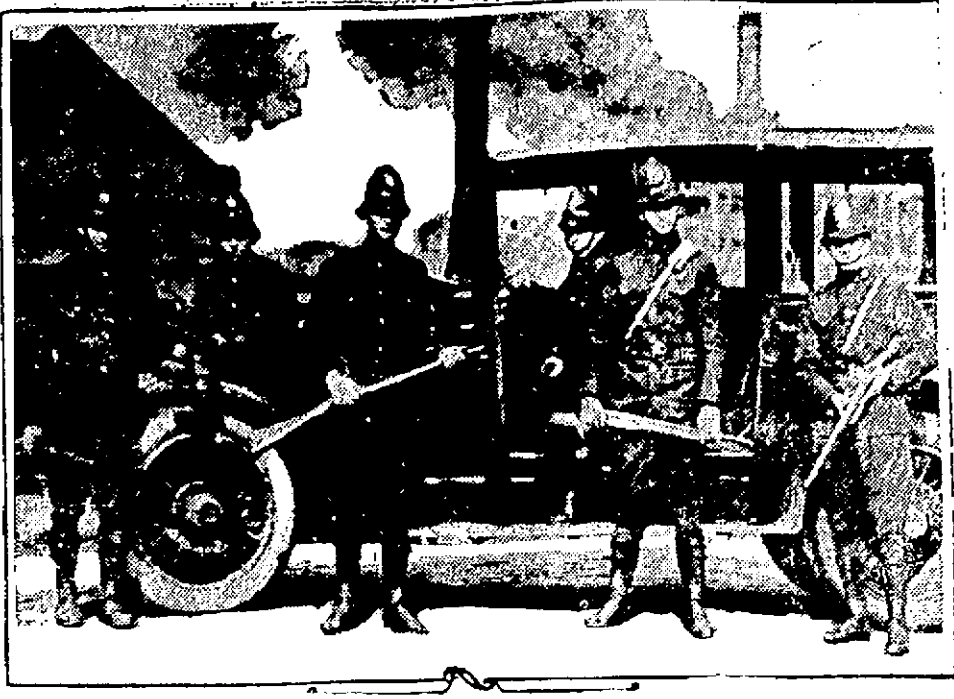

Deputies were also appointed as follows: Louise Jacobs for Cambridge; Mary Stafford for Waltham; Clara Leopold for Hartford and New Britain, Conn.; Irene Brierly for Sanford, Me.; Alice Reynolds for Bridgeport and Stony Creek, Conn.; Bessie Evers for upper New York city; Luella Tyron for Concord, Franklin and Manchester, N. H.; Minnie Robinson for Philadelphia; Sarah Hagan for Lowell and Lawrence; Clara Calcutt for Dover, N. H.; Mary Jackson for New Bedford; Margaret Blum for Astoria, L. I.; and Margaret Partington for Haverhill.

The installation of the newly elected officers took place this afternoon and considerable business concerning the order was transacted. An invitation was received to attend lodge meetings in Lawrence this evening and at the close of the business session this afternoon the delegates visited in a body the plant of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co. in Western avenue. This evening the delegates will be entertained at a theatre party at the B. F. Keith theatre.

The most important item of business of yesterday's session was the election of officers which resulted as follows: Grand president, Adelaide Eldon of Astoria, L. I.; grand vice president, Annie E. Barlow of Schenectady, N. Y.; grand secretary, Elizabeth Tennant of Methuen; grand treasurer, Lydia Moss of Worcester; grand first trustee, Annie J. Hollings of Lawrence.

In the evening the delegates were guests of the Sons of St. George at an entertainment and luncheon, those taking part in the entertainment being Ernest Ingles, Bert Neal, John Orrell, Rev. N. W. Matthews, Mr. C. L. Clegg and Mr. Peter Watson. The delegates attending the convention are as follows:

Lottie Kohlstrom, Worcester; P. G. P. Eva Blinn, Bridgeport, Conn.; Sarah Sangster, New York city; P. G. P. Ethel Williams, Philadelphia; Ellen Seymour, Hartford, Conn.; P. G. P. the total, who are actually engaged in promoting the strike.

Chairman Kenyon read principles of the war labor board promulgated during the war, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining to employees and asked if Judge Gary endorsed that.

"If you mean what the labor unions call collective bargaining, no," Judge Gary responded. "If you mean organization of plant committees to present grievances, yes."

"I'd like to know what the difference is between you and the labor unions," said Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"Unions are endeavoring to compel employers to contract with them," Judge Gary answered, "and when that is done, non-union men cannot be employed."

Questioned by Senator Walsh

"What good is it for men to belong to unions," said Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, "if when they join you refuse to discuss anything with their representatives?"

"Is it right," Judge Gary countered, "for 10 per cent of men who may belong to unions to dictate conditions for the other 90 per cent?"

"But your position is the same," Senator Walsh continued, "even if 90 per cent of the men were organized, you would not confer with their representatives."

"I haven't said so," Judge Gary replied. "That question has not come up."

"Let's settle this point right here," Senator Walsh broke in. "Will you confer with any representative of organized labor today, to help settle this strike?"

Refused to Meet Union Heads

"I will not," Judge Gary returned. "If you were convinced that 50 per cent of your men were organized and represented, would you confer with them?" asked Senator Walsh.

"No," said Mr. Gary. "I'm sorry if I differ with you, or with others."

"I'm sorry for hundreds of thousands of suffering families," Senator Walsh retorted.

Mr. Gary protested that his position had not been fairly explained and added, with careful choice of words: "We put ourselves squarely upon the issue that this is a question of the open or closed shop. Now as to what will bring about the closed shop, we must decide from time to time, depending upon the facts presented."

"At the present time the union leaders have brought about this strike which is no more nor less than an attempt of a minority to secure control of the interests of the large majority including not only the employers, but the employees."

"That's what you say; they say they represent a majority," Senator Walsh interrupted. "Is there any reason why we should not leave that to arbitration?"

Refused to Answer "Yes" or "No"

Judge Gary protested that he had not been allowed to complete his statement, but Senator Walsh broke in: "I want to know, yes or no, whether you will see any representatives of organized labor. Please answer that yes or no."

"With all due respect," said Judge Gary, with flushed face, "I cannot answer yes or no."

"If the minority could succeed in securing control," continued the witness, "that would bring about the closed shop. Therefore, at this particular time, the circumstances are different."

Public Vindictive Interested

"Representatives of labor have said the open shop is not an issue here," Senator Jones said. "The public is vitally interested. If your policy is to refuse to accept any compromise, we might as well quit now."

Asked for his views regarding possible legislation on the general question of corporation control, the witness suggested a federal commission to charter and regulate corporations with the commission's action subject to final review by the federal courts.

"I recognize," he said, "that the

DANCE TONIGHT AT ASSOCIATE HALL

At a meeting of the women of the South End district in St. Peter's school hall last night, further plans for the welcome home celebration were discussed, particularly in connection with the dance to be given tonight in Associate hall. This is one of the first dances of the fall season and should attract a capacity crowd. Minner-Doyle's and Markham's orchestras will clash (not discordantly) in a battle of music and the dance tunes will be irresistible.

Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon presided over last night's meeting. Manager Schaeke of the Lowell Opera House spoke in relation to South End day to be observed at the theatre next Monday, when half of the receipts of the matinee and evening performances will be donated to the general fund for the celebration. Tickets are going fast for this date. Commissioner Jas. E. Donnelly also spoke to the women. Miss Mollie Roane, treasurer of the women's auxiliary, gave the final report of the tag day, which showed that a net sum of $651 was realized.

than ever existed before in this country. I doubt if you realize the danger of the minority securing control."

"I appreciate that," Senator Walsh rejoined, "but I also appreciate the danger of employers refusing to see their workmen."

Only Refused to Meet Outsiders

"I haven't," Judge Gary protested vigorously. "I have refused only to meet outsiders who are trying to organize the steel industry."

"If the union leaders should disclaim any intention to establish what you call the closed shop, would you discuss the situation with them now?" asked Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"If they should make such a disclaimer, in good faith even it would not satisfy me," Judge Gary said, "because I know that leaders who promised that would be shortly displaced, and their positions taken over by men who would continue progress toward the closed shop. I can't discuss the situation from the viewpoint which members of this committee take. I can't talk about arbitration or compromise at this time."

power of concentrated capital necessarily involves the power to do more or less harm. I recognize the fact, personally, that concentrated capital has the advantage over the single individual if concentrated capital is in the hands of dishonest or unfair men. Therefore, I think, concentrated capital should be under control and supervision against wrong."

Control Capital and Labor

"I think at the same time that capital is subjected to supervision and control that concentrated labor also should be subjected to control of the government and of the law," Mr. Gary, waving his hand at Mr.

Gompers and other labor leaders, said he had no personal opposition to them and would meet them in next week's labor conference.

Senator Walsh asked if Mr. Gary would agree that capital and labor both had made mistakes and when Mr. Gary answered affirmatively, Senator Walsh asked: "Then isn't that a reason for arbitration?"

"That depends on the circumstances," Mr. Gary replied, amid laughter of the audience.

Connecticut Resident Hopes Others Will Profit by Her Experience With This Remedy

"If a word of advice from me will help other women who suffer as I did, I certainly want to give it," says Miss Elizabeth A. Carr, who lives at No. 1054 Broadhurst avenue, Stratford, Conn. "I had long been in a badly run-down condition and suffered almost constantly from indigestion. My food soured causing acute distress and was spoils. I was tired and lacked ambition and my blood was so thin that I couldn't get warm."

"One day I read a woman's statement of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for her and her symptoms were so much like mine that I decided to try the remedy. There was such a marked improvement in my condition after I had tried the first box that I continued the treatment. My strength soon returned and in a short time I was able to eat without fear of distress. I can do my work now and no longer tire easily. My blood is enriched and I don't have chills any more. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an excellent tonic and I can strongly recommend them."

MAKES REPORTSays Americans Landed Near

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Intervention by the American naval forces at Trau, Dalmatia, prevented bloodshed which would perhaps have resulted in a state of actual war between Italy and Jugo-Slavia," according to a report from Admiral Knapp, commanding American naval forces in European waters, transmitted to the senate today by Secretary Daniels.

American sailors were not landed, Admiral Knapp said, until American and Italian officers who had been sent to Trau had induced the Italian raiders to withdraw after they had surprised and captured the small Serbian garrison. One Italian officer and three men were left behind and the American bluejackets were sent ashore to protect them and police the town until Serbian troops could arrive.

The Americans acted, Admiral Knapp continued, at the request of the Italian admiral in command on the Dalmatian coast and the force was withdrawn immediately after the Serbians arrived and took charge. Meanwhile the commander of the Italian raiders was ordered to trial by court martial by the Italian admiral.

The Italian admiral thanked the American commander for sending forces to Trau, Admiral Knapp said.

Discipline Is Low

Fiume, Tuesday, Sept. 30.—Discipline among Italian regular soldiers is low along the armistice line and their officers have little control over them in enforcing the blockade of Fiume. As a result d'Annunzio's army is being constantly reinforced by deserters, whole companies and battalions marching into Fiume.

Carabinieri still maintain some discipline, but they are virtually the only force upon which the government can depend. Out of this force, however, 100 deserters have gone over to the d'Annunzio ranks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Plans are being considered, it became known here today, to apply strong American pressure to the Adriatic question as well as in other cases where trouble has arisen jeopardizing the authority of the supreme council and threatening to set at naught its decisions founded upon powers conferred by the armistice and the peace treaty.

Unless the Adriatic question is settled satisfactorily within a few days and unless the council's decisions are carried out, the American government may consider the advisability of withdrawing from the present at least any further financial or other material assistance to the other powers.

To allow Italy's claim to Fiume solely on the basis of its forcible occupation by d'Annunzio's irregular troops in the opinion of members of the supreme council in Paris, would involve recognition by the entente of Rumania's claims in Hungary, Greece's claim to large portions of Turkey and even possibly Germany's claim to rich portions of western Russia. It is felt that admission by the council of the right of any nation to seize territory regardless of pledges to refrain from aggression, would be regarded as tantamount to an abandonment of the basic principles upon which the peace conference was assembled and as threatening a permanent peace.

Recent advices from Europe are regarded as indicating that some of the entente governments themselves or their representatives have not fully sustained the council in decisions in which they participated.

GREAT WELCOME
FOR KING ALBERT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium landed in Hoboken at seven minutes after 12 today.

The Belgian national anthem, played by a military band, greeted the royal party as it descended the gangplank at Hoboken. The king, followed by the queen, Prince Leopold and the king's staff, halted and stood at attention until the piece was concluded. Then Vice President Marshall stepped forward and officially welcomed the king and queen to the United States, greeting the monarch as the "ruler of the bravest nation in the world."

"No man was ever more welcome here," he said.

The king delivered his response in a low voice, speaking so quietly that his words could scarcely be heard 10 feet away. Then the government's committee of welcome was presented to him, after which he stepped to one side to chat with the vice president.

The first thing the king asked Mr. Marshall was concerning the health of President Wilson.

The king wore his uniform of a general in the Belgian artillery. Prince Leopold was also in uniform.

Responding to the welcome extended to him by Vice President Marshall, the king expressed great regret at the state of President Wilson's health and sincerely hoped for his complete recovery, adding that the president was very precious. The king and queen regarded the trip as a distinct step in their lives, he said, and were happy to make this journey to express their gratitude and the gratitude of the Belgian people to the people of the United States. They hoped to get many valuable ideas and learn many lessons from the great people of the United States, he declared.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Albert, king of the Belgians, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold, who come to America to personally express their gratitude for the aid extended by a generous nation to their married country, received a noisy welcome to New York, when aroused at dawn by the firing of salutes as the transport George Washington steamed past the outer harbor fortifications. REDLAND FIELD, CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The weather for today's world series game was as perfect as that of yesterday. The sun was out, while the thermometer registered 50 degrees at noon.

The winning of yesterday's game had one noticeable effect on the Cincinnati fans. The railroad offices were crowded all of last night by local baseball enthusiasts eager to get accommodations to Chicago to witness the games to be played there Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Betting Shifts to Even Money

That yesterday's game upset predictions was indicated by the fluctuation of the betting odds, even money on the Reds finding few takers and here and there odds being demanded by those who still believe the Sox will ultimately prove the victor.

To Break Financial Records

The series is expected to break all records relative to the amount of money taken in at the gates. The first day's receipts were more than $22,000 in excess of the high record of the first day's receipts when the Philadelphia Athletics played at New York in 1911. At that time $77,350 was taken in at the gate, while yesterday 198,775 was the gross returns and this did not include the war tax.

Wait 14 Hours For Tickets

Every available seat and every available space was sold yesterday.

The usual midnight attendance at the bleacher gate, prepared to wait 14 hours in order to get the best seats that the bleachers and pavilion afforded, was in evidence again. Toward morning the crowd became even larger than that of yesterday.

Clarence Howland is convinced that Cicotte will come back and beat the Reds before the series ends.

Newspapermen will leave for Chicago tonight on a special train at 11:30 p. m., accommodations having been made for 400 writers.

Cincinnati fans celebrated the first victory of the Reds in a riotous manner. Impromptu parades were staged in downtown streets and hotel lobbies.

A little German band furnished the music for one parade, while Scotch bagpipers headed another procession. The celebrations continued until long after midnight.

Eddie Cicotte today expressed confidence in his ability to come back. He declared that he was completely unharmed when he hit Rath, the first man up in the game yesterday and lost all control of the ball in the fourth inning.

Cicotte's Alibi

"It is hard to explain," he said, "but I was in no condition to pitch the game that I had expected. I felt perfectly confident before the game started and appeared to have everything when I was warming up, but when I hit Rath, it seemed to have a strange effect on me. I felt so badly about it that I trotted with him along the first base line to see if the ball had hurt him. When he assured me that he was all right, I went back to the pitching mound but I did not seem to be right."

Supporters of the Sox believe that Gleason will send Cicotte in to oppose the Reds Friday or Saturday.

LIFT BAN ON TOURISTS VISITING EUROPE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The ban on tourists visiting Europe—with the exception of the British Isles—which has been in force since 1916, was officially removed yesterday by the United States, and now the only thing needed to view the battlefields of France is the price.

As a result of the lifting of the ban, passport clerks in the office of Clerk Allen of the federal district court put in a busy day filling out the applications of prospective voyagers. No one on pleasure bent can yet visit Great Britain. The reason for this is not known here, but it is believed that the present labor troubles there have a good deal to do with the attitude of British officials.

According to instructions received from Secretary of State Lansing, tourists' applications for passports may be accepted from those wishing to go to France, Belgium, Italy, Portugal, and parts of Africa. The present unsettled conditions in the Balkans prevents tourists from going there, and they are also unable to go to Switzerland. It is assumed here that the food question is the determining factor in keeping travelers for the present out of the mountain republic.

Secretary Lansing warns tourists to be sure and secure from steamship companies, before leaving the United States, assurances that they will be able to obtain accommodations for the homeward journey and prevent the possibility of becoming stranded in Europe later. It is understood that large parties in charge of tourist agencies are planning to sail on sight-seeing tours with a few weeks.

SHOT FIRED AND EGGS THROWN

Lights Put Out and Shower of Eggs Hurlled at Those on Stage

ARDMORE, OKLA., Oct. 2.—Whether an official investigation would be made of a demonstration here last night during which eggs were thrown at United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, when he attempted to deliver an address in opposition to the peace treaty and the League of Nations, was the subject of considerable discussion today.

Although several officials declared that an investigation should be made and those guilty of participation punished, they pointed out that as the egg throwing took place after the light wires had been cut and the building was in darkness, it would be virtually impossible to identify the persons who took part.

Senator Reed left Ardmore late last night for the west without commenting on the demonstration.

The demonstration followed a mass meeting Tuesday at which resolutions were adopted censuring the senator for his opposition to the League of Nations covenants and urging that he cancel his speaking engagements.

Mayor Freeman was in the midst of an explanation that he was introducing the speaker because he was mayor of the city and not because he supported the views of those opposed to the league covenant, when the lights went out and volleys of eggs hurtled through the air toward the stage.

When the lights were restored it was found that virtually none of those on the stage, including the senator, the mayor and members of the reception committee had escaped the effects of the eggs.

Later officials attempted to continue the program, but the crowd refused to listen. Efforts by Senator Reed to deliver his address were met by jeers, hisses, catcalls and cheers for President Wilson.

Finally the meeting was abandoned and Senator Reed was driven to his hotel.

One shot was fired in the course of the trouble.

TWO JAILED IN MURDER CASE

N.E.A. Special to The Sun. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. — Psychle sleuthing has placed a man and a woman behind the Parris, charged with murder.

Robin J. Cooper, wealthy clubman and politician, was found slain on the outskirts of this city last June. His body was pierced by a bullet.

After local detectives had about given up their search for clues and the Cooper slaying was being regarded as a crime problem never to be solved, Gabriel Hansen, psychic student of crime, came to this city and declared that he knew all the particulars of Cooper's fate.

He obtained a hearing from the police after he had confronted them with tangible evidence to support his spiritualistic visions.

Dennis B. Metcalf, gardener, and Nora Lee Jones, a colored cook, employed in the Cooper home, are under arrest on evidence brought forward by Hansen.

Metcalf is charged with the actual killing and the negroess is held as an accessory before the fact.

Hansen, whose home is in Memphis, came to Nashville bearing letters of recommendation from high officials who related some of his feats in psychic crime-solving. He announced that he was determined to bring Cooper's slayer to justice and that he knew all about the crime.

home he gave a minute description of the premises, including the garage in which he says the crime was committed.

"Cooper was seated in his automobile when he was killed," says Hansen. "The person who killed him sat in the tonneau, and dragged the body back, then drove away, with the dead man huddled on the floor of the car. The body was laid on the river bank and was carried away by a freshet the next day."

Mrs. Anna W. Littleton, a spiritualist, upholds Hansen. She was informed in a vision, she asserts that Hansen could solve the mystery of Cooper's death.

To support Hansen's theory, the following evidence will be presented to the grand jury:

Shortly after the crime, Metcalf rented a room. In this room has been found a pair of overalls marked by blood stains, also a pillow slip marked with the letter "C," a pistol and letters from Metcalf's wife in Chicago warning him to "be careful—our letters are being opened."

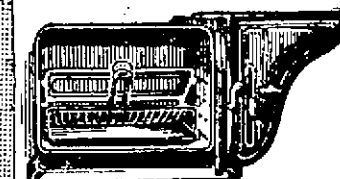

Said he Couldn't Drive
Metcalf, when first questioned, said that he could not drive an automobile. It has since been learned that he attended a school for chauffeurs.

Both Metcalf and the colored cook stoutly protested their innocence.

They have informed detectives that the Cooper home, in the absence of Mrs. Cooper, was the scene of all night revels in which much whiskey was consumed by Robin Cooper's guests.

Hansen is slender, of middle height, with piercing gray eyes and heavy eyebrows and mustache.

Among the achievements in criminology credited to him is leading the police to the hiding place of a negro who killed Antoinette Rappell, a white girl in Memphis.

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute Relief From All Pain and Suffering. Has Never Failed. Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally, passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble where, by its soothing, healing antiseptic action, it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

Just read what Mr. F. M. Smith of 2312 Broadway, Lorain, Ohio, says: "I gladly recommend Miro Pile Remedy for Piles. There is no equal to it. I suffered for 15 years and tried everything that was recommended. I declared for years and was a constant sufferer with bleeding piles. I took two bottles of Miro and was entirely cured. Any sufferer using it will never regret it."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is the only little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal-pile remedy.

If your druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above, mail charges paid, in receipt of price. Internal Treatment $1.50. War Tax 5c. Ointment 50c. War Tax 2c. extra. Guaranteed Remedies Co., Elkhart, Ohio.—Adv.

GIRLS BUYING POISON

Women Killing Themselves Rather Than Fall Into Hands of Bolsheviks

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1. (By the Associated Press).—Chemist shops at Archangel, are openly selling poison to many young women who are buying it with the expressed intention of killing themselves rather than fall into the hands of the Bolsheviks, according to an American officer who has just arrived from northern Russia.

While several shiploads of Bolsheviks have been deported from Archangel by entente powers the majority of the anti-Bolshevik population refuse to leave, saying it is impossible to go penniless into a strange country. These people must take their chances in Archangel under Bolshevik domination, which appears inevitable as soon as British forces leave.

BOLSHEVIKI DOCTRINES ROUNDLY DENOUNCED

Declaring that even as oil and water, Bolshevism and Americanism cannot mix, for the one lives only through the destruction of the other, Edwin T. Mulready, state commissioner of labor, punched holes in every heard of soviet doctrine while speaking at the First Baptist church last evening. Members of the Round Table and of the Baraca heard his virile address.

He compared the platform of the Bolsheviks with the declaration of rights of the state of Massachusetts and found the former wanting in every respect. He spoke primarily with the object of offering some means of solving the problem of unrest which is evident throughout the country today in the relations of capital and labor.

He said that it is his belief the most important thing in the fight against disorder is the attitude of the people. He branded as fallacious the idea that labor disturbances are necessary and said that most of the problems now vexing communities might be solved if thinking groups and organizations of men correct their wrong views. He declared that many more good men and women—good Americans are becoming imbued with the teachings of Bolshevism than most persons realize and he favored the deportation of foreigners who foment trouble.

Touching on the present attitude of labor and the sweep of strikes which has engulfed the country, Mr. Mulready cited the attitude of an employer he talked with. This man advocated standing his workers up before a firing squad. The speaker then pointed out that such a course would kill the laborers, but an idea has never yet been shot dead.

DEMOBILIZATION OF WELFARE ORGANIZATIONS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2.—The national demobilization of the several civilian organizations that were engaged in welfare work with the army during the war, is announced in a letter from Secretary of War Baker to Col. Harry Cutler of this city, national chairman of the Jewish welfare board. Recently at a conference with Secretary Baker, Col. Cutler suggested the demobilization of these organizations and the taking over of the work by the regular army as early as a date as possible, and the announcement is now made that this is to be done at once.

In his communication Secretary Baker says: "In order that the example set by the various civilian agencies during the emergency may not be lost to the regular army, I have instructed my military associates to establish an organization with the general staff, to be charged with the development and supervision of matters pertaining to education, recreation and moral training of officers and men of the service. This organization will undertake the functions of the seven affiliated welfare societies, Nov. 1, 1919, as far as they relate to the military establishment within continental limits of the United States. You are requested to continue your work with the troops in France, Germany, Siberia, the Panama canal zone, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines and Alaska for a further period of three or four months, or until such time as the army is in a position to undertake this responsibility.

A conference between Secretary Baker and representatives of the several welfare organizations is scheduled at Washington on Saturday.

CONG. TINKHAM ASKS SUGAR PROBE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—The house yesterday passed a resolution introduced by Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Boston directing the federal trade commission to make an investigation of sugar supplies and prices.

A similar measure introduced by Senator New of Indiana has been adopted by the senate. The Tinkham resolution directs the trade commission to investigate both wholesale and retail prices and pass upon the reasonableness of said prices.

It further asks for a report on the quantities of sugar, both raw and refined, held by dealers in this country and in the island possessions of the United States and the causes of the present sugar shortage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

B. F. KETTER'S THEATRE

Comedy that convulses is the leader at the B. F. Ketter's theatre, this week. Audiences C. Morton, who, three sprightly members of his family, finish a goodly slice of it. Morton puts forward a travesty, one of the kind that holds everything. Audiences shriek with delight at the funny things Morton does. Pietro, the king of piano accordionists, is another member of the bill, who gathers much applause and Sully & Houghton have a decidedly pretty act. Other turns are: Aladdin & Snow in a comedy; Orville Stamm, physical culturist; Boothby & Everdeen in a travesty and Roy & Arthur in a juggling oddity.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Marguerite Fields, the leading woman of the Lowell theatre, is in her bare feet this week in "The Farce Comedy," "Fate and Warmer." And besides John Mehan, the leading man, appears in his Alice blue pajamas and Victory bath robe. Despite their unusual stage attire, both are immensely entertaining, and treat the characters assigned to them in wonderfully good style. You'll like them and the rest of the cast. Capacity audiences at all performances thus far. Order your tickets well in advance.

Next week, America's greatest drama, "The Great Divide," will be given. This play will offer John Mehan his biggest dramatic part to date. On Monday the management will make it "South End Day" and 50 per cent. of the day's receipts are to be turned over to the South End fund. Messrs. Buckley and Schacharowicz, to help the celebration and this is their method. It's a corker, too, for the possibility of realizing a goodly amount is most encouraging. Special features in addition to the play itself, will be given on this day.

THE STRAND

One of the notable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy," Albert Capellani's "Musical comedy," co-starring Jane Caprice and Creighton Hale, which is to be shown for the first time locally at The Strand today, will be the appearance of a bevy of beauties recruited by Mr. Capellani from the various Broadway cabarets and musical comedy shows. The aggregation of girls represents four different well-known cabarets and five current Broadway musical comedy hits, including "Tangle in 'Em," "Good Morning Judge" and "Listen Lester" and consists of 16 hand-picked beauties, selected with discrimination that would do credit to Flaxman Ziegfeld. The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture and although bereft of their voices, they display themselves in lively fashion and make good use of their training in the gentle art of "jazz" dancing. It looks as if our local patrons are to be vastly entertained during the three-days' run.

The story of "Broken Commandments," the new William Fox picture that is to be shown for the first time on Saturday, presents the novel idea of a man throwing dice three times for the possession of a girl—and finally throwing the loaded dice in order to lose, because he realizes this will be for her good. It is said to be a tremendously powerful story of three human beings—a new phase of the old triangle—the love, the hate, and are gathered at last by the consecration of self-sacrifice. In the hands of Gladys Brockwell and an unusually fine cast, including William Scott and Thomas Santschi, this play promises to be one of the strongest that has come to the Strand in many months. For new comedy and last week's together with new song hits will also help make the program one of exceptional merit. See it.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" AT MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tomorrow and Saturday will mark the end of the run of George Loane Tucker's superb photoplay "The Miracle Man," which has caused more sincere praise among the lovers of worth-while photoplays than any picture which has been shown in Lowell for many months. Business at the Merrimack Square has been phenomenal during the entire week, and "The Miracle Man" here has repeated its wonderful success in New York, Boston, Chicago and other cities.

For those who continually raise the cry that "low pictures are mediocre and uninteresting," all that can be said to "The Miracle Man," "It's a wonderful human appeal is irresistible."

Virginia Tracy, noted critic of the New York Tribune, said: "The Miracle Man" the whole house sighed with us in satisfaction, deeply, almost pathetically content in having taken its money's worth through its heart. It is the solid answer to those doleful souls who are forever asking for a 'really better picture'."

W. A. Johnson in the Motion Picture News, said: "The picture I refer to was swept off his feet by 'The Miracle Man' but the significant thing he kept repeating was this: 'Yes, it is an art.'"

All Alaskan cities have their own schools, and in addition there are 65 schools for natives, under the jurisdiction of the bureau of education of the interior department.

ALBANIAN DELEGATES ARE DISCOURAGED

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Albanian delegates profess to be greatly discouraged since receiving information that President Wilson has agreed in principle to the proposition of giving Italy a mandate over their country, in connection with the settlement of the entire Dalmatian-Adriatic problem.

The delegates say that Italian control might "easily lead to another Balkan war at any time," and constant friction would be inevitable. Red Cross officers who have just arrived in Paris from Albania, say natives of that country are sniping at Italians and showing resentment at Italian control.

LADY BEATTY
WIFE OF VICE ADMIRAL SIR DAVID BEATTY PLANS AID FOR ENGLISH WOMEN

LONDON, October.—Lady Beatty, wife of Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet of Great Britain, has just begun a campaign to raise a fund of $1,000,000 for the building of a maternity home for the wives of British sailors.

Lady Beatty is an American girl. Before her marriage to the admiral in 1901 she was Ethel Field, only daughter of America's merchant prince, Marshall Field, Sr., of Chicago.

Sir David and Lady Beatty have two sons and maintain a house at London and a country place at Brooksbury Hall, Leicestershire.

During the war Lady Beatty interested herself in the welfare of the families of the men in the British fleet, an interest which has culminated in her campaign for the huge fund for a maternity home.

ENDORSE DOUBLE PLATOON
The double platoon system for the local fire department was endorsed last evening by the Beavers, Stationary Engineers and Carpenters' unions at their regular meetings. It is understood that the project, which has been endorsed by the Trades and Labor council, will be brought to the attention of all local unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

LOWELL TELEPHONE GIRLS HONORED

Five Lowell girls, three of them former operators and two still in the employ of the Telephone company, were among the 75 operators of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. who yesterday were officially honored by their company in Boston. The local young women were Miss Nellie Snow who was one of four to receive a citation from General Pershing for gallant service, rendered in France; Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Eugenie Racicot, both of whom were with the A.E.F. with Miss Snow, and Miss Olive Gattman and Miss Gineras, who trained for army service but lost the opportunity to go across when the armistice came.

In appreciation of their patriotic services, both abroad and at home, the company yesterday, after weeks of preparation, provided an all-day celebration for the girls. In the morning they were received at the company's headquarters and in the afternoon were tendered a theatre party and a banquet at the Copley Plaza at night.

GRAND CARNIVAL PLANS COMPLETE

As the crowning feature of the week of publicity being conducted by the Community Service Club for girls, the plans are complete for the rollicking carnival of mirth to be held in the club rooms in the Runels building tomorrow evening.

Everything is free. All girls over 17 years of age are cordially invited to attend. A happy smile is the admission pass. The main assembly hall will be transformed into a fantastic avenue of concessions and features. In addition to the booths in which one may run the gamut of things unusual and unseen, special numbers, such as the Lowell Pollies, the Flamingo Pygmies and a penny arcade will have prominent positions on the program.

The week of publicity during the first four days has been productive of many new members and a splendid revival of interest. The fall and winter programs of activities have appealed to a great many girls and the special classes are nearly filled. In fact the demand for registration in millinery and dressmaking classes has been so great that two full classes in each already have been formed. The original plans called for one class in each branch of handiwork.

C. Y. M. L. CONCERT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Members of the C.Y.M.L. have practically completed their plans for the concert which they will present at the Lowell Opera House next Sunday evening at 8.15. Miss Lily Meagher, the soprano soloist, will give a program combining operatic and sacred selections with popular Irish folk songs that have been made so popular in the revival of Irish music in the last few years. Mr. Winston Wilkinson, violinist, will entertain with several selections, and Mr. Edwin Schneider will accompany at the piano. Mr. Schneider and Mr. Wilkinson are the accompanists of Mr. John McCormack this season.

The members of the club at a meeting this week reported a large advance sale of tickets, and indications point to one of the largest attendances that a concert ever drew in this city. The popularity of this organization has been attested by the spirit in which the people have responded to help them in this, their first entertainment since their war activities ceased. Tickets are now on sale at the Lowell Opera house, and the management reports that but a few reserved seats remain unclaimed.

ENGLISHTOWN, N. J., Oct. 2.—Two moonshine stills concealed in the cellars of farmhouses six miles from the center of this town were raided by federal agents today. FIND BODIES OF ARMY MEN BURIED ON BEACH

NOGALES, ARIZ., Oct. 2.—The bodies of two men dressed in army uniforms and with insignia of the aviation corps in their pockets, found buried on the beach of the Bay of Los Angeles, Lower California, about 300 miles south of San Diego, are believed to be those of Lieuts. Frederick B. Waterhouse and Cecil H. Connelly, according to a report made to military authorities today by Joe Allen Richards of Chicago, on his arrival from Guatemala, Mex. Lieuts. Waterhouse and Connelly disappeared six weeks ago while on border patrol duty between Yuma, Ariz., and San Diego. According to Richards, the bodies were found by himself and William Rose, Sept. 23.

In the pockets were insignia of the aviation corps and jewelry which Richards and Rose took as a means of identification. Richards said the Mexican authorities at Santa Rosalia took the jewelry from them.

SEND ULTIMATUM TO LAWRENCE MILL MEN

LAWRENCE, Oct. 2.—The disposition of a railroad track which runs along the south bank of the North canal here and over which freight is carried for some of the big mill corporations has been a question which has worried more than one city government during the past half a dozen years.

After spending a couple of million dollars in building the new "central bridge" over the Merrimack river and a bridge approach to it over each of the Essex company's two canals, one at the north and one at the south end, the city is faced with the proposition that unless this track is disposed of in some way freight cars will be continually shifting between the North canal approach and the entrance to the bridge proper.

A hearing was held in connection with the problem by the city government yesterday which resulted in that body's sending, by unanimous vote, an ultimatum to the corporations that unless they submit by next Wednesday a definite plan for the solving of the problem which will not mean the expenditure of any money by the city a dead end to their track will be established at the west side of the bridge, and they will be allowed to fight it out in the courts. The new bridge has not yet been opened to the public, although its construction was started six years ago, and during the intervening period it has been a bone of contention in many different phases. Construction work on the entire structure from Canal to Merrimack street is about completed, but there still must be settled the vexing problem of this particular track.

The first riddle ever recorded was propounded by Samson in the Book of Judges, 14th chapter, 14th verse.

200 NAVAL STAFF OFFICERS TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Resignations of nearly 200 naval staff officers will be accepted, Secretary Daniels announced today as soon as the bureau to which they are attached notify him the officers' services can be spared. The acceptances will apply only to those staff officers who are not graduates of the naval academy. No action will be taken for the present on the resignation of 53 line officers now on file.

Many of the resignations are due to a belief of the officers that their navy pay is insufficient to support their families properly.

The man on the running board of President Wilson's machine is "Joe Murphy, known to his secret service associates as 'the most responsible man in America'." Behind the machine are Miles McCahill and Walter Ferguson, of the president's guard who seem to have sensed danger on their left flank. A false move in the crowd will bring seven of these "eagles" swooping into action, lest harm befall the chief executive of the nation.

EAGLE-EYED SLEUTHS PROTECT PRESIDENT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—"The most responsible man in America!"

Joseph E. Murphy, a smallish, argus-eyed American of Irish parentage, holds the title. Together with six carefully-chosen associates, members of the United States secret service, it is his business to guard the president from bodily harm, at the expense of his own life, and those of his companions, if that should be necessary.

Do you wonder that he is called "the most responsible man in America?"

Possibly you have an idea that the protection of the president from vicious or irresponsible persons is a sinecure? If so, stop to consider that three of our chief executives have been assassinated, that attempts have been made on the lives of at least two others (Johnson and Roosevelt) and that the plans of countless "cranks" and malcontents, aimed at the lives of our presidents, have been thwarted by members of the secret service.

A secret service man, to qualify for the job of helping to guard the president, must prove to the satisfaction of his superiors that he has thoroughly developed that uncanny "sixth sense" by which it is possible to "feel" danger before it's evident to the eye or ear.

He must be able to think at lightning speed and act in the twinkling of an eye. He must be possessed of unquestioned courage and resourcefulness.

"Joe" Murphy's eyes, as well as those of his six assistants, scan the face, figure, costume and—chief of all—the general attitude of every person who gets close to the president. No one, be he governor of a state, mayor of a city, or ordinary citizen, escapes that searching scrutiny.

Many an innocent citizen, reaching for a handkerchief to wave, has been borne to earth by these uncompromising "eagles of the secret service." Nor can they even stop to make apologies. Their business is to guard the chief executive of the nation.

Murphy and Miles McCahill are the deans of the president's guards, having watched successively over the persons of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. The others—"Ed" Starling, "Billie" Landvoigt, "Jack" Fitzgerald, W. A. Ferguson and J. G. Slye—have seen less service with the presidents but are none the less dependable.

"It's a fascinating life," said one of them, during the recent Wilson visit to San Francisco, "and we sure get hold of some queer cases—but the job is nerve-racking, especially in times of great political excitement, or a bitter campaign. We never know when some wild-eyed crook or darn fool is going to try something!"

And with these steel-spring chaps it's an everlasting disgrace to let a man even attempt to harm the president. Although the police of Buffalo, for instance, pre-empted the duty of guarding President McKinley the day he was shot, the secret service man who was nearest the martyred chief executive was never entirely forgiven by the service.

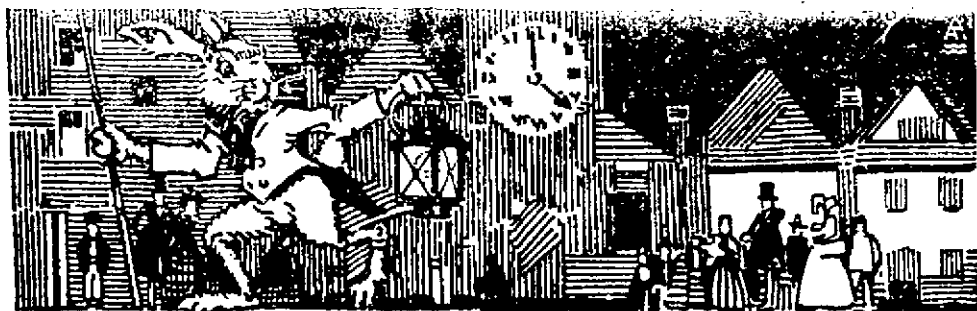

Take it altogether, it's not much fun being one of "the most responsible men in America!"

It was Thomas Jefferson's wish that he be remembered as the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the statute of Virginia for religious freedom and as the father of the University of Virginia.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS

We have received the following expression of gratitude from the Lowell teachers' organization:

Editor Sun—
Dear Sir—
The president of the Teachers' Organization has requested me to tender you the sincere gratitude and appreciation of every Lowell teacher for your timely and valuable assistance through the splendid editorial published in The Sun of Saturday, September 20. It certainly was a magnificent editorial and made plain the position of the teachers of Lowell in reference to their claim for an increase of salary. Again with appreciation, I remain
Gratefully yours,
KATHERINE KELLEY, Sec'y.

The Sun is glad to espouse and support the just claims of the teachers of Lowell to increased compensation. What we said in the editorial referred in Miss Kelley's communication was aimed chiefly at helping the teachers to secure the increase of salary demanded, as a matter of simple justice. But much more might have been said in reference to the detrimental effect upon our school system of a mean or biggishly policy under which the rate of compensation is held below what is fair, below what is actually necessary to meet the high cost of living and below what is paid for like service in other cities even less important than Lowell.

Already about half a dozen of our best teachers have found positions elsewhere and have left the city, while others are understood to be considering offers at salaries much higher than are paid for like service in Lowell.

We have already named several cities of our class that are paying higher salaries to their teachers than are now in force in Lowell. Holyoke is not nearly as large a city as Lowell, yet she pays her teachers much better than does Lowell.

Perhaps some would like to see the figures. Here they are for elementary teachers:

Kindergarten Principals:
Minimum (not given)	$1150
Maximum $ 840	1250
Kindergarten Assistants, 4th year:
Minimum 600	950
Maximum 780	1150
Elementary, Grades 1-6:
Minimum 600	1050
Maximum 1080	1350
Elementary, Grades 7, 8, 9:
Minimum 600	1150
Maximum 1080	1450

In September, 1918, all teachers receiving $1400 and less in Holyoke were given an increase of $200; all from $1000 to $2000, an increase of $150; over $2000, an increase of $100. In September, 1919, the past month, all teachers received a flat increase of $300.

It may be stated that the maximum amounts mentioned in the Lowell list, are reached only after seven years of service and that many teachers are struggling along after years of service but not yet in sight of the maximum.

The men teachers in the high school, with the exception of the submaster, have to climb the seven-year stair in order to secure $1870 per annum, and there they must stop.

Is it any wonder that young men who spent money and valuable time in securing a college education, are unwilling to settle down at any such salary as this?

The special teachers, however, fare even worse. Usually specialists are highly paid, but in the public schools of Lowell, the special teacher of drawing receives from $1050 to $1150; of music, from $1150 to $1610; sewing, from $810 to $1140.

Enough has been said to explain why many of our best teachers are leaving Lowell with obvious injury to the schools.

Judging from the wide difference between the minimum and maximum salaries paid to Lowell teachers, the school board appreciates the value of experience; but, if so, it should not allow some of our most experienced teachers to go to other cities merely because their services are not more liberally rewarded. A reasonable increase would hold them. But apparently the school board does not intend to do anything, having "passed the buck" to the municipal council and the teachers themselves.

The question arises as to how long this pernicious policy is to continue. Is it to be checked now or to go on until another batch of our best teachers goes out to help fill the 35,000 vacancies reported at the opening of the schools a few weeks ago?

The city of Everett has just voted to give each of its teachers a bonus of $50 and to increase their salaries 25 per cent by January 1 of next year.

Would that be too much for the city of Lowell to do? The teachers do not ask quite so much; but their moderate demand should be granted without further delay in the interest of the schools, the progress of education and the benefit of the entire community.

Save the schools by paying the teachers as they deserve.

The action of the school board in refusing to grant the request of the teachers for another hearing is in line with the policy adopted by Police Commissioner Curtis of Boston when the police of that city sought an increase of pay and some changes in working conditions.

The Lowell teachers are not strikers; but if the school board persists in ignoring their appeal, they will be justified in resorting to more emphatic measures to compel the municipal authorities to give them the same consideration as has been freely accorded to the employees of other city departments.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

With the cost of labor and material so extremely high, the opening of the tuberculosis hospital will involve considerable expense. The building itself cost the city perhaps four times the amount originally intended, and although it is now ready for occupancy the surrounding grounds require to be laid out with due regard for the possibilities of beautification.

If the city had the funds with which to meet the expense, it might employ a landscape gardener to apply his art in framing a design which, if developed during the next few years, would eventually surround the buildings with attractive shade trees and beautiful lawns. Under present conditions, we presume that this is out of the question. The grounds will be graded roughly and the possibilities of development will be left to future contingencies.

The maintenance of this hospital will be rather expensive as provision must be made for the superintendent and his family, together with a corps of nurses all in the administration building. The salaries of course will reach a considerable amount. In addition the cost of maintaining any considerable number of patients will probably be so great as to astonish some people. At the present time the city pays about $11,000 yearly for patients who have a settlement here, and are treated in institutions in other parts of the state.

It is not likely that any large number of tuberculosis patients will be admitted to this hospital for the next year or two. The board of health must stand ready to use a part of the building for isolation purposes in case of another visitation of influenza. That, it appears, will be the most practicable method of meeting the legal requirement, that every city must have an isolation hospital. It is a mistake to suppose that the new hospital will be open for the general treatment of contagious diseases. That is not its purpose.

The men who prevented the purchase of the Pillsbury site forced the city to accept an alternative that has proved to be a white elephant in point of expense and that may be so also in point of utility.

It will be comforting news when the announcement comes that sugar in sufficient quantities for all will be available this fall and coming winter, as was promised Boston housewives by sugar refiners yesterday. There is one bit of advice offered by refiners and dealers whatever be the situation: Women must not buy more than they need or go from store to store purchasing as much as they can. Consideration of the needs of others must be general in the event of any commodity becoming scarce.

President Wilson put the question of deciding on war time prohibition to congress and congress promptly passed it back to the president, who now passes it over to Secretary Baker. The country is informed definitely that if Secretary Baker declares demobilization has reduced the army to the pre-war basis the president will lift the ban on the liquor business, so that the thirsty ones may have an opportunity to enjoy "a wee dooch an' dorie" before the doors are closed.

Some clerical gentlemen in Lawrence have expressed the desire to probe the boxing exhibitions which have been taking place in that city.

It is not understood that they charge either the managers or the pugilists with not being on the level, although hundreds of the men who paid their money to see the last fight are inclined to question the honesty of the main bout. Boxing, properly conducted, is a good sport, but when used to fleece the public, it should be stopped.

Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce is authority for the statement that organized labor is losing public confidence because of radical leadership. Even the best friends of labor would regret to see the radicals get a controlling influence over the unions. The result would inevitably be what Secretary Redfield states and there is no telling how far it might throw back the necessary work and success of the unions affected.

In the lynching at Montgomery, Ala., on Sept. 28, one of the two victims shot to death was a returned soldier who had rendered valiant service to his country. Unfortunately not even heroic service to his country will save a negro from the fury of a southern mob, once the charge is made that he assaulted a white woman, whether that charge be true or false. It is a very serious state of affairs and a burning disgrace to the entire nation.

Unless one's belongings can be packed into several suit cases and lugged away on foot, there is a lamentable fallacy in the old saying, "it is cheaper to move than to pay rent." Under present conditions it costs a family very nearly a month's rent to move to a new abode. New York moving vans rent for $10 an hour during dull hours, but the cost jumps to $20 when business is particularly brisk.

Apparently, the more trouble arises in the Balkans or elsewhere to disturb the arrangements to be administered by the League of Nations, the better some of the senators at Washington like it. Anything which interferes with the territorial adjustments made by the peace congress pleases the senators who are lambasting the league and its authors, more particularly, President Wilson.

Just to be fashionable, we imagine, word is sent out from the neighboring city of Lawrence that 14 school children are out on strike as a protest against a school committee order which changed them from one building to another. Blame not the children but the parents.

What is the American delegation in Paris doing these days? Strange that we hear nothing from them either through the press or otherwise. They do not seem to get into the limelight as was the custom in the early stages of the conference.

SEEN AND HEARD

These are the times that try men's souls.

"No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage-ground of truth."

"Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire—conscience."

June hasn't a corner on the rare day market. September butted in a few times and October may follow suit.

Production in the United States and England tied up on account of strikes and Germany working overtime. Isn't this food for thought?

Going home the other evening we came across a smallish lad struggling with a big box that he was taking home for firewood via the up-ending route. We offered to assist him and he smilingly refused. We said the box seemed very large and heavy and we asked him why he refused assistance. Sitting on the box with his little, thin legs crossed he looked squarely at us, and the twinkle in his big brown eyes was good to see. "I don't want any help," he said, "because I don't want to get home too soon." We evidently looked our curiosity and he seemed to enjoy it. "You see," he continued, "there's work to do at home that I don't like and if my brother gets home from work before I get home with the box he'll do it." Can you beat it?

Not in the Wholesale Trade
Anxious Mother—Yes, Mr. Richleigh, the fact is that I have three daughters whom I want to see settled in life. Is this friend of yours a marrying man?
Mr. Richleigh—Not to any great extent. I'm afraid he wouldn't care about taking more than one of them—Stray Stories.

Wasn't Old Though
The doctors were holding a consultation beside the bed of a soldier who was to have an operation.
"I believe," said one of the surgeons softly, "that we should wait and let him get a little stronger before cutting him into him."

Alas! for Human Frailty
Speaking of booze: A few years ago, when Colorado was as wet as the great Sahara is not, the city editor of a Denver daily was having no inconceivable trouble in getting out a newspaper the day following each pay night.

Finally, in desperation, he issued the following mimeographed letter for distribution to members of the staff:

"Any member of this staff who is found under the influence of liquor, or with any indication of having been drinking during working hours, will be: Fined for the first misdemeanor; suspended for the second; and unconditionally discharged for the third."

These mimeographed letters were placed on the copy boy's desk with instructions to distribute them as soon as the staff appeared for work the next afternoon.

On the following afternoon there was heard a snort from the office of the society editor, and a usually meek little red-haired beauty came dashing out of her room, waving a piece of paper in her hand. "Where's the city editor?" she demanded. "I'll see why I have to be insulted like this."

Needless to say, there was a new city editor the next afternoon, and the staff gleefully drank its way to the days of prohibition.—Lorry A. Jacobs, the Dallas Dispatch, in "Pop."

They used to pay me dollars which were worth a hundred cents. They bought my ratalagas and which paid my rates and rent. They sometimes bought a little less, sometimes a little more, but they always were redeemable at almost every store. They came to me in bills or gold, in silver or in checks. And then my pay was U.S.A., but now it's only Mex.

Mex! Mex! My money now is Mex. Wage-money? Stage-money? Money made to vex. You wouldn't think, to look at it, it was so close to counterfeit. But when I try to cash it, what it will buy, it's Mex! Mex! Mex!

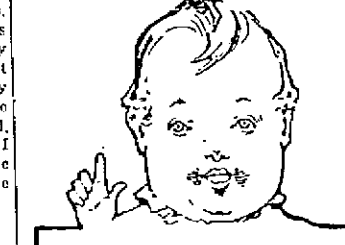

For now your dollar's taken in by any profiteer. At about the same percentage as the punch they put in beer! Its value's hardly visible, unless you put on a sweater. And so it's wise to realize your money's only Mex!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The old-time peppery interest in the World Series didn't make itself evident on the first day of the series this year from all indications available in and around Merrimack square. Nor was there as much advance discussion about the series as in previous years. One of the big factors which is thought to have contributed to this more or less comatose attitude on the part of the fans here in Lowell is the staging of the series out west, rather than nearer home. A Lowell fan can hardly be expected to have the same interest in Chicago or Cincinnati that he would in the Braves or Red Sox. The old telephones weren't kept on the jump yesterday as they have been during previous World Series games and at no time did the crowd in Merrimack square threaten to block traffic. But interest may live up as the series progresses. Yesterday's game was a little too one-sided to produce any great excitement at this distance from the scene of action.

I have heard good and bad news relative to that little girl, who attends the New Moody street school in Pawtucketville, and who during the past year has been vaccinated no less than three times. Yes, I have heard that the vaccine this time is becoming effective and that before long the little tot will be wearing a scar on her left arm, a sure sign that she has complied with the regulations of the board of health and the school department. Our little friend, when vaccinated for the third time feared she would have to go to the doctor's another time and have her little arm scratched once more, but not so, for although she was believed to be immune, the last vaccine worked like magic and now there is a "terrible" pain in her arm, while this is being followed by frequent headaches. "I would rather go to the doctor's twice a week than stand this horrible pain," she said, "for it was great sport for me to be vaccinated, every time I went to the doctor's office my father treated me with a banana split. I think I must go again to have the doctor give me something for the pain and pa will come, too."

GLAD TO GIVE HER TESTIMONIAL

MRS. OVIDE AUGER

I am most happy to be given the chance of testifying in favor of RED PILLS for pale and weak women, for they were of such help to me during the severe illness I have gone through, and which was all brought on through a chill. I was confined to my bed for three months, suffering from hemorrhages which naturally weakened me considerably. I was brought to the hospital, for my case appeared hopeless. I had often heard of RED PILLS, had read of them and of the numerous cures effected by their use, and so decided to give them a trial. I took them regularly and fifteen boxes were all that were needed to bring me back to health. The different symptoms which had alarmed me so much during my illness gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. Now I am feeling fine in every way, and able to attend to all my household duties, besides bringing up a numerous family.

MRS. OVIDE AUGER,
24 Miller's Lane,
Woonsocket, R.I.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills. 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

My office my father treated me with a banana split. I think I must go again to have the doctor give me something for the pain and pa will come, too."

SUPPLIES FOR LOWELL STATE GUARD MEN

Lowell's relief organizations have not become somnolent since the signing of the armistice and the advance of local members of the state guard has found the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus and Y.M.C.A. at their old stand, doling out supplies and comforts for the men doing guard duty in the hub.

The Red Cross has forwarded towels, soap, handkerchiefs and gloves for the three Lowell companies and one Westford company which comes under the jurisdiction of the North Middlesex county chapter. First Sgt. W. N. Gould of Co. G has been appointed buyer for the Red Cross.

The Knights of Columbus have made arrangements to send 50 coats to Boston and the Y.M.C.A. had forwarded a like number. Heretofore the men have had to sleep on straw or other makeshift contrivances.

CONCERT AND LECTURE

Lowell Moose Hear Eloquent Speakers Discuss Progress of Their Organization

A most enjoyable complimentary concert and lecture was held by Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, at the Colonial theatre on Middlesex street last evening, and a large and enthusiastic audience heard various speakers discuss the progress of their organization, including Hon. Frank J. Monahan, supreme councilman of the Order of Moose at San Francisco, Cal.; Hon. Charles A. A. McGee of California, past supreme dictator; James J. Davis, director general of the order; Dictator David A. Hartnett of the Lowell organization, and Brother Jas. F. Miskella of the local lodge, who acted as chairman of the evening's program. The musical program consisted of selections given by various local entertainers, and proved most acceptable.

Dictator David A. Hartnett made the opening address of welcome to the members and sketched briefly the activities of the local lodge. Brother Miskella was the next speaker, and made a brief address on the topic, "Fraternity."

The principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Frank J. Monahan, was then introduced and devoted considerable of his address to a description of the Mooseheart Institution in Illinois. Homes have been erected for aged and widowed members and their children, he said, vocational schools established, and at the present time fully 700 children are cared for there. He also complimented the members on the businesslike appearance of the city and urged them to continue their efficient work in making the local lodge one to feel proud of.

Following the speechmaking several local entertainers offered musical selections, including William Mahoney, Frank P. McCartin, Daniel F. McCaffery and Com. James E. Donnelly. The O'Reilly Jazz band also went over the top with some pleasing numbers.

The following committee was in charge of the arrangements for the evening: Dictator David A. Hartnett, Vice Dictator Ernest P. Parsons, Prelate Charles McQuarrie, Treasurer John M. Hagan, Secretary Thomas M. Kenan, Junior Past Dictator Edward Goodson, Trustees John B. Curtin, Charles W. Richard and P. H. Monahan, Sergeant-at-Arms Charles Mc-

BIG DEMAND FOR GOVERNMENT FOOD

In just half of the allotted time the 200,000 pounds of government canned foodstuffs, comprising the third carload to come to Lowell, were gobbled up by local householders last evening. The sale was held at the Red Cross rooms in Market street and was advertised from 5 to 9 o'clock, but so heavy was the demand at the outset that everything practically was sold out at 7 o'clock. Approximately 450 individual sales cleaned out the lot.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was on hand when the sale began and remained on the job for an hour or more. For the Red Cross, Miss Julia A. Pezzer, Mrs. George H. Leachy and M. R. Scott were in charge and they supervised a splendid system of quick sales. The prevailing prices were moderate and somewhat cheaper than in other cities. Tomatoes were 10 cents a can, corn and stringless beans, the same and small sized cans of corned beef, 30 cents.

Long before the hour of 5 a large crowd had gathered outside the Red Cross headquarters and the initial rush was a bit disconcerting, but was soon regulated by the saleswomen. All sorts of vehicles and containers were used to cart away the stuff bought, but nobody seemed to care as long as they were able to get a few cans of their favorite brand.

SALE OF RED CROSS STAMPS
When the United States asked the young men of the country to rally to the national standards during the war, the draft was found to be one of the best medical detectives that could be imagined. Through it the standard of health among the young men of the country was quickly and surely ascertained.

Altogether, out of the nearly 3,000,000 men who were picked by the draft, 62,000 were found to be tuberculous, and somewhat cheaper than in other cities. Tomatoes were 10 cents be rejected. They were unfit to take up arms for their country and, in fact, were a danger to their comrades.

Tuberculosis is one of the gravest problems America has to solve today. Its death toll is enormous. Its sick toll is even greater. Every year at least 150,000 die of tuberculosis in the United States. For every death there are eight open tuberculosis cases reported. That means over 1,200,000 persons have the disease.

Tuberculosis can be prevented and it can be cured. That is the burden of the great educational campaign now being waged by the National Tuberculosis Association and the 1000 state and local organizations affiliated with it. The rapid growth of tuberculosis in the country, especially with the reaction from the war at hand, means that more extensive educational work is required. It must be forthcoming and such a campaign has been planned.

To obtain funds to teach everyone that tuberculosis can be prevented more than $20,000,000 Red Cross seals are to be sold just before Christmas.

SERVED CLAM SUPPER

A regular meeting of the members of Centralville lodge, 215, L.O.O.F., was held last evening, the meeting being in the form of a "Get-together" affair. The initiatory degree was conferred on one candidate and plans for degree work for the coming season were discussed. At the close of the business session a steamed clam supper was served and interesting remarks were made by District Deputy Grand Master George W. Hall of Lawrence, former Deputy William H. Robinson, Past Grand Jelliff and Falcke of Lawrence and Mayor Thompson of this city.

MAY RAISE PRICE OF MILK HERE

Rumor has it that the price of milk in this city will soon be increased from 15 to 16½ cents a quart in order to conform with the Boston prices. The Boston dealers have announced a raise of a half cent a quart in the price of milk beginning yesterday and, inasmuch as the local producers last month decided to keep up with the Hub prices, it is believed that the consumers will soon be asked to pay 16½ cents a quart instead of 15 cents, the prevailing price. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the New England Producers' association, but no definite action was taken at that time.

In Africa the Mad women make beer of millet-seed and it is served free of charge in one particular hut.

PROTEST COMFORT STATION LOCATION

Residents of Summer street protested to the park commission against the proposed location of a comfort station on the Summer street side of the South common at the regular meeting of the commission held last evening at city hall. The protest was headed and an effort will be made to place the station near the Thorndike street side of the common. The only other business taken up was a report from the superintendent showing where this year's appropriation for trees has been or is to be spent and the granting of a number of petitions for the trimming or removal of trees.

Dodge a cold

Some folks are fortunate enough always to breathe pure air, and never get run down by overwork or exposure. Even these lucky people do not always escape the contagious colds which prevail at certain seasons to such an extent as to be almost epidemic. It is wise to be prepared for troubles of this nature in our climate, and the one all-important thing is to have at hand a safe, efficient and reliable remedy to ward off the trouble and danger of such an attack. For sixty years "L. F." Atwood's Medicine has been a household standby for emergencies of this kind. It starts up the liver and bowels, prevents congestion, and restores the functions to their normal condition. If you have never used it, get a 50 cent bottle from your dealer, or write for a free sample to the "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

INDIAN PLAN SEASON
The Indian football team, state amateur champions of 1917, and an eleven of admitted strength and speed, opens its 1919 season Oct. 11 against a Charlestown navy yard team. A call for players has been sent out for next Sunday and among those expected to respond are: Gleason, McIntyre, Morse, O'Halloran, Quinn, Toy, Justin, Turner and Spence. Ed. Donlan will manage the team.

BLEACHERY BOWLING LEAGUE
The Lowell Bleachery Bowling league will open its 1919-1920 season this evening with all six teams in action and some red hot contests are expected.
The management and various overseers of the plant have been invited to attend the initial event tonight.

30,511 AT THE FIRST GAME

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—The National commission announced that the total attendance at yesterday's game was 30,511. The total amount of revenue taken in, not including the war tax, was $28,778. The combination's share of this was given as $387,750, leaving the remainder to be divided at $38-600.20. Of this the players' share was given as $53,340.12 and the share of the two clubs and the leagues at $35,660.08.

THREE-HEAT RECORD FOR DIRECT C. BURNETT

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2.—A pacing race in which the three-heat record for the season was established was the feature of the program at the trotting yesterday. Direct C. Burnett, the leading pacing money winner of the season, defeated the field in the $2000 Cumberland event for 233 paces in the first two heats, but lost the final to an outsider. All three heats were faster than 2:02. Aside from this bit of fireworks the racing was tame.
A world's record was equalled before the start of the regular program when Peter Manning was given a record of 2:08½, tying the world's mark for three-year-old trotting geldings, made here last season by Faston.
Direct C. Burnett was a $200 to $350 choice over the field for the pacing stake. In the first heat Frank Dewey was sent off on a break and Hal Mahoney was the contender against Murphy's mount, forcing him to win in 2:01½, a new record for the big gelding. Dewey took up the task in the second, but Burnett beat him rather handily in the same time. In the third heat Hal Mahoney came on again and in a sensational finish managed to nose out Murphy's mount in 2:01½, a new record for the western gelding.

LEONARD FLATTENS CHARLIE METRIE

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 2.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, scored a virtual knockout over Charlie Metrie, of Milwaukee in the seventh round of what was scheduled to be a 10-round fight here last night. Newspapermen saw every round to Leonard. In the seventh, his opponent took a count of nine and a moment later was floored again. The referee had counted two when the officials stopped the bout.

The Call-'em

Ruthless Mr. Ruether, rejected and scorned by big league magnates who would not even bother with him at the wolver price, shunted back and forth in the minors and at last finding his proper station under the magic wand of Moran, today roles Cincinnati yesterday. Like an over-lord, the Cincinnati kid by a wonderful exhibition of patience and stick-to-itiveness has brought his starchy way to the highest pinnacle of fame. Leading National league pitcher, he was Moran's maiden choice; picked in preference to the older Salter, he was weighed in the balance of world's tries scales and found to contain full measure of ability, confidence and heart.

He's a Hard Man to Dope
As Bill remarked, bright and early this morning, Mr. Psychology played a great game at Reiland field yesterday. His sure did. The Reds had momentum sent into the series under a full head of steam. They are a new team and the enthusiasm and joy of playing has not been painted out by the dross of commercialism.
Moran had his gang running on high all year, with "today's game" as the goal and no worries for the future.
Call Cincinnati a freak team if you will, compare them to the Braves of 1911, and then give them their due.

The Old Alibi
Poor Eddie Cleotte. With bent back he led the field in the face of a terrific hostile fire—all done. He says his carelessness in hitting Rath with a pitched ball in the first inning upheaved him to such an extent that he could not retain his effectiveness and usual skill and confidence. That may have shocked his nerves a little, but he was a great pitcher. The undermining he received in the fourth rocked him a lot more than his wildness in the first. If his nerve left him in the first, he was left with a sechning when he fanned Kopf, forced Neale to roll out to Collins and then made Wingo lift to Felsch. And in the third, when with Ruether on, sech-ters to fly out.

A Black Horse
All over the country in the fourth inning of yesterday's game when Ci-cotte went out and was replaced by Wilkinson, the question was asked:
"Who's this Wilkinson?" Although he was a part of the White Sox, he was not a practical unknown. Nobody believed Gleason would dare send in Kerr or Williams, but the bets were evenly divided that Eddie's relief would be either Lowdermilk, James or Faber.

Be Among Those Present
Although the crowd was rather slim in Merrimack square yesterday, at the start of the game it grew as the battle continued and before the end numbered several hundred. Saturday afternoon's crowd ought to pack the streets and sidewalks. The Sun newspaper man hopes to see many of his friends in the gang that he may give them the well known greeting: "That includes you, Joseph C."

That Athletic Field
What happened that, or rather, those petitions for a new athletic field in Lakeview avenue? Have they been laid over until the next general court? It's too late now to have the field ready for football even if a start was made today, but time speedeth and the 1920 baseball season will swing around before we realize it. Let's not allow it to mark time with the new high school.

JAMES RUSSELL IN REMINISCENT MOOD

According to our old friend Jim Russell, Oak Taylor, purported to be a surviving member of the old Cincinati Red Stockings, is being fêted and dined and honored in Cincinnati without good reason. "There are only two real survivors of that old machine," says Jim, "George Wright of Boston, who played shortstop, and Cal McVey of Los Angeles, catcher and outfielder.
Taylor traveled about with the team as a scouter, but never a player and, therefore, should not be accorded the same honors as are being rightfully bestowed on the other two."
Jim was in a reminiscent mood this morning, after reading of the deeds of Pat Moran's Mad Men in Cincinnati.
"The old Red Stockings were a great bunch of ball players," he mused, "and do you know that they played through the whole season of 1889 and until June of 1910 without losing a single game? Yes, sir; they were a balcyon days in Cincinnati just as these are."

MR. SELLMAN HONORED

A farewell reception was given at the theatre last evening, the program prepared by his friends and attachés of the house consisting of a ment features given by well known local artists. Mr. Sellman is severing his connection with the theatre in a who appeared were Mrs. Benjamin

so. He asserts further that unless the activity of the Cossack chiefs is controlled he will recommend that America refuse to render further assistance to Russia. He says he will retain the arms until advised as to what action take.

In replying the Omsk government says that, in its view, the subject constitutes a diplomatic and not a military problem, which should be approached through recognized diplomatic channels, and that the government, therefore, awaits a communication from the state department at Washington. It says that "not wishing to formulate any recriminations, it will not enter into an argument which might impair the lively sympathy which it believes should be awakened in America for the cause of Admiral Kolchak.

In respect to the holding up of the shipment of rifles, astonishment is expressed by the government that local troubles in the far east, which the government regards as an international problem, and not a purely Russian one, should impel General Graves to take steps which might jeopardize a more far-reaching and more vital undertaking, namely, the suppression of Bolshevism at the critical moment when Siberian troops are conducting a successful offensive.

It is pointed out that General Graves' course is "peculiarly astonishing in view of the fact that the rifles were bought and paid for by the Russian government."

The threatened suppression of the newspaper. It is declared, could not conceivably be construed as a matter subject to American military jurisdiction.

TROOPS CALLED TO QUELL RIOT

Trouble Started When Shots Were Fired at Officers on Trail of Bootlegger

ELAINE, Ark., Oct. 2.—With 500 federal troops due to arrive today from Camp Pike, and several hundred deputy sheriffs and civilians, all heavily armed, moving about the affected area, officials here believed that the situation arising from yesterday's race trouble at Elaine, where nine persons were killed, would be brought under control today.

After an all-day fight yesterday in the streets of Elaine between white posse men and organized negroes, armed with rifles, the casualties were two white men and seven negroes killed and a large number of whites and blacks wounded, some seriously.

Fighting ceased only with the coming of darkness and negroes were reported banded in the cane brakes awaiting daylight to renew hostilities. Governor Brough, who is accompanying the troops, was expected to call conferences of representative whites and negroes during the day, in an effort to bring an end to the trouble.

Officers Fired Upon

The trouble started with an attack Tuesday evening upon W. A. Adkins, a special railroad officer, Charles Pratt, a deputy sheriff and a negro trooper, who had gone by automobile to Elaine to arrest a bootlegger. The officers stopped near Elaine to repair a tire and were fired upon by unknown persons. Adkins fell dead and Deputy Pratt was wounded. The negro trooper called the sheriff's office here by telephone. A posse was immediately sent to Elaine.

A large number of negroes were taken prisoners by the posse and most of them brought here. One white man also was captured. He has been identified as U. S. Bratton, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark. According to the authorities a quantity of questionable literature was found in his possession. He has been charged with murder in connection with the killing of Adkins.

TROOPS HOLD NEGRO

Arrested for Attack on White Woman at Omaha—More Soldiers Called

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 2.—One negro suspect was under arrest today in connection with the attack on Mrs. H. G. Wisener, a white woman yesterday afternoon. Military authorities who have been in control of the city since last Sunday's rioting, refused to tell where the negro was confined or the extent of the evidence against him.

The attack, one of a series of 35 similar crimes since June 1, occurred within a few blocks of army headquarters, where a machine gun is mounted.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Thompson, carpenter, 125F Marcellus avenue, Manhattan, N. Y., I will send you this notice and show it to any other who is ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.

LONG BEGINS TOUR OF STATE; G. O. P. ACTIVE

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—With Governor Coolidge, republican candidate for re-nomination sick in bed and Richard H. Long of Framingham, democratic candidate for nomination as governor, rushing from one city, town and hamlet of western Massachusetts to another, the campaign for election of governor of Massachusetts has gotten under way and appearances indicate that there will be no let-up until election day, November 4.

Mr. Long has lost no time and, beginning yesterday morning at Westfield, he continued a whirlwind tour of speeches through more than 20 cities and towns winding up late last night at Pittsfield. He will begin once more at Hinsdale this morning, with Springfield as his objective tonight, and on Friday will start at Ludlow, leaving off at Oxford in the afternoon so as to return to Boston to attend the "night before" of the democrats at the Quincy House and prepare for the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday afternoon.

Both Parties Girding Loins

At the republican convention to be held in Tremont Temple Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock Congressman Allen T. Treadway will preside. Speaker Warner of the house of representatives will be chairman of the resolutions committee. There will be speeches by the governor, if he has sufficiently recovered from his illness, the lieutenant-governor, Senator Lodge, members of the state ticket, and others. The resolutions committee will hold hearings today and Friday at 2.30 o'clock, with a view to securing the opinion of republicans as to the party's platform. These will be held in Room 325, 18 Tremont street.

The democratic candidates will hold their "night before" at the Quincy House Friday night. There will be no banquet or set speeches, the occasion being a sort of "get together." The democratic state committee will also meet at the Quincy House Friday evening. The committee on resolutions will meet in the same hotel at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to prepare the party's platform, which expected to include, among other planks, one providing for the "freedom of Ireland."

At the democratic convention to be held in Ford Hall Saturday at 1 o'clock John F. McGrath of Worcester will preside. A platform will be presented and debated, and other business transacted. It is expected that Richard H. Long of Framingham, candidate for governor; Colonel John F. J. Herbert of Worcester, candidate for lieutenant-governor, and other members of the state ticket, also United States Senator David I. Walsh, and others, will speak. Invitations to speak have been tendered Foss, Monahan and Delbrick, the defeated candidates for nomination for governor.

Long Attacks Coolidge

"Governor Coolidge has shown himself to be the weakest, most helpless and incompetent governor that our state has ever had," was the estimate of the present chief executive of the commonwealth of Massachusetts as expressed by Richard H. Long of Framingham, democratic candidate for governor, in speeches at Pittsfield and North Adams last night.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRHICAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of the ears, head noises or ordinary deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the ear passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the English army is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 cent of hot water and a little grain of sugar. Stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing ear noises. Close the nostrils should open. Breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is removed. Eucalypti used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

CHANGES IN OCCUPANCY OF LOCAL STORES

The store occupied by J. A. & P. V. Follen, jewelers, at 32 Central street, has been leased by Snyder the hat man and the tenants have been notified to vacate for Nov. 1. The leasing of the Follen store by Snyder is the beginning of the evacuation of the street floor of Wyman's Exchange, which a few years ago was leased to Liggett Riker Jaynes Co., proprietor of a chain of drug stores, but according to information received this morning the latter company may not occupy its new premises for five more years. The local manager of the store stated that the leases of the Newark Shoe Co., Snyder, Shanley and Mr. Donaldson, proprietor of the art and camera store, expire this year, but Messrs. Shanley and Donaldson were given another leave for five more years.

Liggett's managed stated today that the drug business will not be moved into the new quarters until the entire floor from Nelson's store in Merrimack to Horne's coat office in Central street is vacated and inasmuch as two of the tenants have leases for five years more the company has renewed its lease in Merrimack street for the same period. It is probable that the stores that will be vacated will be leased on short terms to other business firms.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Steels led at the strong opening of today's stock market, gains extending from large fractions to a point. Crucible was particularly strong, four points in advance. Steel's slight advance. Tobacco, leather, paper, woolen, sugar and railway shares contributed to the early strength at gains of 1 to 2 points. But equipment, shipbuilding and rubber issues were irregular. Steels cancelled their gains before the end of the first half hour when Crucible extended its lead to almost 10 points.

The entire list seemed to be influenced by the erratic course of Crucible Steel which declined 11 points, soon making up most of its loss, only to fall back again. Reactions elsewhere ranged from one to three points, equipment, motors and oil being most affected. Even autos, which were strongest as a group, were irregular at times. American Woolen and the popular rubber tire shares led the rally of the second hour with American Oil, Standard Oil and Texas and Pacific starting common and Texas and Pacific at gains of 2 to 6 points. Steels shaded again at noon, but equipment strengthened. Call money opened at 6 per cent, and declined being accelerated by professional pressure. Reactions ran from two to ten points in speculative issues, notably tobacco, which lacked support. Equipment, which was also making partial recovery with other standard industrial.

MANY STEEL STRIKERS TEST VOTE ON TREATY RETURN TO WORK

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—At the plant of the Indiana Steel Co. at Gary, Ind., 1500 additional strikers were reported today to have returned to work, while at Indiana Harbor, Ind., about 5000 of the 7000 striking employees of the Indiana Steel Co. and the Mark Mfg. Co. are said to have expressed a desire to return as soon as proper protection is assured.

The American Steel & Wire Co. at Waukegan, Ill., started its rolling mills today for the first time since the strike began and is reported to have a force of about 5000 men at work.

In the South Chicago district, the Illinois Steel Co. is said to have about 1000 men at work and operating units in a number of departments.

Plants also were reported to be in operation at Joliet, Ill., and other points with reduced forces.

At Gary, Jacob Great, a striker who returned to work, was found severely beaten by three union men.

Rushing Back to Work
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Improvement in the labor situation was reported today at the offices of the United States Steel Corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Both reported that men were fast returning to work in all districts.

Many Going Back
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Observers said the number of men who entered the Carnegie plant today was much greater than on any previous day and for the first time some of the foreigners were among them.

Every Department Running
HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—Officials of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation today stated that more men had reported for work and that every department was in operation in the Steelton plant.

Pickets at Ohio Plants
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Large numbers of pickets appeared before the Ohio workers of the Carnegie Steel Co. today, anticipating an attempt of the company to start operating.

Officials Claim Improvement
BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 2.—Gradual improvement in the Bethlehem Steel strike was claimed today by officials of the company who said that not more than 10 per cent of their workmen were out now. They declared that several hundred had returned to work yesterday and that more were expected today.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—Union organizers were busy today and reported gains in the number of men on strike. Employers declared that more men were returning to work each day.

ca, John A. Dunn, 19, of So. Boston, walked, still nonchalantly, through the deserted guard room and out of the building—then he disappeared. The police are still searching for him. Dunn and Martin McCourtney, another So. Boston youth, pleaded guilty before Judge Enright yesterday to stealing a bookie register from a Boston bound street car in Billedeca, Sept. 29, and were each held in $300 for disposition next Wednesday.

Following the trial both youths were taken down stairs and locked in cells preparatory to removing them to the Lowell jail, both boys having been unable to secure the necessary bail.

McCourtney, who refused to court to tell the names of his parents, was afterwards taken from his cell for further cross-examination, and after being returned to the keeper, Dunn was returned to Keeper Barry after the examination, and Barry took the youth back to the cell, turning the lock, which for some unknown reason failed to catch.

When Keeper Barry made his rounds through the cells shortly afterwards he found McCourtney safely inside, but Dunn was missing. The only explanation he could offer was that the lock must have failed to catch and that Dunn had waited for an opportunity to escape when he was in another part of the station.

The police of all surrounding towns have been notified of Dunn's escape, and it is the belief of the local police that he will soon be apprehended.

STRIKERS BETTER TO WORK
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—All the longshoremen who walked out in Brooklyn yesterday returned to work today. They thought their demands, instead of being referred to the national adjustment commission, had been rejected, the union announced.

CONSULTATION ON PRES. WILSON'S CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Despite a fairly good night's rest, President Wilson was not so well this morning and Rear Admiral Grayson has called in consultation Dr. F. X. Dercum, a neurologist of Philadelphia.

Dr. Dercum was expected at the White House today.

Admiral Grayson issued the following bulletin at 11 a. m.:

"The president had a fairly good night, but his condition is not at all good this morning."

"The president's condition is not considered alarming. It was explained at the White House and the decision, to call in Dr. Dercum was made as a precautionary measure and to relieve the pressure of Dr. Grayson, who has been with the president almost continuously since he was taken ill a week ago while on a speaking tour."

The president was described as extremely restless. Dr. Grayson insists that he remain quiet, and is trying to direct his mind from work and executive matters in which he is desirous of taking a hand. He has been permitted to sign a few bills and attend to some few other routine matters.

Dr. Grayson has been in consultation with Rear Admiral E. R. Stitt, head of the naval medical school, and Dr. Dennis of the naval dispensary, but they have not seen the president.

Dr. Grayson expects Dr. George de Schweinfalt, an eye specialist of Philadelphia, to visit the president this week.

Noted Specialist
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Dr. F. X. Dercum, who has been summoned to the White House, is regarded as one of the world's foremost specialists on nervous diseases.

He is professor of nervous and mental diseases at Jefferson Medical college and a member of all the leading medical and philosophical societies. He is about 63 years of age.

Ten years ago he was made a member of the Societe de Neurologie of Paris. It is composed of less than 50 of the world's leading specialists in nervous disorders. Only one other American physician was ever taken into this body.

Believe End of Big R. R. Strike Near
LONDON, Oct. 2.—A wave of optimism swept through both official and trade unionist circles today regarding the outcome of the negotiations for an adjustment of the strike, which were resumed this morning.

Premier Lloyd George, at an early hour, discussed the situation with his colleagues, Sir Eric Geddes and Sir Robert Horne, minister of transport and minister of labor, respectively, although he had been at work until the middle of the night.

At the headquarters of the National Union of Railway men, there was extreme activity and the opinion seemed to prevail that the outlook for a settlement was bright.

SECURES DELIVERY OF RIFLES TO RUSSIANS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—At the urgent request of the Omsk government, the state department has secured the delivery of the 14,000 rifles held up in Vladivostok by Major General Graves, the American commander, in retaliation for anti-American articles in a Vladivostok newspaper and because of hostile acts of Cossack chiefs in the far east. Diplomatic efforts to persuade the Omsk government to suppress the newspaper or to compel a less hostile attitude toward the United States and the troops under General Graves are being made.

The difficulties confronting the Omsk government are appreciated by state department officials. It is said, and every effort is being made to assist Admiral Kolchak to crush Bolshevism.

TO STATE PRISON
At the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday, Justice O'Connell on the bench, Nesib Abdallah, who was arrested in this city for breaking and entering a house in the daytime with attempt to commit larceny, was sentenced to not less than two and one-half years and not more than three and one-half years to the state prison. The prisoner will also finish one and one-half years from which he was paroled on a former sentence.

Abdallah's record, according to the bureau of state prisons, is as follows: July 17, 1901, burglary, three and a half years state prison, in Connecticut; Sept. 21, 1901, larceny from building, four to five years, Massachusetts state prison; Nov. 28, 1908, violation of Lord's day, fined $5; April 2, 1910, being present at a game, fined $5; Nov. 6, 1910, being present at a game, fined $2; Nov. 21, 1911, larceny from the person, fined $25; April 21, 1915, indicted in Essex superior court on eight counts for breaking and entering in the daytime and two counts for larceny, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state prison for from four to five years. These breaks were made from January, 1915, to April, and were in North Andover, Lawrence and Lynn, in which he was arrested as he attempted to draw a gun on an officer.

SEVEN RESERVATIONS
Proposed by Sen. Smith to Clear up Doubtful or Objectionable Language

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Opposing textual changes necessitating resubmission to Germany, but declaring ratification without reservations to be impossible, Senator Smith, democrat, of Georgia, in the senate today proposed seven reservations to the peace treaty, to clear up "doubtful or objectionable language."

While only specifying seven reservations, he said he believed substantial modification should be placed upon the labor provisions, but he withheld suggestions because other senators contemplated proposing a reservation covering that provision.

Senator Smith's first reservation is a substitute for the amendment of Senator Johnson, republican, California, designed to equalize the voting power in both the assembly and supreme council under the League of Nations. The next three are similar to those reported by the senate foreign relations committee affecting the right to withdraw from the league, the Monroe Doctrine, and reserving the right of this country to control its own internal affairs.

The fifth reservation covers Article 10. Senator Smith said the United States could not assume, under Article 10 or any other article, obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country or in case of controversy between other nations to engage in economic boycotts. The reservation further provides that mandates cannot be accepted for this country without the approval of congress.

As new reservations, Senator Smith proposed that the reparations commission could not interfere with commerce between the United States and Germany except with this country's consent and that all persons filling positions created by the treaty must be appointed by the president with the senate's consent. Amendments to the league covenant also would be ratified by the senate.

Chairman Kenyon read principles of the war labor board promulgated during the war, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining to employees and asked if Judge Gary endorsed that.

"If you mean what the labor unions call collective bargaining, no," Judge Gary responded. "If you mean organization of plant committees to present grievances, yes."

"I'd like to know what the difference is between you and the labor unions," said Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"Unions are endeavoring to compel employers to contract with them," Judge Gary answered, "and when that is done, non-union men cannot be employed."

Questioned by Senator Walsh

"What good is it for men to belong to unions," said Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, "if when they join you refuse to discuss anything with their representatives?"

"Is it right," Judge Gary countered, "for 10 per cent of men who may belong to unions to dictate conditions for the other 90 per cent?"

"But your position is the same," Senator Walsh continued, "even if 90 per cent of the men were organized, you would not confer with their representatives."

"I haven't said so," Judge Gary replied.

DANCE TONIGHT AT ASSOCIATE HALL

At a meeting of the women of the South End district in St. Peter's school hall last night, further plans for the welcome home celebration were discussed, particularly in connection with the dance to be given tonight in Associate hall. This is one of the first dances of the fall season and should attract a capacity crowd. Minner-Doyles and Markham's orchestras will clash (not discordantly) in a battle of music and the dance tunes will be irresistible.

Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon presided over last night's meeting. Manager Schaeke of the Lowell Opera House spoke in relation to South End day to be observed at the theatre next Monday, when half of the receipts of the matinee and evening performances will be donated to the general fund for the celebration. Tickets are going fast for this date. Commissioner Jas. E. Donnelly also spoke to the women. Miss Mollie Roane, treasurer of the women's auxiliary, gave the final report of the tag day, which showed that a net sum of $551 was realized.

than ever existed before in this country. I doubt if you realize the danger of the minority securing control."

"I appreciate that," Senator Walsh rejoined, "but I also appreciate the danger of employers refusing to see their workmen."

Only Refused to Meet Outsiders

"I haven't," Judge Gary protested vigorously. "I have refused only to meet outsiders who are trying to organize the steel industry."

"If the union leaders should disclaim any intention to establish what you call the closed shop, would you discuss the situation with them now?" asked Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico.

"If they should make such a disclaimer, in good faith even it would not satisfy me," Judge Gary said, "because I know that leaders who promised that would be shortly displaced, and their positions taken over by men who would continue progress toward the closed shop. I can't discuss the situation from the viewpoint which members of this committee take. I can't talk about arbitration or compromise at this time."

Public Viciously Interested

"Representatives of labor have said the open shop is not an issue here," Senator Jones said. "The public is vitally interested. If your policy is to refuse to accept any compromise, we might as well quit now."

Asked for his views regarding possible legislation on the general question of corporation control, the witness suggested a federal commission to charter and regulate corporations with the commission's action subject to final review by the federal courts. "I recognize," he said, "that the

Judge Gary protested that he had not been allowed to complete his statement, but Senator Walsh broke in: "I want to know, yes or no, whether you will see any representatives of organized labor. Please answer that yes or no."

"With all due respect," said Judge Gary, with flushed face, "I cannot answer yes or no."

"If the minority could succeed in securing control," continued the witness, "that would bring about the closed shop. Therefore, at this particular time, the circumstances are different."

Connecticut Resident Hopes Others Will Profit by Her Experience With This Remedy

"If a word of advice from me will help other women who suffer as I did, I certainly want to give it," says Mrs. Elizabeth A. Carr, who lives at No. 1084 Broadbridge avenue, Stratford, Conn. "I had long been in a badly run-down condition and suffered almost constantly from indigestion. My food caused acute distress and gas spells. I was tired and lacked ambition and my blood was so thin that I couldn't get warm."

"One day I read a woman's statement of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for her and her symptoms were so much like mine that I decided to try the remedy. There was such a marked improvement in my condition after I had tried the first box that I continued the treatment. My strength soon returned and in a short time I was able to eat without fear of distress. I can do my work now and no longer tire easily. My blood is enriched and I don't have chills any more. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an excellent tonic, and I can strongly recommend them."

Senator Walsh asked if Mr. Gary would agree that capital and labor both had made mistakes, and when Mr. Gary answered affirmatively, Senator Walsh asked: "Then isn't that a reason for arbitration?"

"That depends on the circumstances," Mr. Gary replied, amid laughter of the audience.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of husband and father, John H. Smith, who died Oct. 2, 1918.
Dear father, thou hast left us. And your loss we deeply feel. But 'tis God who has bereft us. He can call our sorrows heal. Yet again we hope to meet thee. When the day of life is fled. And in heaven with joy to greet thee. Where no farewell tear is shed.
